'Normal' Births Going Down

By PATRICK O'NEILL

Fourth of a Series

If you looked at a graph showing the path of "normal" births and the path of "out-of-wedlock" births, you would see one line going down, another going up.

"This is a fact most people don't realize when they hear statistics on the increase in out-of-wedlock births," commented Gordon Wright, director of Greater Victoria Family and Children's Services.

"They assume the normal birthrate is rising, with the out-of-wedlock birthrate.

Since 1960

"But since 1960, the normal birthrate in this province has been going steadily downward, while the number of illegitimate babies increases."

In Greater Victoria, illegitimate births have doubled since 1951, far out of proportion to the increase in population.

From 1960 to 1964, the normal birthrate in this province dropped from 40,116 to 36,344. In the same period, out-of-wedlock births jumped from 2,673 to 3,344.

Before Marriage

Illegitimacy is by no means the only indication of promiscuity: Mr. Wright said "many ministers in Victoria tell me a large number of couples who come to them to get married are expecting a baby."

"This contributes to many marital problems," he commented.

"There used to be no difficulty at all in placing an illegitimate baby in an adoptive home. We were doing the adopting parents a favor," said Mr. Wright.

"Those days are long gone. The waiting list has vanished. We don't know what to do to meet the demand for homes."

Dominica

Rebel Resurgence Spurs Washington To Intervene for Citizens' Evacuation

JOHNSON SENDS MARINES

Bosch

(From Reuters - AP)

SANTO DOMINGO—A resurgence of strength among rebels seeking to restore ousted President Juan Bosch to power in the Dominican Republic gave them control of the centre of this capital city late Wednesday and brought U.S. marines ashore to evacuate American citizens.

In Washington, President Johnson made a quickly-arranged radio-television appearance to announce that 400 U.S. marines had gone ashore without incident.

The U.S. president made another urgent appeal for a cease-fire in the fighting which began Sunday. He said he ordered the marines to land after being informed "by military authorities in the Dominican Republic that American lives are in danger."

Earlier in the evening, a U.S. Embassy spokesman here reported the upswing in rebel strength. He discounted reports that the Bosch forces had seized control of the city from troops loyal to President Donald Reid Cabral and said that as far as he knew no fighting was going on at the moment.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

But hospitals were crowded with wounded and at least 30 persons had been reported killed, the spokesman said.

Elements of the army were among the rebels who were seeking to overthrow the military junta which succeeded Bosch when he was ousted in 1963. Cabral has been head of the junta.

1,100 EVACUATED

Some 2,300 Americans and their dependents were still in the Dominican Republic. A U.S. naval task force evacuated about 1,100 Americans Tuesday and took them to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Johnson summoned congressional leaders to the White House in Washington for an emergency briefing on the developments before going on the air.

In his broadcast, Johnson

Behind Battered Levees

Sandbags and Prayer

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—The crest of the most disastrous Mississippi River flood in history pounded Wednesday at weakened levees protecting four cities in Illinois and Iowa from further inundation.

Farther south, the surging river continued to rise to record heights, bursting dikes and spreading fresh havoc to farm, industrial and residential areas on both sides of the stream.

Behind the dikes Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa, residents prayed that sodden emergency sandbag barriers would hold back the wall of water.

SEVERAL DAYS

The Rock Island army engineer district said the swollen Mississippi crested early Wednesday at Rock Island at 22.4 feet, more than seven feet above flood stage. This was one tenth of a foot lower than the predicted crest of 22.5 feet forecast earlier.

Flood officials said the crest in the four-city area would hold for several days at the 22.4-foot level and warned against any relaxing of protective measures against the river.

REACHES CREST

Large areas of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Davenport and Bettendorf, Iowa already were flooded as the river reached its crest there.

North and south of the quad-city area, the river continued its annual rampage against communities along its path from Dubuque, Iowa, to Hannibal, Mo.

10,000 EVACUATED

Estimates of the number of persons evacuated in Illinois and Iowa thus far as a result of flooding ranged up to 10,000.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba announced Wednesday a "limited state of emergency" declared April 15 has been lifted because of improved conditions along the Red River Valley.

Steel Pact Extended

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union Wednesday formally approved a four-month contract extension with the basic steel industry.

Official announcement of the historic action came after a minority was allowed to read its objections into the record.

The extension was approved by an overwhelming voice vote of the union's 163-member wage policy committee.

Formula 'Mummifies Rights'

John D Demands Constitution Parley

MONTREAL (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker Wednesday reiterated his warnings against the Fulton-Favreau formula for constitutional amendments and issued a new call for a "Canadian national constitutional conference."

"If the Fulton-Favreau formula goes through," said Mr. Diefenbaker, "the rights of Canadians for amendments in future will be embalmed in mummified form and the constitution will be put in a deep freeze."

STRAITJACKET

At a press conference later, Mr. Diefenbaker said the Fulton-Favreau formula would "straitjacket" Confederation.

The plan would not make the constitution a Canadian document—"it would not repatriate it."

STILL BRITISH

Instead, the formula, if accepted, would merely allow Canada to amend the constitution without the need to refer such plans to the British Parliament for approval.

He suggested that instead of the present formula the BNA Act should first be made a statute of the Parliament of Canada and then the question of amendment procedures and other necessary changes could be worked out by the projected national conference.

Briton Faces Moscow Trial

LONDON (AP) — The foreign office announced Wednesday that a British citizen named Gordon Brooke has been arrested in Moscow. The Daily Mail said he has been charged with spying and a big show trial may be in preparation.

Two-Hour Ordeal

Boy Trapped In Saanich Gravel Pit

(See Picture, Page 25)

By AL ARNASON

A shivering 13-year-old Saanich boy was pulled to safety Wednesday night more than two hours after being trapped by sliding pea-gravel in a loading chute.

Tom Cole, 5039 Patricia Bay Highway, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital for examination of heavy bruises on his shins after his ordeal at the McIntyre and Harding gravel pit, 773 Cordova Bay Road.

Police were told Tom and a companion, 12-year-old Ronnie Graham, 5405 Fowler Road, had been playing in the 20-foot-deep chute at about 8 p.m.

HEAVY PEA GRAVEL

Treacherous and heavy pea gravel, which half-filled the chute, was dislodged by the boys' movements and dragged the Cole boy partly through the loading gate as it poured free.

The shifting gravel poured down the steep slope of the deep chute faster than sweating firemen and volunteers could hand-shovel it away from the trapped boy.

MACHINE NEEDED

The problem was solved when machine operator Earl Mycock, 5197 Old West Saanich Road, was called to the scene by police.

While rescuers hovered near the trapped boy, a backhoe operated by Mr. Mycock scooped several yards of gravel out of the chute to relieve the pressure on the boy's legs.

An hour later, about 10:30, he was freed.

Firemen were called by Mrs. Walter D. Graham, mother of the trapped boy's companion.

ROPE AROUND WAIST

The trained rescue workers tied a rope around the boy's waist and secured it above the chute to prevent his being dragged deeper into the shifting gravel.

"He's lucky he wasn't buried," said one rescue worker. "It was just like standing in a pile of ball bearings."

Airline Name Cost Fortune

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost of changing Trans-Canada Air Lines' name to Air Canada may wind up at almost $1,000,000, the Commons was told Wednesday by Jean-Charles Cantin, parliamentary secretary to Transport Minister Pickersgill.

Saigon Proposal

'Let's Invade North Now'

SAIGON (AP) — Brig.-Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, commander of South Viet Nam's air force, advocated Wednesday an immediate invasion of North Viet Nam by South Vietnamese land forces.

Meanwhile, U.S. Marines launched their biggest offensive of the war, fanning out over the jungles by foot and helicopter in search of Viet Cong forces.

Brig. Ky conditionally ruled out participation of U.S. troops in his invasion plan, but said:

"With some secret bases of our own up there the Viet Cong would quickly start wondering whether the war was worth it."

He questioned effectiveness of the air strikes against highways, railways and bridges in North Viet Nam, saying they were not choking off aid from Hanoi to the guerrillas.

Brig. Ky's proposal of a complementary land operation, most outspoken by a South Vietnamese leader in recent weeks, was believed to reflect the over-all official views of Premier Phan Huy Quat's government and the Saigon high command.

Size of the Marine force which struck out from Da Nang missile and air base was not known, but believed to involve several companies.

There were unconfirmed reports that more Leathernecks would soon join the 10,000 now stationed at Da Nang.

U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes continued their raids on the north, dropping both bombs and propaganda leaflets.

Troops from Australia

SYDNEY (Reuters)—Australia will send an 800-man army battalion of jungle-trained troops to South Viet Nam, the Sydney Sun's Canberra correspondent reports.

Australia already has a 100-man instructor force and six Caribou transport aircraft in Viet Nam.

CPR Earnings Fall Sharply

MONTREAL (CP) — CPR reported Wednesday net railway earnings for March were $4,080,980, a decrease of some $650,191 compared with the same month in 1964.

Diplomatically Speaking, Declarations Obsolete

When Does a War Become a War?

WASHINGTON (AP)—What is going on in Viet Nam is "armed aggression from the north" resisted by South Viet Nam and the United States.

This is the present legal status of the conflict from the standpoint of the Johnson administration, although U.S. officials do not deny that the fighting is real and can be called "war" from a non-legal standpoint.

"The fact that military hostilities have been taking place in Southeast Asia does not bring about the existence of a state of war, which is a legal characterization of a situation rather than a factual description," the state department says.

* * *

Formally, the power to declare war belongs to Congress under the U.S. constitution—and neither president nor Congress are showing signs of taking this step.

There are a variety of reasons given for not declaring war at this time, including:

- The conflict is tiny compared with the all-out hostilities envisioned in a formal declaration of war.
- A declaration of war implies full-scale national effort — mobilization, big military draft calls, massive weapons production, rationing, higher taxes. The Viet Nam operation is being run out of a tiny fraction of the U.S. government's regular peace-time budget.
- The avowed U.S. aim is to stop the Communist effort to take over South Viet Nam; it is not an attempt to overthrow the North Viet Nam regime.
- The Communist attack has been indirect and partially concealed, starting with guerrilla operations years ago; it was not sudden and open. The U.S. response has been gradual.
- The president does not want to bind his hands on diplomatic manoeuvring. The U.S. says it is looking for a peaceful settlement. It is contended the president would lose diplomatic elbow room if the U.S. declared war.
- Against whom would war be declared? The Communist Viet Cong rebels? The North Viet Nam regime, which Washington does not recognize; Russia and China, which so far have been involved in a relatively small way militarily? Or is the fighting primarily a civil war between two parts of one country — Viet Nam—and thus not legally a matter for a declaration of war by an outside power?

* * *

Some observers suggest that the day of formal declarations of war by the U.S. have passed because the Communists have turned to tactics of aggression through subversion. They foresee either a series of brushfire skirmishes in future years or a surprise atomic attack, which would be over before Congress could meet to declare war.

Liberals Face Confidence Test

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was confronted with two non-confidence motions Wednesday that condemn Finance Minister Gordon's budget, for failing to provide tax relief to low-income earners, higher old age pensions and abolition of the sales tax on machinery used in producing other goods.

The similar motions were moved by George Nowlan (PC—Digby - Annapolis - Kings) and Colin Cameron (NDP—Nanaimo - Cowichan - the Islands) as the six-day debate on the budget opened in the Commons.

The NDP motion is to be voted on today and the Conservative motion faces a vote Monday. A loss of either vote would constitute lack of confidence in the government and open the way for an election.

Mr. Nowlan criticized Mr. Gordon's "penny-pinching" proposal to cut the basic income tax rate by 10 per cent and said the finance minister would have served the economy better by eliminating the 11-per-cent sales tax on production machinery.

LBJ Sends Marines

said the marines would protect Americans and escort them back to the U.S.

"This same assistance will be available to the nationals of other countries some of whom have already asked our help . . . ," he said.

Some Canadian citizens are known to be in the republic.

The U.S. embassy spokesman said Cabral "is well and in hiding."

RENEWED ATTACKS

Earlier, Dominican Air Force planes renewed attacks on the city in efforts to crush the resistance of the Bosch supporters.

Meanwhile, a three-man military junta was formed to take over the government and was sworn in. All were minor officers loyal to Brig.-Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, who kicked Bosch out of the presidency in 1963 and nipped Sunday's attempt to restore him to power.

Mittens May Help Girl To Stop Eating Her Hair

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: I have three girls aged 3½ years, 1½ years, and four months. The 1½-year-old has begun to pull her hair out and swallow it.

She doesn't do it in temper, but mostly when I put her up for her nap or to bed at night. She always pulls it in the same spot. What can I do?—Mrs. J. M.

This habit falls in the same category with such nervous gestures as nail-biting, lip-chewing, nose-picking, etc.

Because of the age range, one guess might be that this is a subtle way of bidding for attention. Study the little girl's other attitudes. Is she jealous of the attention given either to her older sister or to her younger sister?

MUST BE STOPPED

Sometimes you catch a clue when a child is being scolded or critized.

In any event, the hair-swallowing should be stopped, since it can accumulate in the stomach as a ball, called a "trichobezoar" which may have to be removed surgically.

Your physician may have some suggestions, possibly a sedative to use at night until the habit is curbed. My own thoughts include the possibility of mittens at night (although, to be sure, youngsters usually don't like them), or a snug night cap, which perhaps might solve the whole problem.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the name of the medication that contains dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate?—B. H.

DSS is an excellent stool softener, but because it is used in various combinations, I suggest that you have your doctor choose the one best suited to your needs.

Doubtless most pharmacists can readily name off half a dozen or more varieties of DSS. As you know, I avoid using brand names.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain pleurodynia. I had attacks in 1961 and in 1964.—MRS. F. W.

This is acute, excruciating pain in the chest wall, and is commonly called epidemic pleurodynia because it occurs in epidemics, caused by the spread of one of the so-called Coxsackie viruses.

The ailment usually starts with a sudden fever and sore throat followed by severe pain in chest, stomach and chest wall.

RARELY FATAL

Since the trouble then ordinarily clears up in from a few days to a week (or sometimes lasts a couple of weeks), treatment is aimed essentially at relief of the pain. The disease is very rarely fatal.

When it occurs in epidemics, identifying the cases is clear enough. In isolated cases, however, it could be confused with a heart attack, appendicitis or some other painful condition. In such instances laboratory tests can make positive diagnosis.

University Worry:

If Summer Fees Go Up Can Rest Be Far Behind?

By CHARLES LAVERTU

A one-third summer session fee boost by the financial pace-setting University of British Columbia has prompted speculation of a similar rise in winter session fees in Victoria.

Reliable sources said the UBC announcement indicated that winter fees would be boosted to an average of $500 to keep them in line with summer fees.

SAME AS UBC

Simon Fraser University, which is due to open this fall in Burnaby, has said its fees will be the same as those at UBC.

Fees at the three universities—UBC, Simon Fraser University and the University of Victoria—are now listed at an average $375.

Last week, university president Dr. Malcolm Taylor said the whole question of the university's budget was under review by the board of governors.

'WORK TOGETHER'

"In this matter of budget and the question of the portion to be borne by fee revenue, the board is working closely with the boards of governors of UBC and of Simon Fraser," he said. "No decision has yet been reached."

Earlier, an official said the University of Victoria, though independent of UBC, pretty well had to follow the mainland institution's lead.

TAXPAYERS

"What would the taxpayers in Vancouver say if UBC raised its fees by $100 and Victoria maintained its current fee structure?" he said.

Former student president Larry Devlin was concerned about the UBC summer fee increase.

"This means the winter session fee here will have to be increased by $125 to keep pace," he said.

* * *

Limited Bargain

University of Victoria is offering bargain rates for summer courses, but it is not likely students from other universities will take advantage of them.

Simon Fraser and UBC announced last week they were increasing fees by one-third, to $110. Fee for a three-unit course here is $75.

University of Victoria registrar R. R. Jeffels said the summer fees were already in effect here and more than 200 students have enrolled, but noted that summer courses here don't count toward degrees at other universities.

In efforts to prevent a fee increase, a student delegation presented a brief to the university board of governors asking it to freeze tuition fees at their present level because of the present flux in university financing.

They asked for a temporary postponement of tuition fee increases until the report of the Bladen commission on financing of higher education became available.

ABILITY T OPAY

Student council president Paul Williamson said there was at present no clear national picture of students' ability to pay increased tuition fees.

He felt an increase in fees should not be imposed until the results are known of student means surveys now being conducted by the Canadian Union of Students.

A similar brief was presented to the provincial government.

The University of Alberta in Calgary and Edmonton has announced it will freeze its fees at their present level until findings of the Bladen commission are known.

Birth Rates

He said this change has hit the mainland hard, and it is rapidly developing into a serious problem in Greater Victoria.

"We have to find long-term permanent care for these babies. If we can't find adoptive homes, we must try to give them long-term care in foster homes."

Another factor in the lack of adoption homes is the advance of medical science.

Doctors have now greatly increased the chance of normal childbirth for the couple that once had to adopt to get children.

There is no relief in sight for the adoption problem.

"We are faced with a situation where we will have to try to work out a form of permanent wardship for foster parents.

Some Guarantee

"We must do something to give these kids some kind of guarantee they will have a permanent home."

He said this is preferable to the "subsidized adoption" now being asked of the government by some Greater Victoria foster parents.

"Subsidized adoption is a catch-phrase . . . it would be difficult if not impossible to administer."

He said such a program could only work on the federal government level, through some kind of income tax rebate.

But he pointed out when parents adopt a child, it is felt to be "their" child, divorced from the protective care aspect.

Mr. Wright felt it would be damaging for a child to grow up with the feeling his parents adopted him because of money.

"Personally, I would hate to have to administer such a program," said Mr. Wright.

"But the problem is so serious, we now have to consider steps like this."

Mac-Powell Dividend Winter-Hit

VANCOUVER (CP) — Directors of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Limited have approved payment of a quarterly dividend of 25 cents an ordinary share.

The dividend is payable June 15 to shareholders on record May 17, a company spokesman announced.

J. V. Clyne, chairman of the giant B.C. company, reported to shareholders Monday first quarter profits had declined despite an increase in total sales.

The quarterly profit dropped to $9,678,615 on sales of $101,910,861 compared with a profit of $10,981,874 and sales of $96,231,904 in the first quarter of 1964.

Mr. Clyne blamed severe winter weather and additional operating costs for the decrease.

Arsenal Stacked in Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cases of submachine guns, rifles, automatic pistols and ammunition were piled high in city police court Wednesday as exhibits in the trial of three men charged with bank robbery.

Police witnesses testified they found the cache of weapons hidden in bushland in Surrey shortly after the $9,564 robbery of a Vancouver branch of the Royal Bank of Canada Feb. 19.

Charged are Ivan Korosec, 23, Willie Loeffler, 21, and Michael Likakur, 32.

Loeffler also is charged with breaking and entering the home of a Vancouver gun collector about Feb. 14 and stealing a large variety of weapons, including submachine guns.

India Turns Guns on U.S.

NEW DELHI (AP) — India fought an artillery engagement with Pakistan Wednesday and fired a major publicity salvo at the United States for its military aid to the Pakistanis.

An official spokesman said Pakistani tanks that have been fighting Indian troops in the Rann of Kutch were made in the U.S., shipped to Pakistan to build defences against communism and now are being used illegally against India.

Photographs of tanks, identified as M-48 Pattons, were published and identified as part of a Pakistani column surprised in Indian territory Monday. India claims 10 of the tanks were destroyed.

It was clear India had kicked off a major attempt to force the U.S. to prevent Pakistan from making what the Indians call illegal use of American-made military equipment. Indian officials were not satisfied with a U.S. embassy explanation that a protest has been lodged with Pakistan.

No Salute for Queen

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI)—City fathers, meaning no disrespect, have decided not to fire a 21-gun salute for Queen Elizabeth II when she visits here next month. A city spokesman explained that "not even in the darkest medieval days did we tolerate salutes."

Open 'Channels' to China

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce went on record formally Wednesday in favor of opening "channels of communication with the people of mainland China."

Before voting on the resolution at their annual convention, chamber delegates were told that the main point behind the proposal was better communications "with the people" of Communist China.

Ernest Loebbecke, chairman of the chamber's policy committee, said the resolution was "not designed to give approval for trade with Red China."

Inadequate Service

THE ALDERMEN who because of Victoria's disturbing tax picture this year oppose a change for the better from the city's present emergency "ambulance" system are quite right in saying that it is doing the job. But they are quite wrong if they think the job is being done in a way that can properly be regarded with satisfaction, let alone pride.

Persons who are injured in accidents or who collapse in the streets or stores are now taken to hospital in a police patrol wagon. If an inhalator is needed this is brought to the scene of the accident or collapse by the fire department in a deputy chief's car and transferred to the wagon, which is anything but an ambulance in today's accepted sense of the word. It is not designed nor fitted out for comfort and care, and unavoidably it is not always clean.

City council has blown warm and cold on this matter for several years, the chill setting in at budget time. Now the mayor and aldermen have asked the city manager and the police and fire chiefs to confer and see if they can come up with a better system, one presumably providing either the fire or the police department and preferably the latter with a suitably equipped vehicle. But at no extra expense.

If the chiefs and the manager are to stay within this limitation the probability is that they will find an adequate solution most elusive. But even if the substitution of a real ambulance for the "paddy-wagon" service involves an outlay of thousands of dollars more, many citizens would find rejection of this improvement difficult to square with council's approval of expenditures in some other fields where human suffering is not involved.

Just Pious Humbug

THE PEOPLE of this province are well acquainted with the disclaimer which appears at the foot of every liquor advertisement that it is not inserted by the local Liquor Control Board.

Such protection is applied so that the public will never have the slightest doubt that drinking the hard way does not have the approval of the LCB (or of the government which appoints it).

The fact that the LCB, and thus the government makes tremendous profits every year out of its vending monopoly is a bird of another color. The government would like us to believe that this is the punishment we must suffer for non-abstention and that the government's profit should be regarded as a fine rather than a business gain.

As every Canadian province has its own rules about how liquor may be sold, advertised or otherwise handled by the manufacturers, there is a chaotic situation about which the distillers and brewers feel very badly, but about which they can do very little of a positive nature because they cannot afford to ruffle the feathers of their monopolistic customers.

If the various LCBs had been private enterprise units they would have been haled into court long ago as offenders against fair trading practices and the principles of free competition.

The liquor situation here is much more tight than it generally is in the United States, where retailing is in private hands, but even in that country, government red tape, when it comes to dealing with pleasant habits, is never far away.

The latest decree is from the U.S. Senate commerce committee, that all cigarette packages in future must bear a label warning the buyer that the contents may be hazardous to health. Like the LCB disclaimer in our B.C. liquor ads, one wonders just what good this step will do . . . except perhaps to give legislators a pious feeling that they have done their duty to mankind.

Junior Has a Point

IT IS IRONICAL, to say the least, that this year in which is celebrated the centenary of Lord Lister's famous experiments with antisepsis in operating theatres, two British medical research teams have come up with similar but independent findings that unwashed surgeons spread far fewer bacteria into the space around them than surgeons who have been carefully cleaned.

A recent issue of The Lancet—an authoritative British medical journal—reports that two teams, one from St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, and the other from the Royal Victoria Infirmary, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, have discovered that a shower bath actually increases the number of potentially disease-causing bacteria given off by the human body.

According to the article the experiments were carefully controlled and the air to which the subjects were exposed was blown over culture plates, so organisms were seeded upon the plates and a growth of new bacterial colonies stimulated. In this way it was possible to calculate the bacterial population of the air surrounding the subjects.

The results of the experiments appeared to show that those who had showered succeeded in contaminating the air to a far greater extent than those who had not.

The medical teams have not yet been able to come up with an explanation as to why this is so—but they are guessing that hot water and soap remove the outermost layers of dead cells and release bacteria which would otherwise remain trapped beneath the surface.

As one medical journalist pointed out: Junior might have a valid excuse for not washing his hands before eating, after all . . .

One Opinion

MR. J. B. Stewart: . . . One of the most encouraging aspects of the Speech from the Throne is that the prime minister himself is proposing to direct his own attention to this assault upon regional economic stagnation. In the Atlantic Provinces, as you might expect, we have a great deal of confidence in the prime minister, and that in itself is important.

Leaflet Raid

Cyprus Situation Mobile Again

Toward Settlement or Disaster?

By KENNETH MACKENZIE from Nicosia

A GANG OF Cypriot laborers have just cleared a vast space near Nicosia's Metaxas Square. The reason? "It's for a statue to Senor Galo Plaza, the United Nations mediator," local wits declare.

The joke is unfair; nevertheless, the great majority of Greek Cypriots are delighted with the report of the former Ecuador diplomat, who was asked to seek a solutions to the Cyprus dispute.

Without putting forward specific, cut-and-dried proposals, Senor Plaza's report has clearly come out in favor of President Makarios's basic position. It recommends that Cyprus should remain a sovereign, independent and unitary state; it rejects the Turkish Cypriots' thesis that the two rival communities cannot live together and that therefore some form of separatism—either partition or federation—is imperative; it criticises the Zurich and London agreements of 1959 which all Greek Cypriots want to scrap; and it urges that negotiations should begin, in Cyprus, between the Cypriots themselves—which again is what Archbishop Makarios wants.

The one snag for the archbishop, however, is that, in addition to ruling out partition, the report virtually rejects Enosis (union with Greece) which has for centuries been the sentimental, if at times not very realistic, aim of nearly all Greek Cypriots. Enosis, the mediator writes, is "potentially the most explosive aspect" of the problem; its implementation, "would entail many complex problems"; and it could not possibly be brought about without jeopardising the peace of the whole Eastern Mediterranean.

These words have hardly come as a shock to Makarios, who is prepared to settle for independence anyway, leaving the question of Enosis to the next generation. Because of internal political pressures, however, the archbishop has felt obliged, in his official comment on the report, to disagree with this one section. His critics say he is merely shedding crocodile tears.

The real objection to the Plaza report, on the Greek side, comes from a highly vociferous group whose guiding star is the fiery, 66-year-old former guerrilla leader, General Grivas.

* * *

Almost immediately, shooting from the hip, they rejected it—and in a flamboyant manifesto, denounced the Makarios government: the first serious challenge to the archbishop since the present Cyprus crisis began in December, 1963. (By an unhappy irony, the mediator's findings came out, almost to the day, ten years after the start of Eoka's uprising against the British. Grivas's slogan then was "Enosis and only Enosis." It remains the same today.)

How exactly Grivas will react, in the coming months, is one of the biggest headaches of the United Nations peace-keeping force. His followers are few but fanatical and vociferous. And he still exercises a strange sway over many of the Greek and Cypriot troops, lumped together in what is called the "National Guard."

The third main Greek-Cypriot political group, the Communists (who control the votes of one-third of the electorate), are quietly pleased with the report. The rejection of Enosis would mean that Cyprus could not be absorbed within the Western alliance. But, as always in Cyprus, the Communist-controlled Akel party is warily watching in the wings; and for tactical reasons its public endorsement of the report has been couched in studiously cautious language. They would like to have seen the mediator condemn the British bases, which are their main target; even so, they will certainly make the most of one paragraph which hints that the future of the two British enclaves might constructively be discussed.

* * *

In the Turkish quarter of Nicosia, the gloom and anger are as visible as the sense of elation at the Presidential Palace. Enraged by the mediator's detailed refutation of the case for federation, the Turks (like Grivas supporters) immediately denounced the report and accused Senor Plaza of "acting like an arbitrator, not a mediator." They adamantly refuse to have anything more to do with him, and despite UN denials, it is hard to see how he can play any further positive role.

So, on the face of it, the Cyprus deadlock looks as grim as ever. Yet, paradoxically, the mediator's report has to some extent cleared the decks; if it has not paved the way for a solution it has at least created a new set of circumstances in which it is just possible that constructive negotiations might be started. This is the hope of Western diplomats and UN officials in the island.

For one thing, although it stresses the need for negotiations between the Cypriots themselves, it does not rule out the possibility of talks between the governments of Greece and Turkey—which the Ankara government desires. Tentative beginnings have already been made through diplomatic channels and there are signs that the Greek government is more positive in its approach to such exchanges than it was a few months ago.

* * *

Makarios, for his part, has now indicated that he does not object to Athens-Ankara discussions, provided these are "based on Enosis" and do not affect the internal affairs of Cyprus. This is a subtle but significant shift from his previous attitude of rigid opposition to any dialogue between the "parent" powers; it is also interpreted in some quarters as the green light to the Greek government to explore the possibility of some accommodation with Ankara whereby non-Cypriot territory might be ceded to the Turks as compensation in an over-all settlement which would favor the Greeks. The Greek foreign ministry says officially it is not prepared to do this, but some observers wonder.

The archbishop is bent on exploiting to the utmost the mediator's favorable findings, in particular the proposal for immediate local talks between the two communities. To prepare the ground, he is planning another "peace offensive," which is expected to include new rehabilitation offers to the Turks and also suggestions for "disengagement."

Whether the Turkish-Cypriot leaders will ever agree to talks on Makarios' terms—which postulate the establishment of a unitary state in which Turks have only minority rights—is doubtful in the extreme. Unfortunately, as happens so often in Cyprus, a crop of untoward local incidents has already begun to bedevil the situation. The Greeks are enraged beyond belief by the discovery that Turkish guerrillas have been "mouseholing" their way into Greek property in Paphos Street, on the cease-fire line. Here the Turks have been patently in the wrong; but the Greeks' retaliatory measure, the imposition of a virtual blockade of the whole Turkish sector of the capital, has struck most observers as a case of using a sledgehammer to crack a nut, and as hardly the most propitious prelude to a "peace offensive." It could lead to a new crisis between Athens and Ankara.

Perhaps the most that can be said for Cyprus is that after a period of stalemate the situation is visibly moving again; but whether it is heading slowly towards a solution, possibly by a circuitous route, or drifting towards disaster, is hard to tell.

The most positive thing is that, despite the local crises from day to day, people are beginning to "talk about talking." The most disturbing thing is that the Greeks, elated by the mediator's report and by the arrival of heavy arms from Egypt and the Soviet Union, show signs of over-confidence. The illusion that they are an "impregnable fortress" could yet lead them to disaster.

Today In History

By The Canadian Press

Joan of Arc, then 17 years old, entered Orleans 536 years ago today—in 1429—and ordered the besieging English army to be gone. May 5 and 7 she led soldiers into battle and won the strong point commanding the city. She was captured in battle May 23 of the following year, in Compiegne, and was burned at the stake a year later, after a show trial in which she had been convicted of heresy and disobedience.

First World War: Fifty years ago today—in 1915—fighting continued in the second battle of Ypres, while the Russians reported further advances in the Caucasus and the Turks retreated in Azerbaijan.

Second World War: Twenty-five years ago today—in 1940—Prime Minister Mackenzie King conferred with President Roosevelt in Washington, while fighting continued in Norway; British Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax asked for the resumption of trade talks with Italy.

The United States and Viet Nam

Bookeeping of War and Peace

By SHAUN HERRON

THERE is a kind of "liberal" mind which is certain that all domestic opposition to its policies is sinister and all bloody revolution abroad is a legitimate part of the growing pains of the kingdom of heaven. "Our side," to this mind, may be well intentioned but it is stupid, misguided, misled and in the hands of illiberal or reactionary or ignorantly obscurantist forces.

When the Americans use sick-gas in Viet Nam there is a universal clamor from "liberal . . . humane . . . compassionate" sources. I find it difficult to believe that a limited period of nausea is a worse condition than a shallow field grave.

This recent outcry was, of course, a response to the notion of chemical warfare, and now there is much murmuring against "America's terrifying chemical and germ arsenal." British Labour members, always loud on the side of abstract goodness in an abstract world they never knew were set back on their heels in the midst of righteous condemnation of sick-gas, to hear that it is employed by British law officers in many places and quite frequently. They must surely also know that Britain had in the Second World War, and has now, a dazzling chemical and germ arsenal. Like the Americans, however, she may have control over the clinic but not over the movement of air, and both have the sense to know it.

All this horror has not manifested itself in the "liberal" camp— a camp which has no connection with the liberal camp —over the murder of an American civilian prisoner of the Viet Cong, and the threatened murder of a second American civilian in their hands. They accept that terror is a weapon in guerrilla warfare, so long as it is employed by the guerrillas in the name of "liberation."

* * *

Terror is, in fact, an accepted weapon in guerrilla warfare. But the "liberals" who see their friends always at fault and in most grievous error will have to face the fact that when guerrillas turn to terror they invite terror.

There is little doubt from what hard information may be filtered that the Viet Cong and Hanoi are setting the ground for at least one major blood and psychology battle before Hanoi re-reads the text of President Johnson's Johns Hopkins address. Uncle Ho defeated the French on the ground in a set battle at Dien Bien Phu. He defeated them because he had them outnumbered, because they were on bad ground, because they underestimated — as the Americans have been underestimating—his ability to move men and heavy weapons over "impossible" ground and because the French, at a disadvantage on the ground, had no cover in the air.

Uncle Ho of Hanoi needs to know, before he talks, whether he can do the same to Uncle Sam of Washington. It seems certain that he intends to find out at Da Nang. He has moved North Vietnamese regulars into position and by doing so, apart from any other evidence that might exist, is engaged in the invasion of South Viet Nam with forces of the North Viet Nam army.

One might suppose that the "liberal" mind would raise this as a ground for protest at the creation of an occasion that must become bloodily inhumane. Hanoi has decided on a showdown with the U.S. Marines. They are no better troops than the French at Dien Bien Phu. They are less numerous. But they are fresh, better equipped and they have savage air cover and a back door, which the French had not.

* * *

The point of all this is, however, that if the Americans have good intelligence — about weapons and related matters and not merely about troop movements — and have made preparations for this situation and not some other, and have cooled their Marines' initial underestimation of the enemy soldier, and if they can defeat their enemy convincingly rather than merely hold him and let him drift away to fight again, then they can do more than any other single factor to bring this struggle to an end and Hanoi to a table.

One would hope that these "liberals," like Cromwell at Drogheda, would recognize that blood will be spilled to end the spilling of blood and to bring peace and reconstruction to shattered society.

The Viet Cong and their northern reinforcements would not risk this battle in the midst of almost universal demands for negotiation, unless they intended to win it by any means. The Americans cannot win it to a conclusive purpose, unless they destroy a Viet Cong army, and the operative word is destroy. Hanoi has to be persuaded that Dien Bien Phu is history and not one event in a series.

* * *

The Americans, if and when this battle comes, cannot win it looking over their shoulders to hear the booming of "liberal" world opinion. Destroying an army you are too undermanned to follow means destroying it where it stands and fights, and that can be done only by methods that are ruthless, brutal and available. It would be a great boon to the cause of peace if "liberals" learned the bookkeeping of war and peace and knew on which side of the ledger the profits are recorded. They could then with profit to themselves and all of us, relate them to the costs.

Pesticide Dangers

WHAT is seemingly becoming an annual custom in this "Flower Basket by-the-Sea," bee-killing season, is upon us. From all sides, as far apart as Lake Hill and Colwood, come reports of honey-bee hive populations being decimated by carelessly applied sprays not intended for them, the latest victim being the observation hive in the Provincial Museum. This has had to be removed for restocking with bees. Is this sort of thing to be part of the price of maintaining Victoria's new official sobriquet?

Honey-bees make it possible for trees to bear more and better fruit, and the same goes for berries of all sorts. In a place where more and more acreage is steadily being removed from food production to accommodate more homes it makes little sense to reduce the food-producing potential of the remaining land. And it is not necessary.

A little thought in planning the campaign against weeds and insects will do much to mitigate this menace. Using heavy sprays that fall and do not blow in the wind; doing spray work during the hours when winds are at a minimum or absent; applying no sprays on blooming plants; removing the few unwanted dandelion flowers from lawns before treating the lawn (weedicides kill bees, also); all these precautions will do much to reduce unnecessary destruction.

The universally-available insecticide "bombs" should be used with great care when neighbors can unwittingly be affected. The finely atomized liquids emitted by the bombs can carry great distances on light breezes, and can be deadly at a quarter-mile from the scene of application. Have you noticed the odor when a weedicide is used in your neighborhood? If so, you are surely inhaling a medication not prescribed for you, the consequences of which are largely unknown as insufficient time has passed to permit the assessment of cumulative doses. The same applies to insecticides.

Anti-Americanism

A Canadian friend of mine sent me a clipping from your newspaper showing a letter about anti-Americanism, written by a person by the name of Lawson.

Obviously, he has not lived in this wonderful country, so does not understand the generous, cultivated, and kind hearted people here.

I was born in Ottawa, Canada, and enlisted in the Canadian Field Artillery during the first war. However, upon my return, I became very disappointed in the narrow minded attitude of some Canadians who had never even been to the U.S.A. for any length of time, so in 1923 I came to Los Angeles, and the longer I live here, the more respect I have for the people.

We are in Viet Nam to prevent the further spread of Communism, and we seem to be the only ones with sufficient backbone to do the job.

Incidentally, I would be very happy to have a sister of mine marry a man like General Maxwell Taylor.

I shall send a copy of this letter to the misinformed Mr. Lawson, and when next I visit Victoria, I shall be glad to put him in his proper place.

Buy Canadian

There have been many good letters in your paper, on the subject of the United States in Viet Nam, showing the reluctance on the part of most Canadians to be attached in any way to the present savage bombings taking place in this unhappy country, plus the internationally-banned use of gas.

I would like to make a suggestion that there is something that Canadians can do which will affect the present insensitiveness to the suffering of others, that our neighbor is showing, and that is to "Buy Canadian," whenever possible and so touch them in the one spot that remains sensitive, namely, the pocketbook.

Absent MPs

Your editorial, "Better Image," of April 21, giving us details of the quorum in Parliament to conduct the business of the nation is much appreciated and very timely in view of the disgracefully small attendances in the House of members on many important occasions, and this applies to all parties.

Fifty, as Mr. Knowles suggests, appears reasonable and necessary and represents a fifth of all members, which is not too much to ask of those who represent us.

Is it not time that taxpayers should require of members of Parliament to make a specified number of attendances in the House to qualify for the high salaries they receive. They are expensively paid (many could never command the pay and allowances they receive if in the business world of today) and we are entitled to receive value for money as most employers would expect. Absence from the job without adequate reason normally results in loss of pay. Why not apply the rule to politicians?

'ESP' Incidents

The Metaphysical Society concerns itself with the varied manifestations of psychic phenomena which Canadians may have had, and is particularly interested in extra-sensory perception incidents.

Would you be so kind as to print this letter in order that any of your readers who have experienced supernormal incidents, and would care to tell about them, might write to the society. All such letters would receive personal replies and would either be kept confidential or recorded in our publications, according to the writer's preference.

Present records show that the great majority of such stories come from "Oldtimers," and we are most anxious to capture their experiences for posterity. As a centennial project the society is preparing a book with one story to a page, divided in chapters of provinces, in an effort to record this vast untapped source of human experience in Canada.

Anyone who would like to contribute an incident should try to state the date and place of the occurrence, giving as much detail as possible. Information on ethnic origin is also helpful for cross reference purposes, but this is entirely up to the writer.

Ombudsman

Your illuminating editorial must be very gratifying to thinking people. A political ombudsman would involve and continue the old passing-the-buck menace, while an independent expert in the law would abolish the policy of attrition and give direct action to the person seeking justice.

If this idea had been in operation fifteen years ago, many people would have been relieved of much suffering. Let's get busy and save our overworked trustees from wasting so much letter-writing, which only finds its way to the waste basket!

A. CAROLYN BAYFIELD.

Helmets

In reference to the question of compulsory helmets for motorcyclists, I feel that certain facts should be openly discussed before this proposed law is enforced. The main point under question is individual rights. I personally am not against wearing a helmet, since I use one most of the time, but, and everyone I have talked to agrees, no one should be forced to wear a helmet. If the safety of others, other than the driver, were involved then helmets should be compulsory. Since the driver's safety is his or her responsibility the onus should only be on the individual.

Secondly, the right to impose helmets on passengers should be questioned. It is virtually impossible to carry a second helmet on a motorcycle. This will eliminate passengers riding with friends since only those who ride as passengers continually could afford a helmet.

Why Can't We All Be Reasonable?

By ART BUCHWALD

The border dispute between Pakistan and India has the U.S. state department people worried silly, and every effort is being made, behind the scenes, to keep the two countries from going to war.

I haven't been privy to any of these discussions, but I can just imagine what is going on.

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is extremely worried about the Pakistani-Indian dispute and we urge you to refrain from doing anything rash that could lead to war."

"Mr. Secretary, my country cannot stand by and see aggression committed by an enemy that has sworn to annihilate us."

* * *

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is well aware of the complex problems of the Pakistani-Indian dispute, but we are sure that both your countries should be able to negotiate your differences at the conference table."

"We refuse to negotiate until they get out of our territory."

But the other side says that you are in THEIR territory. Surely you must understand that, if both sides refuse to go to the conference table, the only alternative is an armed conflict."

"Then we are prepared to fight for our interests."

"But what kind of a world would we have if everybody felt that way? Where would the United Nations be?"

"We are behind the United Nations 100 per cent except where our own interests are concerned. I have incontrovertible evidence that the other side is planning to attack, and my country is issuing a white paper to that effect."

* * *

"Mr. Ambassador, it's obvious you don't realize the consequences of such a situation. If you send troops to the border, then the other side will send troops to the border. Then you will send tanks and the other side will send tanks, and pretty soon what is now a border dispute could turn into a full-size conflagration. Certainly you can see the dangers in such a situation."

"What choice do we have, Mr. Secretary?"

"You must find a peaceful solution. Nothing could be worth the risk of an all-our war."

"Mr. Secretary, my country is willing to discuss unconditional negotiations providing the other side ceases immediately its flagrant operations in the Rann of Cutch. But at this time we have nothing to negotiate."

"Mr. Ambassador, the other side insists it cannot sit at the table with you until you stop your actions in the Rann of Cutch. Don't you see the impasse we're in? Surely you are too close to the situation to understand what we're trying to do."

"Mr. Secretary, my country's whole future is at stake in this dispute. If we show any weakness, the other side will take advantage of it. Appeasement never got anyone anywhere."

"There's a difference between appeasement and common sense, Mr. Ambassador. If the United States took your attitude, we certainly would be in trouble now."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Secretary, but the only thing the United States could do to help us at this time is to give us some new jet fighter planes."

"What, and escalate the war?"

China Delays A-Test

LST, from Hong Kong

Communist China deliberately postponed the explosion of its second nuclear device for political propaganda reasons and will time the test for psychological effect in the Viet Nam crisis.

This is the judgment of military and diplomatic sources here.

United States intelligence on Chinese nuclear development has been proven well-informed and specialists are convinced that the second test explosion could have been carried out six weeks ago. It will probably be a fusion device (hydrogen bomb).

* * *

Conflicting influences, it is believed, are bedevilling Peking's decision.

There is a strong desire to impress both the Communist bloc and neutralist Asian countries, but Peking is also aware of strong disapproval in neutralist and Afro-Asian states over China's rejection of a nuclear test ban.

The following conclusions and deductions have been cautiously accepted:

- China's gaseous diffusion plant, which produces weapons - grade uranium 235, and two reactors which now produce weapons-grade plutonium, could probably develop four or five atomic bombs a year, instead of two as previously estimated — especially if the reactors can use uranium.

* * *

- Medium - range, surface-to-surface nuclear missiles could be operable from the China coast within three to five years.
- Similar missile installations could be set up in South China aimed at Asian cities designated by Peking as unwilling U.S. bases, to deter possible U.S. attacks against China.
- The Chinese can convert a limited number of Soviet TU-4 planes to transport and deliver nuclear weapons with explosive potential of up to 20 kilotons.

UN Forums Chance for Militant Africans

Russia Prods Hotheads

By LOUIS FLEMING, from United Nations

Two assaults on policies of the United States and Britain in Africa are being mounted by militant African nations with the encouragement of the Soviet Union.

The first attack will be launched tomorrow in the security council when the perenniel question of Southern Rhodesia will be debated at an explosive time in the history of that self-governing British colony. The meeting is timed just a week before national elections in the colony.

* * *

The second attack will be launched by the 24-nation colonialism committee during a travelling mission to Africa next month. The tour of the committee is expected to be a platform for Soviet efforts to consolidate influence with the Africans just before the crucial Afro-Asian conference in Algiers, at which Soviet influence will face a direct assault from Communist China.

Governments of 35 African states have joined in sponsoring the calling of the security council meeting on Southern Rhodesia. They see it as a defensive effort to block the possibility that the white-supremacy government of the colony might use a substantial victory in the May 7 election as justification for a unilateral declaration of independence.

* * *

There is a certain irony in the minds of many delegates that this alleged threat to international peace and security is being brought to the council at a time when the more conspicuous threats of Viet Nam and the Indo-Pakistani fighting has not been brought to the attention of the council.

Among western diplomats, there is also a fear that any free-swinging debate of the issue while the elections are being prepared will prejudice the position of the moderates and strengthen the chances of Prime Minister Ian Smith to gain the two-thirds majority of Parliament which he wants.

* * *

The debate poses a problem for the British.

Britain's Labor government has warned Rhodesians that extensive sanctions will be imposed should independence be declared before the black majority of Rhodesia is given a voice in the government. But the Laborites have felt no more able than the Tories to intervene directly in Rhodesian affairs to enforce a change in the constitution.

The trip of the UN colonialism committee for hearings in three African capitals next month is expected to produce some of the bitterest anti-Western oratory of recent years from the Soviet Union, one of the 24 members of the committee. It is a crucial time for the Soviets who are seeking support for their quiet bid to attend the Algiers conference as an Asian power over the strenuous objections of Peking.

* * *

The committee is expected to hold hearings in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, in Dar-es-Salaam, Tanzania, and in Lusaka, Zambia. This will provide an opportunity for African nationalist leaders of the Portuguese colonies of Angola and Mozambique as well as Southern Rhodesian and Southwest African anti-colonialists, to express their views to the world.

The Soviet Union already has given notice that it is working to lump the United States with Portugal as NATO partners with equal responsibility for colonial operations in Africa. The Soviets doubtless will also raise the question of American intervention in the Congo.

The tour of the three African capitals is expected to cost more than $100,000. It is the first safari of the full committee since 1962.

Los Angeles Times

The British Columbian reported May 22, 1865 that a fisherman named Portuguese Joe took 20 cwt. of sturgeon from the Fraser River in one evening, the largest weighing 400 pounds. Using one net and a helper he also brought in 19 salmon weighing 20 to 35 pounds each.

Wide Margin for Evil

Science Discovers, Technology Exploits

By REX C. MACK

Science and technology are words which hang together like two peas in a pod. The words are related, but there is a difference.

It is worthwhile to know and understand the subtle difference since the fruits of science are basically good. The products of technology are both good and bad. As a result, science should neither be given credit nor blame for particular accomplishments of technology.

Science is simply a process of the pursuit of basic knowledge.

* * *

In the pursuit of basic knowledge no holds are barred. Any means by which you can wrest a secret from nature is fair play. Once nature gives up a secret, science is enriched by the establishment of a new fact or law. And the scientist, except for seeing how his new discovery fits into the general scheme of things, is through.

Technology then takes over the discovery. Technology is the exploitation of science. It is applied science or engineering.

* * *

The definition of engineering which was adopted by the U.S. Engineers' Council for Professional Development in 1961 is as follows:

"Engineering is the profession in which a knowledge of the mathematical and natural sciences gained by study, experience and practice is applied with judgment to develop ways to utilize, economically, the materials and forces of nature."

The definition is simple and straightforward. However, it contains a phrase which admits the possibility of error—the kind of error which can have a serious social impact on society. The phrase is "applied with judgment."

* * *

So long as judgment is involved, the basic knowledge of science can be used for either good or bad. The basic knowledge of science can be exploited for political gain, economic gain, sheer power and other selfish motives. It all depends on the judgment of individuals.

Science is like a bag of money and technology is representative of those who handle the money. Some will make the bag of money grow, others will spend it wisely, many will squander it, and some will use the money for outright evil.

Judgment makes the difference.

Jordan River Prediction:

Mine Open Within Month

Cowichan Copper officials hope their Jordan River mine will be back in operation by the end of May.

The mine was flooded when a river bank collapsed in December, 1963.

"If all goes well, we hope to be operating again at the end of May," said a company official, O. G. MacDonald.

He said crews are now working at the 3,600-foot level, and there are strong indications there are only two more breaks to be cleaned up, at 3,600 and at 6,000 feet.

The cave-in took place in the river ore zone, about 500 feet above the underground mill. No one was injured.

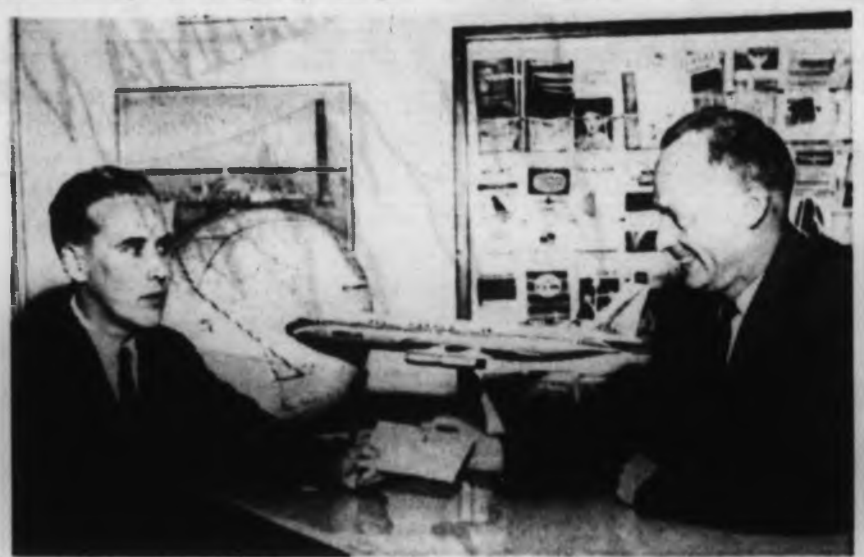
Water tore through the underground mill and continued down the main portal for more than a mile.

There were 120 workers employed by the mine at the time of the flooding.

The company ships copper concentrates to Japan.

Last month Mr. MacDonald indicated the company was looking for financing from some other company, which would probably mean participation by the other firm.

This week, two new men were named to the board of directors. They were M. M. Tanz and J. S. McIntosh, both Sheep Creek company officials.



Jaycees Back 3-U Fund

Taking part in small business firms canvass is Jaycee Paul Mantell, left, receiving cheque from travel agent Walter McConville. More than 45 Jaycees are taking part in tri-universities capital fund. Fund total for Vancouver Island is $2,000,000 of which $601,980 has been collected from Greater Victoria area—increase of $25,000 during past week.—(Ian McKain)

Royal Commission Inquiry

Cost of Gasoline Remains Mystery

VANCOUVER (CP) — How much does it cost to produce a gallon of gasoline? Nobody can say.

A royal commission inquiry into gasoline prices in British Columbia has spent more than a year trying to find out.

The question goes to the heart of the inquiry into why gasoline prices in rural areas of B.C. are markedly higher than those in the heavily populated lower mainland and on parts of southern Vancouver Island.

SCORES OF BRIEFS

Scores of briefs, hundreds of witnesses and hours of cross-examination have failed to turn up an answer.

So far, no end is in sight for the hearings that began in January, 1964.

The inquiry was ordered by Premier W. A. C. Bennett after Cyril Shelford, a maverick Social Credit backbencher, threatened to bolt the party and sit as an independent.

15 CENTS MORE

Mr. Shelford, a 44-year-old farmer from the northern constituency of Omineca, said he could buy goods at the Burns Lake department store for the same price he would pay at the store's Vancouver branch. He could see no reason why gasoline—which cost Vancouver drivers about 40 cents a gallon at that time — should cost drivers in northern Atlin in the neighborhood of 65 cents.

Mr. Shelford became interested in gasoline prices in 1961, while figuring his income tax. He found that gasoline was the biggest single expense in running the farm.

Space Show Friday

The age of space will be featured in photography exhibition opening Friday in the Art Gallery for three weeks.

Top U.S. cameramen contributed to the exhibition, which covers the highlights of U.S. space flight, space science and applications, and advanced research and technology.

The exhibition includes photographs taken from Life, National Geographic, New York Times and the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Selections were made by Allan Gould, American Society of Magazine Photographers; Maurice Louis, honorary member and fellow, Photographic Society of America, and A. C. Summerville, Associate, Photographic Society of America.

The 94 photographs in the show have been lent to the gallery by the NASA.

Dispute Talks Hit Deadlock

OTTAWA (CP) — A federal conciliation board has reported a firm deadlock in a dispute between five grain elevator companies at Vancouver and New Westminster, B.C., and the International Union of United Brewery, Flour, Cereal, Soft Drink and Distillery Workers (CIL).

A splendid new stage coach was built in Victoria in 1865 for use by travellers to the Cariboo gold towns. Built by Duck and Sandover it would accommodate 16 persons "on a pinch" the British Columbian reported.

MiGs Hit U.S. Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. RB-47 reconnaissance plane was attacked and damaged by two North Korean MiG-17 fighters over the Sea of Japan 50 miles from the Korean mainland Tuesday, the defence department announced Wednesday.

The brief announcement said the U.S. plane suffered damage but was able to land safely at Yokota air base in Japan and there were no injuries to the crew.

The incident occurred about 11:30 p.m. EDT Tuesday.

Minister Testifies

Dupuis 'Given Package That Felt Like Money'

S. JOHNS, Que. (CP) — Revenue Minister Eric Kierans of Quebec testified Wednesday that the former federal cabinet minister, Yvon Dupuis, told him last year he had received from Roch Deslauriers a package which "certainly felt like money."

The revenue minister was called as a Crown witness at Mr. Dupuis' preliminary hearing on influence-peddling charges.

The charges allege that Mr. Dupuis asked for and accepted $10,000 to get a racetrack charter from the Quebec government for a group headed by Mr. Deslauriers, a St. Johns chiropractor. The charter was never granted.

CONCERNED

Mr. Kierans said he asked Mr. Dupuis to come to his Montreal office Feb. 14, 1964, because "I was concerned about certain rumors that concerned the reputation of my department."

The revenue minister said he asked Mr. Dupuis: "Did you ever receive $10,000 from Mr. Deslauriers?"

"He said the following: 'Not for myself.'

NOT OPENED

"I said, what do you mean, not for yourself? He said he had received a package from Mr. Deslauriers which he did not open and which could have contained documents — he said it with a smile — and could have held money."

Mr. Kierans said he asked Mr. Dupuis to be serious and to state whether the package contained money or not.

"He said: 'Yes, it contained money. I guess it contained money. It certainly felt like money.' "

The revenue minister said Mr. Dupuis told him he gave the money to a member of the revenue department "in a corridor of the Chateau," which he took to mean the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec City. He quoted Mr. Dupuis as saying he did not know the man to whom the package was given.

"I said you don't hand over $10,000 in corridors of hotels to people you don't know."

He quoted Mr. Dupuis as replying he was told to be in the corridor at a certain time and a man would be there to receive the package.

COMING OF AGE

With Sally Hamilton

A visitor to a home for aging persons has a complaint:

"I wondered if in your own tactful way you would discuss grooming. Growing older, some people slip. Yesterday I was in an old people's home and was appalled at the smell of age as I entered.

"However, I know very old people I do love to embrace. One dear soul of 87 plus is a joy. When I kiss her, I smell nice clean soap and her special delicate cologne."

* * *

The same problem plagues another correspondent:

"My father came to live with us a few months ago after mother's death. He is a dear, and we love having him, but there is one thing that is bothering all of us. He seems to hate taking baths. Sometimes I am able to kid him into a big "Saturday night special" but not every time.

"The result is that not only does he have BO but his clothes and all his belongings give off an odor of stale perspiration. It's at the point now where the kids balk at kissing him good night: and this hurts his feelings."

* * *

Isn't it peculiar how some folks—not only old people—seem to have a mental block when it comes to personal cleanliness! Many a teen-ager is guilty. I even know a middle-aged business man whose presence can be detected by smell alone.

What to do? I put this question to the director of a home for older folk. She thinks some get to the stage where they think it doesn't matter. In the home she supervises they insist that it does matter. Baths, at least one bath a week, are a must. (She adds: "Of course, we encourage them to bathe every day.")

"How do you make a rule stick?" I asked.

* * *

"Well," she chuckled, "We make a show of force. If, after a couple of polite tries, we still meet with 'no, thank you', we have a couple of orderlies accompany the nurse to the door of the resident's room. Actually, the orderlies do nothing but stand there, but their very presence is convincing enough.

"We feel we owe this as a service to them, as well as to the others who live here with them."

There are times when stiff old legs rightly fear the hazards of a bathtub, but the owner won't admit it. This calls for extrasensory perception and a forthright approach—with steadying unabashed hands to do a nursing job. (No time for false modesty!)

Such ministrations will be gratefully accepted—believe me.

* * *

Others accept a person at his own evaluation of himself. If it's a man and he appears unshaven, or a woman who spends the morning in a wrapper and with untidy hair, the impression made is extremely poor. Add to this picture an unpleasant body odor and folks will run, not walk, in the opposite direction. Then he's left alone and more depressed than ever!

To any who may find themselves in the role of persuading an aging friend that cleanliness is one way to win friends, I'd say the positive approach is the thing. A build-up when he or she shows up fresh from the bathtub and nicely groomed: "You smell so nice!" Plus, perhaps, some small gifts such as talcum or dusting powder, after-shave lotion or cologne, a box of luxury soap, or bath oil.

* * *

Then, when it comes time to insist on a dunking, use some of these pleasant tools as bait. "You always look so nice when you clean up. Let's use the new smelly soap."

What one of us wouldn't rise to that bait?

This article is the last of a series entitled "Coming of Age," which has been appearing weekly in this newspaper. Sally Hamilton will still be glad to repy to correspondence and to supply any of her leaflets offered previously that may be asked for. Send 10 cents, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope, along with your request to Sally in care of this newspaper.

Prospectors Strike Gold

PERTH, Australia (Reuters)—Two part-time prospectors set off a minor gold rush Tuesday in virgin country about 70 miles south of Kalgoorlie — scene of Australia's biggest gold strike in 1893. The two men found 131 ounces of gold near the outback town of Widgiemooltha, worth $4,480.

Guided-Tour Ships

Ships of two navies will visit Esquimalt this week and both will hold public open-house tours.

They are the 3,600-ton USS Interpreter, a 440-foot American Navy radar picket ship and the Royal Navy's guided missile destroyer HMS Kent.

The Interpreter is scheduled to dock today some time before noon at the government jetty adjacent to Naden. The American warship will hold open house Saturday from 2 to 5:30 p.m. with guided tours for visitors. The ship will leave early Monday.

The 6,200-ton Kent is due to dock at 9 a.m. Friday at "A" Jetty, HMC Dockyard, and will be open to visitors from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

She will sail May 5 for a five-day visit at Vancouver.

Personnel from both ships will join about 4,000 members of the RCN's Pacific Command Sunday in special services commemorating the Battle of the Atlantic in the Second World War.

Manitoba Urges Medicare Talks

WINNIPEG (CP) — A resolution urging the federal government to call a dominion-provincial conference to consider a universally available medical care insurance program was passed by the Manitoba legislature Tuesday.

The resolution was the amended form of a resolution introduced by Arthur Wright (NDP—Seven Oaks) which called for a comprehensive compulsory medical care plan. The amendment was approved earlier, eliminating reference to compulsion.

Free Drama Tickets Available

Some free tickets are still available at the three main Victoria department stores for the Christopher Fry play, The Boy with a Cart, which will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in Christ Church Cathedral.

The supply of tickets ran out Wednesday.

Saturday's performers are a theatrical touring group based at Burbank, Calif., called The Bishop's Company. The company specializes in religious drama in church buildings.

Although the performance is free to the public, a collection will be taken to meet expenses.

Family Buried

Death Gun Borrowed

VANCOUVER (CP)—Funeral services were held Wednesday for Vancouver city policeman Leonard Hogue, his wife and six children as the investigation continued into the officer's knowledge of a $1,250,000 mutilated currency holdup of a railway warehouse here in February.

In another development, a Canadian Pacific Railway official confirmed the gun Hogue used on his wife and six children and then himself April 19 had been borrowed from a Canadian Pacific Railway police constable.

About 250 persons attended the funeral, among them Hogue's brother Lawrence Albert Hogue, on compassionate leave from the federal correctional work camp at Agassiz where he is serving a four-year term for theft.

LINK CONFIRMED

The link between Hogue and the CPR policeman was confirmed by Jack Trott, superintendent of investigations for the railway.

In an interview, Mr. Trott said the constable drank beer with the railway policeman—a friend of several months—at a Vancouver hotel on the evening of April 19, some time after the railway employee had given Hogue his Magnum revolver.

WENT TO POLICE

A few hours later Hogue went home, shot his wife and six children, then committed suicide. He had been under investigation in connection with the $1,250,000 mutilated currency robbery at Canadian Pacific merchandise services depot in Vancouver.

Superintendent Trott said the CPR policeman, under suspension by the company since April 19 for an internal dispute, reported to Vancouver police the day after the Hogue shooting. He told police he had loaned his pistol to Hogue.

Oil Strike Brings Boom To Asamera

TORONTO (CP)—Mines and oils shouldered industrials out of the limelight.

Asamera, on news of an oil discovery in Sumatra, rose $1.11 to $1.99 and traded at a high of $2.15 on volume of 547,260 shares.

Banff fell 40 cents to $8.40 in relatively light turnover.

In senior base metals, Denison rose 1¼ to 28½. Inco fell ⅝ to 95½ and Falconbridge ⅜ to 101.

Alberta Gas Trunk A advanced ½ to 39 among industrials. Interprovincial Pipe gained 1⅝ to 93.

Algoma Steel dropped a point to 77¼ and CPR and MacMillan Bloedel ⅜ each to 66⅛ and 36½.

Senior oils were active with Calgary and Edmonton and Canadian Superior each ahead ⅝ to 24 and 20⅛. Dome gained 1⅛ to 19⅞ and Central-Del Rio ¼ to 12¼.

Boost for Kamloops

VANCOUVER—Kamloops Copper was again the big one, trading over half a million shares. Closing sale at .70 was a gain of .11 cents on the day. Arlington Silver was also higher at .58 and Texmont rose to 1.83.

Futurity at .62 was an oil leader. Share closed at .79.

MacMillan was easier at 36¼ among industrials and Trans Canada firmed to 37¼.

Pipelines Improve

MONTREAL (CP) — Utilities were higher while other main sections eased.

Interprovincial Pipe Lines climbed 1⅜ points to 92⅝. Trans Mountain Pipe Line ¼ to 21⅝, B.C. Telephone one point to 71. CPR dropped ⅛ to 66⅛.

Moore Corp. dropped ¼ to 70⅛.

MacMillan Bloedel eased ⅛ to 36⅜ and Dominion Tar ⅛ to 22⅛. Abitibi added ⅛ to 13.

In base metals Consolidated Mining and Smelting adding ⅜ to 44⅜ and Hudson Bay Mining ¼ to 75. International Nickel dropped ½ to 95½. In the primaries, Algoma dropped 1¼ points to 77 and Aluminium ⅛ to 29⅜. Steel of Canada rose ¼ to 33.

Texas Gulf Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was a scrambled affair.

Pan American Sulphur was the most active stock, off 6 at 37.

The second most active issue was Texas Gulf Sulphur, down ⅛ at 61⅝ on 136,100 shares as it continued to react to the securities and exchange commission suit against it for alleged insider trading.

General Motors rose ⅜. Procter and Gamble 1⅜.

U.S. Steel's sharply higher earnings failed to help the stock which dipped ¼. Bethlehem also reported an increase in profits but lost ⅛.

Six-Year Certificates

Bank Selling Savings

By HARRY YOUNG
(Colonist Business Editor)

The method by which the British government has been successfully selling its savings certificates since the First World War has been adopted by the Bank of Nova Scotia, as a new service to its customers.

Scotiabank of May 3 will introduce a six-year savings certificate. These will be sold at a discount of 25 per cent, and in six years they will attain their face value.

The smallest denomination of the new certificates is for $10, and these will be purchaseable for $7.50. They will gradually build up in value until after six years they will be worth $10.

Scotiabank says this represents an interest rate of 4.85 per cent per annum and gives an effective yield at maturity of 5.55 per cent per annum on the original investment.

In addition to the $10 certificates, the Bank is issuing denominations of $25, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $50,000. They may be purchased by individuals or corporations.

They provide a high yield term instrument for deposits, says F. William Nicks, chairman and president of Scotiabank.

The British system is copied right down to the provision of facilities to buy the certificates on an installment basis. Savings stamps may be purchased at the bank for 50 cents each, and 15 of these stamps will be exchangeable into a $10 certificate, which will be registered in the owner's name.

BRINCO'S WORRY

One of the main problems being experienced by Brinco in its efforts to achieve agreement with Quebec Hydro for the sale and transmission of hydro electric power from Grand Falls on the Hamilton River in Labrador is corporation taxation.

Brinco, being a privately-owned company — with heavy British and European overtones — has to pay corporation tax on whatever profits it makes. Quebec Hydro a Crown Corporation, does not.

Robert H. Winters, chairman of Brinco, says that his April 24 talk with Premier Lesage of Quebec was "constructive" and that various cost factors were under study.

Mr. Winter added "to the extent that the federal corporation tax is an obstacle in the way of Quebec reaching agreement with us, it is a matter of regret that Monday's budget did not put Brinco on the same footing as publicly-owned power."

Mr. Winters said the matter was being pursued with Ottawa.

"The Hamilton Falls project is a great project of national significance, and one of the greatest ever conceived in Canada. It is important that it should be approached on the basis of the opportunities it presents and concentrate on removing whatever obstacles there may be in the path of its development," said Mr. Winters.

Prior to the statement by Mr. Winters, Premier Lesage has indicated that his meeting with Brinco had been "fruitless," and be expressed no optimism that an agreement was in sight.

LABOR SCARCITY

Coast Copper Co. Ltd. made a profit of $1,112,794 in 1964 from its Alice Arm property on Vancouver Island, but its future productivity depends on the availability of labor.

Bruce E. Hurdle, president, reported at the annual meeting in Trail that the general shortage of labor in the mining industry was accentuated by the isolated location of the Vancouver Island mine.

Reserves at September 1964 were 571,00 tons of two per cent copper ore, an increase of 100,000 tons over the previous year.

Coast Copper is controlled by Consolidated Mining and Smelting and its output is sold to Japan.

Rotary Engine Prototype Being Built in Washington

An improved prototype of a rotary engine invented by two former Victoria men is five weeks from completion in the laboratories of the University of Washington, at Seattle, say promoters.

R. Hugh Lyle, of Hallenbeck Research and Development, said the "revolutionary" engine attracted the interest of the university engineering department, which has taken it over as a research project. The university is being aided in the construction of the engine by inventors Robert and Samuel Hallenbeck.

The promotion firm is paying for parts while the university pays for the skilled labor of its staff, said Mr. Lyle.

He said the engine had attracted particular attention for use as an outboard boat motor because of its compactness and lightness.

Aircraft firms have also shown interest, he said.

Also in "channels" for marketing is a Victorian's light machine gun being merchandised by the same firm.

The 38-shot weapon, which can fire singly or in bursts is expected to undergo tests soon in Houston, Texas, for Israeli government weapons experts who are seeking small arms.

Inventor C. N. Douglas, 404 Gorge, will take the new gun to the test when it is scheduled, said Mr. Lyle.

Victorians Turning New Leaf

People are becoming more curious. They are reading less fiction and more about science, education and other subjects to improve their minds, Librarian John Lort said Wednesday.

* * *

Defending 1965 spending estimates of $388,775, of which the City of Victoria's share is $125,075, he admitted that more and more was being spent each year on books. One-third of the whole population of the city was making use of the public library, he said, and nearly 1,000,000 books were put into circulation every year.

Mr. Lort said he expected to see this total increase when a branch library was opened in Saanich.

* * *

Aldermen agreed to go ahead with the plan for a Saanich branch when City Manager Dennis Young told them that a location had been found in Town and Country Shopping Centre. It was suitable, he said, and action should be taken at once before it was lost.

* * *

The amount of $12,650 for extension of the main downtown public library building was slashed by aldermen and the board will be asked, in addition to pare another $5,000 from estimates.

* * *

Mr. Lort said that in addition to the $46,000 asked to buy books in 1965, there would be a provincial grant. Last year this was $16,000.

"Scalp tension, a sign of the times, is one cause of your hair loss," says trichologist, M. D. Harrison to balding man. Harrison directs the famous Harrison Hair and Scalp Specialists, whose main office is in Vancouver. He will be here to advise men how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

How to save and improve your hair demonstrated by expert here tomorrow

New home treatment methods for preventing baldness—and growing thicker hair—will be demonstrated in Victoria this Friday, April 30.

This news was released here today by M.D. Harrison, internationally famous director of Harrison Hair and Scalp Specialists.

In his announcement, Harrison said that he, himself, will conduct the Victoria clinic. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday at the Empress Hotel.

Leonard A. Floyd before and after scalp treatment. Unretouched photographs made four months apart.

Examine You Free

"I want to make it clear that you incur no charge or obligation by seeing me," director Harrison said.

"Your only obligation is to yourself—to free your mind of worries about hair loss, dandruff, itching, or other scalp disorders, by learning how to take care of your hair. If your trouble is beyond the scope of Harrison Home treatment, we will frankly tell you so. But less than five percent of the people we examine are 'hopeless'."

Offers No Cure-All

Harrison emphasized that his new home treatment is neither "mail-order" nor "cure-all."

"We always make a personal examination before suggesting any treatment," he pointed out. "There is no one cure-all that will correct every one of the 18 scalp disorders that cause most baldness."

Harrison said that sometimes your treatment must be changed after a few weeks, to get best results. "For this reason, you mail regular reports of your hair progress to the Harrison headquarters in Vancouver.

"Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Harrison trichologist at regular intervals."

Who Can Be Helped?

Will this new treatment cure baldness? "No," said Harrison sincerely. "We cannot help men who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair loss. But where your scalp still grows hair, we can at least save and improve what you have. Usually, we can grow more hair even where you have only 'fuzz' now."

The important thing is: Don't wait until it's too late!

Best evidence of the success of Harrison treatment is the phenomenal growth of the organization behind it. Harrison and his affiliates maintain treatment clinics in Canada, the U.S., and Mexico. And their staff trichologists regularly do extension work in more than 100 other cities.

Satisfy 95%

"Our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim to do," declared Harrison, "We satisfy more than 95 percent of our clients, and have records to prove it.

"But to overcome the average man's initial skepticism is sometimes difficult. He's usually quite desperate—and baldish—by the time he nerves himself to see a Harrison trichologist. He's tried everything. So he starts consoling himself with one of the old superstitions about hair: That baldness is hereditary; that men naturally lose hair as they get along in years; that nothing can be done to stop hair loss—and a lot of other notions that we know are not true today.

Free Scalp Examination

See Mr. Harrison in person, learn how baldness can be stopped, and new hair grown on your own scalp. The new Harrison method permits you to actually stop your baldness and regrow hair in the privacy of your own home.

For a free examination and discussion of your hair problems ask the desk clerk at the Empress Hotel tomorrow between 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. for Mr. Harrison's suite number.

You don't need an appointment. You won't be embarrassed or obligated in any way. Examinations are given in private.

Labor Council

Two Men Chosen For Board

Victoria Labor Council will submit names of two union men, including one who was delegate to the council for a record period, to the Unemployment Insurance Commission as nominees for the board of referees.

Ernest Orchin, business agent of Machinists' Union, and Charles Peck, formerly of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, will be nominees of the labor council.

Mr. Peck, 65, recently retired from the labor council after serving as a delegate for 37 years.

FORCIBLY RETIRED

The names will be submitted to replace Percy Rayment and Robert Noble, who were forcibly retired by the commission because of their age.

The president and secretary of the labor council selected the names, after deciding against a suggestion from some delegates that the names Mr. Rayment and Mr. Noble be resubmitted.

However, secretary A. W. Toone said Wednesday letters of protest against the way in which the retirement was handled will be sent to the commission and to the Canadian Labor Congress president.

STILL CAPABLE

At a recent meeting of the council, delegates said the two men, both over 80 years old, were still capable of giving keen, alert service on the board of referees.

Delegates learned the men had not been notified of their retirement before a letter to this effect was read out at the meeting.

UIC regional director L. T. Fraser has defended the retirement on the grounds of age.

READY TO ACT

He said, "We must be sure we have people available and capable and ready to act on behalf of the people they represent."

Mr. Fraser said there is no age limit, but added, "Eighty years old is a ripe old age to be working to."

He said the commission is in the best position to make judgments on these matters.

Girl Shot Him —Verdict Is Suicide

BLANDFORD, England (Reuters)—A dead man told in a letter read at an inquest Tuesday how he tricked a 16-year-old girl into killing him. A verdict of suicide was recorded.

The letter said: "Although her finger will pull the trigger and send the bullets into me, she thinks that she is actually only using blanks. . . . I tricked her into doing this."

At the inquest into the death of John Downey, 29, the girl, Lyndsey Riggs, said Downey had taken her to a lonely woodland cottage ostensibly to pose for photographs to illustrate a novel.

TOLD TO STRIP

He told her that in the novel a man was shot by a young girl in her underwear.

Telling the girl to strip to her underwear, he rigged up a camera, gave her a gun, told her to shut her eyes and fire it at his chest. He said there were only blanks in the gun.

When she opened her eyes Downey was dying with three bullet wounds in the chest.

Family Group Elects President

Dr. Hugh Borsman was elected president of the Family and Children's Service at the annual meeting Monday.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Gilbert Kennedy, first vice-president; Dr. Alfred Carlsen, second vice-president; Peter Lovric, honorary treasurer, and David Hummel, honorary secretary.

Dr. Borsman said the service would expand during the next few years with much thought given to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

He felt the service was the logical organization because "children and families already come under our jurisdiction."

The solution was to work with pre-delinquent teen-agers.

29 Become Citizens Of Canada

Twenty-nine people from 13 different nations received citizenship certificates Wednesday morning at a ceremony in Victoria law courts presided over by Judge Montague Tyrwhitt-Drake.

Of the 29, eight are of German origin, three Chinese, three Hungarian, two Austrian, two Dutch, two Finnish, two Polish, two Portuguese, and one each Czech, Danish, Greek, Italian and Yugoslav.

The new citizens are: Gretchen Adam, 910 Fairfield; Maria de Malo, 1708 Ash; Edith Ehrlich, 25 Hutchinson; Istvan and Terezia Godo, 3000 Hull; Luise Gourdeau, 4327 Ridgewood; Jantje Henry, 2737 Jacklin.

Lauri Honkalammaa, 3012 Quadra; Veikko Kajander, 1038 Hillside; Eleni Laliotou, 816 Princess; Klara Lenow, 638 Manchester; Chuck Sing Low, 860 Fisgard; Yuk Wan Low, 1137 Caledonia; Sa Yin Lum, 1818½ Government; Elisabeth MacPherson, 2190 Fair.

Charlotte McInnes, 402 Chester; Kari Matthes, 1026 Johnson; Slavko Maglic, 919 Hillside; Antonio Moniz, 725 Benvenuto, Brentwood; Jesper Ottosen, 607 Sedger; Franciszka Planeta, 1130 Palmer; Anton Ratzka, 1825 Dunnett; Erich Remes, 1540 Pear; Rose Rosso, 2380 Fifth; Guenter and Ida Schultz, 919 Falmouth; Piroska Szauer, 1607 Rebecca; Rudolf Zembrodt, 4256 Springridge; Afke Marshall, 919 Shearwater.

Rathie Hits Hydro Tax Deal

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mayor William Rathie said Wednesday a new tax basis between the city and the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority was "unrealistic."

The B.C. cabinet approved the new formula for municipal tax grants in Victoria Tuesday.

The formula will give municipalities one per cent of Hydro's gas and electricity revenue in addition to full tax rates on buildings and lands.

But no provision was made for equipment such as power poles, cables, generating plants, dams and pipelines.

Vancouver had been receiving $830,028 a year as taxes on Hydro property under the previous formula based on 1961 tax assessments.

Mayor Rathie said that if the grant was to be the same "we will be most unhappy."

He predicted the new formula will not give the city an extra dime.

The mayor said there is no reason why Hydro grants cannot equal the full tax rate paid by any ordinary business or industry.

Bank Short, Bookkeeper Slashed

BLUFFTON, Ind. — There's a $216,752 shortage in the funds of the Farmers & Merchants Bank.

Rose Johnson, the bank's highly-respected chief bookkeeper for the past 29 years, is in hospital recovering from 17 gashes above and below her elbows, which police say were inflicted in a suicide attempt.

Some time ago Mrs. Johnson had to go to hospital. Sympathetic fellow-employees worked on the savings account file that she looked after, so she would not be overburdened on her return.

They couldn't reach a balance, but Mrs. Johnson did on her return. However, suspicious bank officials called in examiners, and the shortage discovery followed.

BENDIGO, Australia — Carpenter Leonard Priest took a shortcut to work through newly-cleared bush, and tripped over a "stone." It proved to be a gold nugget weighing 127 ounces, valued at $6,000. He'll use it as a down payment on a house for his wife and three children.

* * *

—Fednews

Leonard and 'friend'

CHATTSWORTH, Calif. — Floyd Alexander, 32, recently ran an advertisement in a Los Angeles area newspaper seeking return of his stolen tommygun, "no questions asked." State and local authorities called on Alexander with a few questions of their own. He finally convinced the officers that his tommygun shoots plaster—not bullets. Alexander is a plastering contractor.

* * *

SOUTHEND, England—Swimmer Terence Smith, 19, who ran naked from the sea and demanded a towel to dry himself from two startled women sunbathers, was fined $56 for "insulting behavior."

* * *

SALISBURY, England—If you happen to have a spare goffering iron in your attic, Mrs. Aileen Pomeroy would like one for her son. For the uninitiated—a goffering iron is used to crinkle choirboys' neckruffs.

* * *

STOKE-ON-TRENT — England's greatest soccer player, Sir Stanley Matthews, is to be made honorary mayor of Brandon, Man., it was announced here.

* * *

Names In the News

VANCOUVER—Trial of public relations man Albert Hampton Williamson on forgery charges arising from the "Dear Hal" letter case is scheduled for assizes court here May 31. The charges of forgery and uttering of forgery were laid following investigation into a letter, purportedly signed by Premier Bennett, which asked for consideration for millionaire Harry Stonehill's immigration application. The letter was sent to Hal Dornan, a special assistant to Prime Minister Pearson.

* * *

MARKELO, Holland—"Sure you can borrow my car, but make certain there's gas in it," a farmer from this northeastern Holland village told a friend. The borrower did so—with a match. Then he made his journey by bus while firemen hosed down the burned-out vehicle.

* * *

LONDON—A helicopter carrying Prince Philip and the Queen Mother made an emergency landing in Oxfordshire to avoid a hailstorm.

* * *

MILAN, Italy — Ferriccio Burgo, 26, former child prodigy who at 10 had conducted famous orchestras in such places as New York's Carnegie Hall, was killed Monday in an automobile accident. He also conducted a symphony orchestra in Canada until he was 13.

* * *

TECOLUTLA, Mexico—Actress Brigitte Bardot has been ordered by doctors to rest in her hotel until at least next Monday. She fainted twice in the last two days while shooting a film. Her undisclosed illness forced another temporary shutdown of Viva Maria. Doctors indicated she was suffering from bronchitis.

* * *

FRIMLEY, England — Marathon walker Dr. Barbara Moore has called off her threat to commit suicide if the Frimley government tried to put drain pipes across her property. Last year she said she would throw herself under the first bulldozer that came on her ground. She lost that court case. Wednesday, a bulldozer and mechanical digger were at work.

* * *

NEW WESTMINSTER — Mayor Stuart Gifford has again refused a $2,100-a-year raise. He said Wednesday he had asked, during sessions of the budget committee this year, that the raise recommended by the city finance committee not be included in estimates, which show a $610,372 increase from last year.

CHICAGO—Comedian Joe E. Brown, who underwent surgery April 16 to correct a back condition caused by old injuries, is progressing well, says a spokesman. He is expected to leave Franklin Boulevard Hospital in a week.

Giant Mascot Mines shipped nickel and copper concentrates worth $238,343 in its 44th shipment from Vancouver to the Sumitomo Smelter in Japan last month. Total value of shipments is $12,517,000 involving 114,172 wet tons of concentrates.

If your beneficiary dies first, what will happen to your life insurance benefits?

When the unexpected happens, as it sometimes does, it's important to know what steps to take. That's why the competent advice of your Manufacturers Life representative is so valuable. Here are some of the practical points he'll cover.

1. Unless you originally named an alternative or contingent beneficiary, the money from your policy would be payable to your estate. This may tie up the money and subject it to creditors claims and unnecessary estate costs. In the end, it might not even go to the person you would have chosen unless your will is up to date.

2. If young children were also originally named as beneficiaries, and they are still under age, another problem arises. Unless you make special provision, the policy proceeds at your death would have to be paid into court and held until they reach their majority.

But don't wait until something like this happens. Call your Manufacturers Life representative to-day. He will review your beneficiary arrangements—and suggest changes if they are necessary. He is experienced in matters of this kind, and he offers you the kind of counsel you can rely on.

First Goal of the Season

Goalkeeper Les Norman of New Westminster and two teammates glumly note ball finding cordage early in Inter-City Lacrosse League opener at Memorial Arena last night. It came from the other side and was fired by Victoria Shamrocks' Bill Munroe. Lined up in front of Norman, from left to right, are Reg Foster of the Shamrocks and two dejected defenders, Wayne Shuttleworth and Ed McDonald.—(W. A. Boucher)

Rocks Seemed Rocky For League Opener

By JIM TANG

If Bob Prittie, MP for Burnaby-Richmond, had been among the 2,200 fans at Memorial Arena last night he would probably withdraw his private member's bill calling for official recognition of lacrosse as Canada's national sport.

Victoria Shamrocks, opening a new Inter-City Lacrosse League season with high hopes of another Mann Cup, proved beyond doubt they weren't ready for the start in dropping an 8-5 clinker to New Westminster O'Keefes.

Bolstered by the addition of four of the best—Terry Davis, Ted Liebich, Larry Clarkson and Bill Russell—from Nanaimo's defunct ICLL entry, the new Shamrocks were a disappointment at their unveiling.

WEEKS AWAY

Although lack of teamwork was to be expected, the club seemed at least two or three weeks away from being in good enough condition to play entertaining lacrosse. Without Barry Ashbee, who'll be along before mid-May, they lacked a floor leader and the result was a conglomeration of individual efforts which were far from sparkling.

O'Keefes, who could have their troubles clinching a playoff spot when the league shakes down, weren't much better. But they were more alert, gave the ball away fewer times and had considerable more hustle. Had they been shooting well, the result wouldn't have been in doubt as long as it was.

SLOW GAME

It all added up to a dullish, slow-paced game, even for an opener. The guess is that it is still going to be an interesting season but few seasons have started more uninterestingly.

Shamrocks got away well enough. Bill Munroe scored on an odd-man play at 5:03, Ron Jay beat Les Norman at 11:30 with a clever screened shot and Ed Kowalyk scored neatly with a rebound early in the second quarter for a 3-0 start.

THEY HELPED

It was almost 24 minutes before the Shamrocks scored again. By that time, the Mainlanders had a 6-3 lead, built up in large part with the help of the Shamrocks.

Doug Wallsmith started the comeback, moving in unnoticed for a pass as the Shamrocks were ineffectively trying to get possession to take advantage of a New Westminster penalty. Then Dave Tory got it to 2-3 before the half with a sharply-angled shot.

ROOF COLLAPSES

The roof fell in suddenly at the start of the third quarter as the visitors scored three goals in one minute.

Cliff Sepka started it with a fine shot while Shamrocks' John Hansen was serving a penalty and Ed McDonald, a recruit from last season's Nanaimo club, got goals only 19 seconds apart as the Victoria defence slipped badly.

As if that wasn't enough, the Shamrocks scored on themselves two minutes later. Tory got in the clear but Skip Chapman made a good save. The ball rolled loose in the crease and Leibich and Reg Foster barrelled in to help cover up. With the three Shamrocks in a pile, the ball got pushed over the line and it was a 3-6 game.

Shamrocks showed their first real spirit there, but only briefly. Jay shook his check, took a pass and scored neatly before the quarter was over and Ray Beech beat Norman with a good shot early in the fourth quarter.

But the threat of a rally evaporated when Bill Wilkes got to a loose ball after the Shamrocks had twice missed the chance for possession to score an odd-man goal at 8:19.

It was never in doubt from there and Wilkes completed the scoring late in the game with the Shamrocks again shorthanded.

Smythe Trophy Vote Given 'Farce' Label

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail calls the voting method for the new Conn Smythe Trophy a farce.

Sports editor Jim Vipond says in a sports editorial the trophy, donated by the former Toronto Maple Leafs owner for the most valuable player in Stanley Cup playoffs, is to be awarded after a vote of National Hockey League governors.

But, he says, three of the governors — Weston Adams of Boston Bruins, Bruce Norris of Detoit Red Wings and William Jennings of New York Rangers —have not attended a single game in the final round between Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens. Montreal leads the best-of-seven series 3-2.

The editorial adds that each of the absentees has appointed an executive member of his club to appear at the games in his place and vote for a trophy winner.

But this is not enough, Vipond says.

He favors another selection system worked out by Ron Andrews, league statistician.

Under Andrews's plan, the league would invite six former hockey stars to watch playoff games and they would vote on the most valuable player in each game. Their vote totals at the end of the series would then decide the winner.

They've Been Down Before

Hawks Used to Adversity

CHICAGO (CP)—Chicago Black Hawks do not have too far to look into the past to see when they last had their backs against the wall.

It was only a couple of weeks ago the Hawks went home trailing Detroit Red Wings 3-2 in games in their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series.

The Wings took the fifth game 4-2 in Detroit and the odds favored them to wrap it up in six games on Chicago ice.

The Hawks refused to die, responding with a 4-0 shutout.

The surprise was the seventh game when the Hawks dropped the league champions 4-2 for a berth in the finals.

Coach Bill Reay is hoping for a similar finish this series although the situation isn't quite the same.

Montreal Canadiens' 6-0 win over Hawks Tuesday night showed Canadiens are far from tired. It also showed Chicago will have to improve to survive tonight's contest. Canadiens lead the series 3-2.

Reay refused to make any alibi for the Hawks' drab showing in Montreal Tuesday.

"We were outplayed and outskated," he grumbled. "I don't think the team has played so poorly in months."

He doesn't plan a change in goal where he substituted Dennis DeJordy for Glenn Hall at the start of the final period Tuesday.

"I just wanted to give Glenn a breather," he said. "The way things were going (Canadiens led 3-0) I couldn't see much chance of our situation improving and there was no use in having Glenn stand out there and take it. None of the three that got by him were his fault."

Tonight's game may be seen over channels 2 and 6 at 5:30, according to the CBC.

Sand Blasts Cars

EDMONTON (CP)—A 50-mile-an-hour wind storm blasted sand at cars as they raced through a closed section during Wednesday's leg of the cross-Canada 4,000-mile rally.

However, early reports were that all 43 cars which began the leg at Regina made it to the closed section and continued towards the finishing point here.

Telephone reports from the site of the closed section at Wainwright army camp, 200 miles east of here, said the Ford Mustang of Paul McLennan and John Wilson of New Dundee, Ont., turned in the fastest run. An official said the Mustang flashed across the 11.8-mile free-speed section in nine minutes and 57 seconds.

Preliminary reports said Henry Taylor of London and Robin Edwardes of Fabreville, Que., in a Ford Cortina recorded the fastest time in their class—10 minutes and 44 seconds.

At the end of Tuesday's leg in Regina, third stage in the six-day rally from Montreal to Vancouver which began Saturday night, Ross and Bird were leading with only 46 penalty points.

McLennan and Wilson were then in third place with 108 penalty points.

Chemainus May Play In Victoria Baseball

A $1,200 gift from the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association has Victoria's Senior Amateur Baseball League searching for a fifth team to add to its regular four-club string, and it looks as if Chemainus may be it.

The final meeting to decide on Chemainus' entry will take place Sunday, May 9.

Les Brice, coach of Greaves Movers, blamed lack of local players for the necessity of including the up-Island team.

At present there are four teams in the league: Rawlings Plumbing and Heating, Transport Workers, Greaves Movers and the I.A.A.'s, sponsored by the Independent Athletic Association.

Coaches for the four teams are Les Brice for Greaves, Barry Harvey for Transport, Herb Weatherall for Rawlings, and Mike Ash for I.A.A.

The 27-game season starts May 22, with a doubleheader at Royal Athletic Park, followed by another doubleheader Sunday.

Single games are played on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursday. All games start at 6:30 p.m.

Expert Raps Import Ruling

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Canadian Football League may have to take a long, hard look at its American import rule following a report by a University of Toronto law professor on the issue.

Prof. Bora Laskin advised the CFL its restriction on American players "probably violates" the Ontario Human Rights Code and may be a violation of rights legislation in the province since football import quotas went into effect in 1946.

In Calgary, CFL president Pat Mahoney expressed confidence the CFL can rephrase its constitution limiting teams to 11 imports to comply with fair employment legislation.

MEET SOON?

Mahoney also said CFL commissioner Sydney Halter would meet with Ontario government officials in Toronto within a week.

But CFL officials apparently have their signals crossed.

Halter, in Winnipeg, said he had no plans to go to Toronto and he disagreed with Mahoney's interpretation of the report. He would not comment other than to say it is confidential and "will be discussed by the league."

Meanwhile, in other football news Bernie Faloney, the former Hamilton Tiger-Cats quarterback who is currently negotiating with Montreal Alouettes on a contract, disclosed at a sportsman's dinner in Ottawa Tuesday that CFL players are on the threshhold of organizing a players association.

Sixty-five players held a meeting in Hamilton Monday and Faloney said future meetings sessions are planned for Toronto within two weeks.

CHANGE RULE

Mahoney is confident the CFL "can rephrase the import ruling so that it would comply with the law." It could be based, he said, on where players receive their football training and also on their place of residence—rather than on a nationality basis.

Prof. Laskin's 14-page report was the result of a CFL request last month for his legal opinion on the league's new naturalization ruling which limits each of the nine CFL teams to three naturalized Canadians.

Mahoney said the report apparently found the ruling illegal and went on to question the entire quota system as a violation of the Human Rights Code in Ontario.

The code, enacted three years ago, is a compilation of various rights legislation in the province and includes the 1951 Fair Employment Practices Act which outlawed discrimination based on nationality.

The CFL president warned that if import restrictions are lifted, only the richer teams in the country—such as British Columbia Lions in the west and Toronto Argonauts and Montreal Alouettes in the east—would have the finances to compete in "an open classification."

The players association has been in the offing since 1960, but the first serious groundwork was completed Monday.

Purpose of the association, says Faloney, is to negotiate better relations with club owners. He said players would also demand representation at all league meetings.

Alan Eyre, vice-president of the Western Football Conference, in Vancouver expressed little amazement over the association.

"The only thing that concerns us is that the players have a reason for such an association. There is no sense in doing something just for the sake of doing it."

Astrodome's Astros Are Really in Orbit

Houston's Astros are really out in orbit — only a half game out of the National League after scoring their seventh consecutive win last night under the Astrodome.

This time the club that usually has its best success with pitching, did it with solid hitting in laying low New York Mets, 12-9, in some rather wild action.

Behind, 2-5 after three innings and 6-9 when they went to bat in the sixth, the Astros came up with a four-run burst, then added a pair of insurance runs in the eight.

Bases-loaded walks by Frank McGraw and Al Jackson gave Astros their first two runs in the winning rally, Bob Aspromonte supplied the tying and what proved to be the winning run with a single.

Meanwhile, Cincinnati Reds moved ahead in a race in which no club has yet shown any indication it might pull away.

The Reds moved up when they got the winning run in the 14th inning on a balk by Ernie Broglio, which sent Chicago Cubs down to a 3-2 defeat.

A base on balls, an infield hit by Vada Pinson and an intentional walk to Frank Robinson set the stage for Broglio's miscue.

Los Angeles Dodgers were dropped down a notch when Bob Veale of Pittsburgh Pirates outpitched Claude Osteen, 2-0.

Veale, in overpowering form, allowed but three hits and won it when Donn Clendenon doubled for both runs in the eighth inning.

Bob Gibson duplicated Veale's three-hitter as the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals moved into a ninth-place tie with the Mets by blanking Milwaukee Braves, 5-0.

Matty Alou, who beat the Philadelphia Phils on Tuesday with a home run which broke a 13-13 tie, batted in four runs as the San Francisco Giants did it again, this time by 9-3.

An injury to Roger Maris which will keep him out of action for possibly three weeks, featured news from the American League.

Maris pulled muscle in his right thigh making a spectacular catch in the seventh inning to help New York Yankees defeat Kansas City Athletics, 5-1.

The Yankees got another fine pitching chore, this time from Al Downing, as they balanced their record at 6-6. And it was Mickey Mantle who started them off with a bases-loaded double in the four-run third inning which won it.

Robin Roberts, with the help of three home runs, pitched Baltimore Orioles to a 6-3 win over Washington Senators.

It was Roberts' second win of the season and the 273rd of his major league career, putting him in a tie with Red Ruffing for 16th place on the all-time list of winning pitchers.

Nelson Maple Leafs West Senior Champs

NELSON (CP) — Nelson Maple Leafs combined a potent offence with some tight goaltending Wednesday night to down Warroad, Minn., Lakers 6-3 and win the Western Allan Cup final. Leafs took the best-of-five series 3-1.

The win gave Nelson a berth in the Allan Cup final against the Sherbrooke, Que., Beavers.

Playing-coach Bobby Kromm, Murray Owens, Bob Peacosh, Howie Hornby, Ken McTeer and Dave Rusnell scored for the Leafs. Roger Christian picked up two for the Lakers and Ron Farnsfield added a single.

The Lakers bolstered their sagging defence with the addition of Henry Ackerval, who returned from Port Arthur, Ont. But it wasn't enough to stop the flying Nelson forwards.

Minor Association Fires Back

Hockey Ice Rental Worth $5,037

Victoria Minor Hockey Association last night fired back at Victoria city council recreation committee, using figures for its ammunition.

One figure VMHA president Bob Reid brought out was $5,037 — the amount spent over the season just past on ice rentals at Memorial Arena.

Reid trotted out his receipts in answer to a statement by city manager Dennis Young that minor hockey gets its ice-time virtually free.

The recreation committee Tuesday turned down a request by the minor hockey people for an increase in hours. They have tried to work 639 boys into 18 hours and now want at least 23 to take care of this number of boys and more next season.

It is true that the minor hockey teams get their ice time at a figure less than other groups such as figure skaters pay.

For instance, ice rentals at 6 a.m. for the hockey boys is $5 per hour where somebody else may have to pay $8.50. The minor hockey group also pays $10 and $15 per hour later in the day and other groups would have to pay proportionately more.

"We made no mention of money in our letter to council requesting more ice time," said Reid. "We are quite willing to negotiate at any time," he added.

Reid pointed out that of the 639 boys registered this season, 290 came from Saanich. Another 125 were from Oak Bay and 224 from Victoria. Reid said that the Oak Bay recreation commission contributed $2 per boy this past season but no similar action was taken by Saanich municipality.

Esquimalt has its own arena and growing minor hockey setup.

"I doubt if we can accommodate any more boys next season. In fact, we'll likely have to cut down," said Reid.

The minor hockey association will have its annual meeting May 31 and hopes to have another method of approaching the city on what they consider is a vital problem.

Hockey School Shelved

OTTAWA (CP) — Larry Regan, former National Hockey League player, said Wednesday he is shelving temporarily his proposal to establish a hockey school staffed by NHL players at Innsbruck, Austria, this summer.

Regan said in a statement he has had to put off his plans due to a "misunderstanding that this was an attempt to bring professionalism to Europe and to encourage European hockey players to leave the amateur ranks."

The International Ice Hockey Federation imposed a ban on professionals playing in Europe "in any way, shape or form" at its March meeting in Tampere, Finland.

Final Appearance For Matthews

STOKE - ON - TRENT, England (AP)—A team of soccer stars from many parts of the world defeated Sir Stanley Matthews' XI 6-4 Wednesday night in a farewell match to the old master-and then carried him off the field to the strains of Auld Lang Syne.

Russian goalkeeper Lev Yashin and Spain's Ferenc Puskas and Ladislaw Kubala chaired Matthews off the ground, followed by all the other players who shared in the farewell match.

The 45,000 fans sang the sentimental Scottish song as the 50-year-old Matthews made his exit from big time soccer.

It was an appropriate ending to 33 years on the soccer scene. Matthews played 84 times for England and was knighted by Queen Elizabeth this year—the first playing soccer professional to get that honor.

Ninety Canadian soccer fans were here to see the game and make Matthews an honorary deputy mayor of Brandon, Man.

Wally Newton, an old friend of Matthews who emigrated to Canada in 1956, led the big contingent of Canadian fans.

His 53 Years of Bowling Recognized

Everything Stopped for Henry

By JIM TANG

It was the usual noisy Tuesday night scene at Mayfair Lanes, perhaps a bit noisier than usual because it was the end of the season for the Victoria Senior Tenpin League, the oldest pin league in the city and, perhaps, the oldest in Canada.

Bowlers were rudely reminded in the rough repartee to get their "two-bits" down for the "pot" and, finally, there was bowling action. About half an hour later, a slightly-stooped, grey-haired veteran scooped up the "take" on lanes 35 and 36 and action stilled for spontaneous applause.

Henry Hawkins had just bowled his last league game, and he had ended a tenpin career of 53 years in fitting fashion with a fine 196 which was handily the best on his pair of lanes.

A few moments before, Hawkins had been caught completely by surprise when the occasion had been commemorated by the presentation of a gold watch from league bowlers. They left no doubt about the esteem in which the veteran is held.

"He's been an inspiration to bowling," a long-time senior league member said. "In all the years I have known him I've never know him to set a wrong foot at any time."

That covers a good many years. Hawkins, who was born in London, England, came to Victoria in 1909 and a couple of months later began a job in the circulation department of The Daily Colonist which was to span 50 years.

He bowled his first tenpin game in 1912 in the Arcade Alleys, in the basement of what is now the Yarrow Building. He joined the senior league in 1919 and bowled steadily in the league until 1941, when he went into a 10-year retirement.

"I just couldn't seem to find the time," he explained.

He rejoined the league in 1951 and has bowled steadily since. He decided to retire for keeps at the end of this season and was sort of lured down to Mayfair on Tuesday to have the moment marked.

Through the years he has always been a bowler who could throw in the "big" game or series just when it was needed. He maintained a 195 average in one season but modestly disclaims that he won many honors.

"I can't remember winning anything in a tournament," he claimed. "I used to get the jitters."

Under pressure, he finally admitted that he had "a few" trophies around the house but said that his most pleasant memory was back-to-back series of 863 and 864.

"That," he said, "was probably my finest hour."

He couldn't recall when it happened other than that "it was at least 25 years ago."

Hawkins, who retired in 1960 from his job and celebrates his 71st birthday on Wednesday, said that this time he was serious about his bowling retirement.

"I've got to pack it up. I just can't take it any more," he claimed, although his appearance sort of belies the statement.

"I've enjoyed every minute of my bowling. It's a grand game and I've made many good friends."

He admitted, however, that it was possible that he would observe the written "order" handed him by Iver Hansen, manager of Mayfair Lanes, during the presentation.

In it, Hawkins was told that he could never again pay for any bowling that he did at Mayfair Lanes.

"I'll be around even though I won't be bowling regularly," he said. "But before I go I would like to set one thing straight. I didn't start my bowling by setting pins for Andy Nelson."

The most significant reform to be felt by the British golf-going public this summer is that at least they will be able to walk late on to a championship course, ask "who's winning?" and get a civil answer.

For years, of course, this has been about as crazy as demanding to know who is in front at a Test match at the close of the second day. For some extraordinary reason, British golf has almost enjoyed maintaining its aura of upper-class mysticism which for years has prevented the poor innocent newcomer from knowing what is going on.

This has certainly never been the case in the United States, where the whole game has been reduced to a kind of ABC simplicity so that it can be instantly understood by the newest immigrants from the mountains of Greece. And it's from the States, inevitably, that this latest liberation for the British fan has come.

Personally, I'm delighted, because ,for over a decade I've been campaigning for a scoreboard which would simply tell spectators "who's winning?" That seems to me a pretty reasonable piece of information to give someone who has just paid anything from $1 to $6 to come on to your course.

Clinging to Fours

Yet with all our experience in these things, we in Britain have stubbornly and stupidly clung on to the "fours" scoring system which is totally misleading.

Let me give you an example. X has two holes to play and is 1 under fours. Five holes behind him, Y, according to the standard British score-board, is also 1 under fours. At a first and very reasonable glance, they appear to be neck-and-neck in a great tournament finish.

Yet what nonsense this would be if, say, both the 12th and 16th holes were par threes, and the 13th, 14th and 15th holes all par fours.

This would mean, in fact, that golfer Y would have every chance of being 3 under fours by the time he reaches the position that golfer X now occupies.

This may sound like advanced algebra but, then, so is the public scoring system at British tournaments as long as I have known them.

Now, thank heavens, the Professional Golfers' Association, and the Royal and Ancient have got together and agreed to back the American system for public scoring against par only. In other words, at any instant you can see how any competitor stands against any other competitor and the course at any hole.

So Pitifully Informed

I have seen thousands clustered around the fully-comprehensive score-boards in the U.S. and the thrill from them in the closing stages of a tournament can be intense. So many great finishes in Britain have never really been appreciated by the public because they have been so pitifully informed.

I certainly applaud this innovation from America. Its only cost, after all, will be an individual scoreboard for every major course, as it clearly will be no longer possible to make do with a mobile one which has been used for some niggardly saving on expenses in Britain for the past few years.

British golf at least I am glad to say, is beginning to make positive efforts to attract the spectator instead of to relatively repel him. One other 1965 innovation with which I am in agreement is a tighter code of discipline for professionals in tournaments.

One of the things which should never be tolerated is the late arrival of a player on the tee. Even Spain, with its manana outlook, can get a bullfight off on time.

I am all for stiff financial penalties and would have suggested anything up to $3 a minute as a suitable penalty for tardy time-keeping. Instead, the PGA has decided to initiate a system of penalty strokes: two strokes for up to 30 minutes late. Four strokes for up to an hour.

That certainly is harsh, but there is little doubt that we will be getting to the tee on time this summer.

Senior Softball Sunday

Victoria Senior Men's Open Softball gets back into action Sunday after two-year layoff with a doubleheader opener at Heywood Avenue Park.

Play starts at 2 p.m. with Victoria Carlings taking on Victoria Luckies. The second game gets underway at 6:30 as Century Inn play Sooke Forest Products.

Starting pitchers: for the Carlings, Joe Lesperance; Luckies, Barry Jackson; for Century Inn, Billy Skate; Sooke, Larry Jay.

Twelve church bells arrived at New Westminster from England June 6, 1865 destined for steeples of Indian churches in the Fraser River area. The British Columbian said, "This looks like advancing civilization among the Indian tribes."

Dapper Delegate Out Ten Derby Starters

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dapper Delegate, winner of the Louisiana Derby, was withdrawn from the 91st Kentucky Derby Wednesday, leaving 10 definite starters and perhaps as many as 12 to battle over 1¼ miles at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The son of Porterhouse, owned by Mrs. Joe W. Brown, came down with a head cold Tuesday and by Wednesday he had a mild throat infection with swollen glands.

Meantime, trainers of the leading contenders predicted a swiftly run and hotly contested race when the starting gates open at 2:45 p.m. PDT.

It will be televised by CBS in the United States and by the CBC in Canada from 2 to 3 p.m.

With 12 starters the Derby will have a gross value of $156,000 with $113,500 going to the winner.

Bold Lad from Mrs. H. C. Phipps Wheatley Stable was the No. 1 topic of conversation on the backstretch Wednesday morning.

The 1964 two-year-old champion is expected to go postward the favorite at 9 to 5 or even shorter after displaying his old time form with a four-length victory in the Derby Trial Tuesday. He ripped off the one-mile in 1:35 1-5 under 122 pounds, four less than all starters will carry in the Derby, after stepping the first six furlings in 1:10.

'Proof' of Immorality Given by Republican

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Alabama congressman said Tuesday he had 30 sworn statements citing cases of sexual immorality and drunkenness on last month's civil rights march in Alabama.

Republican William L. Dickinson, who said in the House of Representatives March 30 that the Selma-to-Montgomery march was featured by widespread immorality, offered what he called "proof" of his charges.

He had said after his earlier speech he would present photographs of immoral acts, but he said he has been unable so far to get any pictures.

The affidavit described priests and nuns in a drunken state, reported that whites and Negroes, including a white priest, engaged in sexual intercourse and said a racially mixed couple made love in a church.

In Cleveland, managing editor Bob Craig of the Spartanburg S.C. Journal and Reporter said he had gone to Alabama to try to find evidence of misconduct by demonstrators—and failed.

5,000,000 Clog Tokyo's Streets

TOKYO (UPI)—Millions of Japanese huffed, puffed and pedaled their way to work Wednesday in a madcap scramble to overcome a major rail and bus strike in the world's largest city. Even Junior's bicycle got into the act.

Rush-hour traffic is normally congested in Tokyo. But the strike has made even the normal pushing and shoving rush-hour crowds look mild. An estimated 5,000,000 riders were affected in Tokyo.

Box-like street cars clanged along with over - capacity crowds. Commuters jammed into the streets in family cars and on motorbikes.

Some companies mobilized trucks to convey their employees to work during the 24-hour strike. One office employee, irritated by it all, slugged it out with a railway worker at a station in Tokyo's suburbs.

Streams of people walked on idle railroad tracks while others competed for scarce cabs.

Employees of about 200 private railway and bus companies staged the nationwide strike to press for a wage increase.

WAGE INCREASE

The 220,000-member Private Railway and Bus Workers' Union wants an average monthly wage increase of $19.40. Management said it could offer only $6.94.

The walkout would have been still larger if the national Railway Workers Union had joined in. But this union said it had planned to launch its own walkout for a few hours Friday morning.

Labor MPs Demand Suez Probe

LONDON — Three left-wing Labor members brought a bill into the Commons Tuesday demanding a special commission to inquire into the Suez operation of 1956.

In introducing the measure, Michael Foot mentioned the recent book Crisis, written by Terence Robertson, British-born Canadian author.

Mr. Foot said Mr. Robertson's account of the Suez affair — unlike earlier volumes, including the one by Mr. Foot himself — was based on information from world leaders with inside knowledge, including Prime Minister Pearson.

Mr. Foot said information from Christian Pineau, French foreign minister in 1956, indicated there was "collusion" among the French, British and Israelis in the attack on Egypt.

Sailors in Grass Skirts Say Aloha

Fraser Brings Back Hula Dancers!

By DON GAIN

The Esquimalt-based destroyer-escort HMCS Fraser Wednesday morning brought home a skinful of battle scars, a troop of hula dancers and a brand-new University of Victoria professor.

The scars, all minor, were the result of a 500-ton TNT test explosion Good Friday on Kahoolawe Island.

The hula dancers were brawny nutbrown crew members in grass skirts giving the old home port a big Aloha.

And the professor was Dr. John Dewey, who takes up duties in the physics department at University of Victoria this summer.

Now a veteran of two test blasts in Hawaii, the destroyer-escort will soon head for a Montreal shipyard for installation of variable-depth sonar, helicopter hangar and flight deck.

Good Friday's explosion was Part 2 of Project Sailor Hat, a U.S. Navy experiment to find how blastworthy today's warships are.

Fraser received 100 incidents of damage, Cmdr. Richard Carle, her skipper, said Wednesday. They consisted mostly of cracked weldings and window frames, bent antennae and popped rivets.

The TNT was piled on an earth embankment five feet high, and this cut down on the rock shower of the previous explosion. "We were pelted with earth and clay and this didn't do any damage," he said.

Rock from previous explosion in February tore a hole half the size of a grapefruit in the ship's hull.

BLAST MEASURED

Dr. Dewey, head of the aerophysics section of the Suffield Experimental Station, Ralston, Alta., said scientific predictions of blast effect were perfect. Harold Walker of Pacific Naval Laboratory, Esquimalt, took hydrophone measurements at the explosion.

The Fraser's crew of 200 officers and men was on board during the blast. The destroyer-escort was stationed 3,300 feet away in February. This time she was "much closer", a navy spokesman said.

"We hardly felt the blast in February," said AB Gordon Carr. "But we sure felt this one."

TENSED UP

"Everybody was tensed up before the explosion," said AB Lester Robstad. "Most of us were in our bunks holding on to the bulkhead so we wouldn't be thrown out.

After the blast the U.S. team sent the captain and crew a basket of Hawaiian flowers—bird-of-paradise, flame flower and antherium.

There was another Hawaiian touch as the Fraser entered Esquimalt harbor—a lei drapped over the prow of the ship. It was made from 5,000 pieces of tissue paper on the way back from Hawaii.

Italians Win Dam Contract

VANCOUVER (CP) — An Italian firm has been awarded a $4,887,525 contract to build a watertight concrete wall along a cofferdam at the Arrow damsite, one of three Columbia River damsites in British Columbia, it was announced Wednesday. Icanda Ltd. was one of only two bidders on the project. Soletanche and Rodio Ltd., a French company, submitted a bid of $4,985,033.

Crater Matches Moon's

OTTAWA (CP) — A striking similarity between some craters on the moon and a crater created by the deliberate explosion of 500 tons of TNT at Suffield, Alta., last summer is intriguing Canadian and American scientists.

The distinguishing feature of the moon craters and the one at the defence research experimental station at Suffield is the little peak mushrooming up from the floor of the hole.

American scientists in charge of the U.S. man-on-the-moon project have taken a keen interest in the similarity.

One of the first, if not the the first, to spot the likeness through examination of the latest photographs of the moon's surface and of the Suffield crater was Trevor Harwood, chief of the Defence Research Board's geophysical research section.

The Suffield explosion was to test blast and shock effects and it was only by accident that the similarity between the crater left by the detonation and those on the moon was discovered.

B.C. Man Fights Ouster

HONOLULU (AP) — Immigration officials said Wednesday they are reviewing the case of a Chinese Canadian and his Caucasian wife who refuse to obey a deportation order.

William Louie of Vancouver and his wife failed to show up Tuesday night for a plane flight which would have taken them to Canada.

The Louies have lived in Honolulu since June, 1963.

Their two American-born children "are not subject to deportation," a U.S. immigration official said.

Pleading Glance At Rescuers

Tom Cole, 13, of 3030 Patricia Bay Highway, trapped to the chest in treacherous, shifting pea-gravel, looks back fearfully as sweating rescuers futilely try to hand-shovel the gravel up the slope of a loading chute. He was freed by rescuers after more than two hours. —(William A. Boucher)

Despite City's Sharp Slashes

Average Tax Up $23

By A. H. MURPHY
City Hall Reporter

The average tax bill in Victoria this year will be up about $23.

This figure, predicated on an average assessment of about $4,500, was arrived at by city hall authorities following the next-to-last budget paring session Wednesday afternoon.

After a further meeting of a couple of hours today it is almost certain that a rate of 63 or 63.1 mills will be arrived at. Last year's rate was 57.9.

This includes a general rate of 38.5 mills, an increase of one over last year, plus a school rate of 24 mills, an increase of 3.6, plus a special levy of one-half mill for regional parks.

The general rate was held to a one-mill boost.

The school rate of 24 mills is something over which the city has no control. By provincial law it must accept the levy and incorporate the figure in its over-all mill rate.

SURPRISE

The one-half mill proposal came as a surprise.

Opening Wednesday's meeting Mayor Wilson said that he, along with the heads of adjoining municipalities, met with Recreation Minister Kenneth Kiernan informally on Tuesday and discussed the setting up of a regional parks board.

"We came to the conclusion that if each of our municipalities would make a levy of half a mill each year for five years it would, with the government's contribution of one-third, give us a pool of $1,000,000 to start acquiring some of this valuable land for the future," said the mayor.

FAST VANISHING

The mayor explained that beach areas, parkland, beauty spots and headlands were fast disappearing and that if they were not acquired now they might be forever lost.

Oak Bay and Central Saanich led the way toward formation of the regional board. They approved the plan at meetings on Tuesday.

Victoria's ratification will be given at the next meeting of city council.

WITHIN MILL

Spending estimates have been pared by several hundreds of thousands of dollars at the committee level for the past couple of weeks.

Aldermen went into committee-of-the-whole Wednesday with the avowed intention of slashing away about $80,000 more. This would bring the spending total within one mill ($103,000) of last year's level.

The parks department came under the knife as did public works. City Engineer James Garnett and Parks Administrator Herbert Warren defended estimates valiantly, but were forced to concede some thousands of dollars.

At the end of the day total cutbacks amounted to $37,325. Today aldermen will go after another $2,700.

* * *

Oak Bay Tax Rate Goes Up, Not Down

An increase in school costs has led to a 2.2 mill increase in Oak Bay's tax rate, instead of a cut.

Council pointed out the general purpose rate was cut 1.5 mills, but an increase of more than 3.6 mills in the school purpose mill rate forced the boost to 48.7 mills.

Last year the mill rate was increased by two mills from the 1963 figure of 44.5 mills.

Council noted it has no control over the mill rate for school purposes.

* * *

Schools Major Item For Central Saanich

Tentative budget approved by Central Saanich Council sets the 1965 mill rate at 40.76, up 3.26 over last year.

Proposed expenditure for 1965 was $397,604 while total revenue was estimated at $133,689, leaving a total of $283,914 to be raised through taxation.

Expenditure breakdown was schools, $173,152; debt service, $1,548.49 and general purpose, $109,213.72.

Mill rate breakdown was schools, 24.41; debt, .23; and general, 16.12.

The council will meet May 10 to discuss the budget.

For Recreational Development

Saanich May Buy Cedar Hill Course

Acquisition and development of Cedar Hill golf course as a major regional park is contemplated by Saanich.

Reeve Hugh Curtis said Wednesday purchase of the golf course, and the rest of the McRae Estate, may be one of the major items in the proposed Saanich capital budget program now being prepared.

"This is one of the all-too-few large parcels of natural open space remaining in the Greater Victoria area," said the reeve.

He said council feels it must act quickly to preserve this potential parkland.

Present characteristics of the area would be preserved for public enjoyment for both present and future generations.

Playing fields and gardens would complement the present golf course, which would be improved.

Saanich council believes it would have the enthusiastic support of a majority of residents in this project.

Reeve Curtis commented: "Loss of this desirable park-like area to any other use would be most regrettable."

Area's Police, Firemen

Joint Forces Idea Revived by Edgelow

The old question of joint fire and police departments for all four municipalities in Greater Victoria came up again Wednesday at an estimates meeting of city council.

"I think there should be a study. The cost of these departments is going up every year and amalgamation would save money and overlapping personnel. I think it's something the taxpayer would really appreciate," said Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

"Well, it's an old question and nothing was ever done in the past but I suppose that's no reason why it shouldn't be reconsidered," said Mayor Wilson.

He said he would bring it up at a forthcoming inter-municipal meeting.

Now Traffic Impedes Their Progress

Firemen Faster with Horses

Firemen reached a blaze faster in the days when their equipment was drawn by horses than they do now, in automotive age, Chief John Abbott told aldermen Wednesday.

Defending a spending estimate of $250 for a gadget which would tell firemen whether Johnson Street Bridge was up or down and so enable them to choose an alternative route to the industrial reserve, Chief Abbott said that traffic was a major consideration to the department these days.

It was taking longer every year to make a run over a given course and anything that would make the trip easier was of great value.

This led to a discussion on the addition of 12 men to the department, made necessary by a recent arbitration board decision.

The decision cut firemen's hours from 48 to 42 and allowed them to keep the same shift system.

In answer to Ald. Millard Mooney's suggestion that one fireman be cut from each of the three 20-man shifts in the city, Chief Abbott said it would mean there wouldn't be enough men to do the job.

There are now 93 men in the department, the chief said.

Estimates of $746,620 passed untouched.

Jubilee: $1,000,000

New Expansion Completed Within Year

By IAN STREET

Royal Jubilee Hospital announced a $1,000,000 construction program Wednesday to be completed within a year.

It will give the hospital a new school of nursing, move outdated isolation ward facilities, provide more laboratory space, and a new boiler room.

With the completion of an unfinished 31-bed ward in the new wing the reshuffle will provide a net gain of 15 beds for surgical and medical cases. The hospital has some 550 beds.

GIFT, GRANTS

The P. A. Woodward Foundation contributed $150,000 and local municipal governments will give grants totalling $140,000.

Provincial grants will cover $500,000 of the total cost with Ottawa providing another $250,000.

The total budget of $1,060,000 includes a sum of $20,000 under the heading of community funds. RJH board chairman Joseph Casey said it is hoped this amount can be raised within the community.

NO FORMAL DRIVE

No formal fund drive is planned, however, and the lack of this $20,000 will not stop the project from going ahead without further delay, Mr. Casey said.

Approximately half of the total amount will be spent on a two-storey building to replace the army huts now used as the school of nursing.

FIRST ADDITION

It will be located at the rear of the nurses' residence and contain classrooms, offices for instructors, and an auditorium.

The project is the first major addition to the school of nursing in 40 years. It will increase the capacity of the school from the present 180 to some 250.

MAY LIVE OUT

No additional living accommodation is being provided because the hospital board feels that some senior-year nursing students in future may live out of the hospital. They may work their third year as nurse internes.

Wards on the first and second floors of the south wing of the hospital will be completely renovated to form a new isolation unit. It will have some 34 beds, four more than at present.

FIRE TRAP

The move will take the isolation unit out of the present wooden building at the rear of the hospital, which has been condemned as a fire trap.

Work has already begun on the unfinished ward in the new wing completed in 1962, and on rehabilitation of two south wing wards for isolation use. The jobs should be completed in about three months, said administrator George Masters.

DRAWINGS PREPARED

Architects' drawings are being prepared for the new school of nursing and the extension to the present laboratory which includes the public health laboratory for southern Vancouver Island.

The new boiler house will replace the existing plant installed in 1918. It is designed to serve the adjacent Veterans' Hospital as well, and could be enlarged to link up with the proposed provincial mental hospital.

TRIBUTE

Mr. Casey paid tribute to the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Woodward who some 3½ years ago gave $50,000 toward the cost of new classrooms for the RJH school of nursing.

Later, in order to provide adequate facilities for this purpose, the gift was increased to $150,000.

SCHEDULE APPROVED

The RJH board said the program includes extensive rehabilitation of older hospital buildings.

Health Minister Eric Martin meanwhile announced that the government has approved a schedule of construction projects including renovation of the third central and part of the third east floors at Jubilee.

SOUTH WING

Approval was also given to the renovation of the third and fourth floors of the south wing of the hospital.

For Visitors' Bureau

City Chamber Rejects Tax

By TONY DILLON-DAVIS

Victoria Chamber of Commerce has turned thumbs down on a request by Victoria Visitors Bureau for support of its business tax increase plan.

The bureau wants business taxes and trades licence fees raised by one per cent with the increase going to the bureau in the form of a grant.

The grant amounting to about $50,000, would be for external advertising.

The bureau asked the chamber's board of directors for support in March, and directors decided to poll the full membership.

Chamber manager Earl Dicknoether said the bureau's bid was rejected because of "lack of information" from the bureau, and "lack of direction" from Chamber membership.

"The directors agreed that what the bureau is doing is good, but how can we be certain that $50,000 extra is what it needs? Maybe they need more, maybe less."

The bureau had never shown the Chamber a prepared budget, or a plan for the year's work.

Lack of response to the membership poll and the subsequent poll of directors left the Chamber no alternative but to reject the bureau's bid.

STILL SUPPORTING

The chamber will continue to support the bureau, President David Lawson said Wednesday.

"However, it is not the prerogative of any Chamber anywhere in Canada to invite a government to raise taxes," he said.

Garside Inquest

Boys Had Beer In Car, Jury Told

Last hours in the life of a youth who died after a two-car crash at Obed and Bodega were detailed to a coroner's jury Wednesday night.

The inquest was being held into the traffic death of Ronald Garside, 18, of 1712 Bay Street, who died three hours after the crash early Saturday morning. The inquest was adjourned until May 5 at 7:30 p.m. in Saanich law courts.

Witness Frank DiMarzio, 17, told the jury Garside picked him up in his car about 8 p.m. They drove around Victoria until about 9 p.m. when they stopped at the Government Street liquor store and got someone to purchase five dozen-bottle cases of beer and a six-bottle carton.

Another occupant of the car was John Gauti.

The three boys went to Uncle Jake's Discotheque for a short while, back to Garside's house, then out to Mount Douglas Park where they turned up a dirt road and opened the half case of beer. Each of the boys had two bottles, court was told. Police said five broken cases of beer were found in the car trunk after the crash.

The boys sat there for some time then drove to the White Spot Restaurant where they had some food. Then Gauti was dropped off at his home.

DROPPED OFF

DiMarzio told the court Garside dropped him off at 300 Ker, a short distance away from the accident scene. He went into the house and watched television.

Dr. M. J. Lynch testified the amount of alcohol found in Garside's blood would have no noticeable effect on anyone used to taking a drink.

ONTO BODEGA

DiMarzio told the jury Garside turned left onto Bodega after dropping him off at his home.

Driver of the car on Obed has been identified by police as Garry B. Haut, 920 Jasmine.

Mr. Haut and police Sgt. Robert Peterson are to appear as witnesses.

If Summer Dry

Langford Area A Powder Keg

A dry summer this year could turn Langford-Colwood-Metchosin into a powder keg.

Last year this area was the "hot spot" of the huge Vancouver forest district, accounting for 25 per cent of all fires on Vancouver Island.

Fifty of the 60 local fires were in built-up residential areas. Most were classed as nuisance fires started by children or careless adults.

Forest ranger Ron Jones, in charge of the 750-square-mile Langford district, warned Wednesday that in a dry year small nuisance fires could lead to major conflagrations.

Figures over the last few fire seasons—when Langford district also had an unduly large share of fires—seem to indicate that urban dwellers don't appreciate the danger.

"They are not sufficiently aware of the calamity that could result to nearby communities, as well as forests, if fires got out of hand," the ranger said.

AVERAGE YEAR

Last year was just about average for the local area.

In 1961 the residential areas of Langford-Colwood-Metchosin accounted for 97 fires out of 550 for Vancouver forest district; 49 out of 261 in 1962; 50 out of 434 in 1963.

He urged everyone using recreation spots in the area, smokers and parents of young children to exercise extreme caution in the fire season beginning Saturday.

During the fire season it is necessary to have a permit to light a fire within half a mile of any woodland.

Aged Fiddle

Often Worthless

Fortune in a Violin?—Unlikely

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The letter from the woman said that the violin purchased for $25 in an antique shop was to be converted originally into a planter for greenery.

"Then," she wrote, "I examined the violin more closely. I'm writing you because it's definitely a Strad."

Mrs. Rembert Wurlitzer read the letter from the woman who thought she had a "find." "We get at least 50 letters of this type each week," she said. Lee Wurlitzer is president of a firm which makes new, and restores old, stringed instruments, mostly violins, cellos and violas.

* * *

The matter of musical "finds" came up after a Freeport, N.Y. pawnbroker reported he's been offered $3,500 for a 132-year-old violin on which he had granted a $40 loan. The broker, Gerald Weaver, was searching for the owner or heirs of the owner to share the profits "because it doesn't seem right to make so much money on a $40 loan."

Weaver's violin, he believed, was made in 1833 by Antonio Gagliano, a craftsman of Italy, which through the centuries has produced master makers including the famed Antonio Stradivari. Strads now are worth anywhere from $15,000 to $95,000, said Mrs. Wurlitzer—"there are Strads, and then there are Strads."

* * *

Mrs. Wurlitzer spoke at her office of people's constant hope they had found valuable instruments.

But the fact that something produced from the attic and is old doesn't make it valuable, she said—"a lousy fiddle is a lousy fiddle no matter how aged it is."

Mrs. Wurlitzer said that the Stradivarius signature means the most to the general public although there were, and are, many other great craftsmen less frequently mentioned.

Each letter received asking her experts to authenticate a musical instrument is answered, she said. "And usually the suggestion is that the writer send Wurlitzer first a set of closeup photographs, made by a professional. If the photos indicate that the violin—or cello or viola—is valuable, then she will suggest that the stringed instrument be sent on for further inspection.

"But I can assure everyone," said Mrs. Wurlitzer, "that it's been a long, long time since another Strad has been found."

* * *

"Come with me," she continued, "I'll show you a few genuine ones." She led the way into a vault, where violin after violin lay pigeon-holed, under controlled humidity, and where each is labeled by its maker and date. The "museum" houses "about $1,000,000 of strings" she said.

The vault also holds instruments in temporary storage for customers. Mrs. Wurlitzer said the firm had served most of the great concert artists—including the late Fritz Kreisler, Nathan Milstein, Isaac Stern, Pablo Casals. And, she added, Jack Benny.

Mrs. Wurlitzer, a trim, blue-eyed brunette, is the mother of a grown son and daughter and took over the firm after her husband's death two years ago. She said the Wurlitzers had been making musical instruments since the early 17th century when as Saxony villagers in Europe they produced lutes.

Today, cellos, violas and violins—she calls them fiddles—are the guts of the firm's production. Mrs. Wurlitzer said around the shop the violin is called the fiddle "not to dignify it less, but because it is a term of endearment."

PERSONAL MENTION

By Dorothy Wrotnowski

The Castle at Royal Roads is such a beautiful setting for a party and this evening there will be cocktails served when Capt. W. P. Hayes and Mrs. Hayes entertain for Capt. R. W. Timbrell, Director Officer Cadets, who is here from Ottawa.

Capt. Timbrell arrived on Wednesday and will leave again on Friday. He is staying with the Hayes.

Guests at the party tonight will be the members of Royal Roads senior staff and their wives.

If it is a nice evening it is safe to bet that doors will be opened and that guests will be out on the terrace overlooking the Italian gardens and the lagoon.

Royal Navy Visit

Across the water there are preparations under way for the arrival on Friday of the Royal Navy guided missile destroyer, HMS Kent at Esquimalt. The United States radar picket ship, USS Interpreter will also be in port.

Rear Admiral M. G. Stirling, Flag Officer, Pacific Coast, and officers will hold a command reception at HMCS Naden wardroom on the day of arrival.

The City of Victoria and the Municipalities of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt will give a luncheon at the Empress on Monday for the officers of HMS Kent. Mayor R. B. Wilson, Reeves Hugh Curtis, Allan Cox and A. C. Wurtele will greet the visitors.

Victoria will also host a dance on Saturday in the Crystal Garden for the men of HMS Kent.

The last day of the visit, next Tuesday, Capt. A. M. Lewis, RN, of HMS Kent will give a captain's luncheon for 10 guests in his ship.

And later that day there will be a reception in the Kent for about 200 guests.

Sophomore Dance

The year's studies will be behind them when sophomore students at Victoria University gather at the Curling rink for a dance on Friday evening.

Richard Grubb, treasurer of the Alma Mater Society of the Student Council, will be host at a dinner at the home of his parents, Cmdr. and Mrs. F. E. Grubb before going on to the dance.

His dinner guests will be Heather Brayshaw, John Theis, Society vice-president, Nan Elliott, secretary, Kevan Hull, David Grubb, Elizabeth Swemle, Frank Waelt and Mary Lane.

* * *

Still talking about parties, the R. B. Wildes invited friends to cocktails at the Union Club last evening.

Back from Disneyland

Just back from Disneyland are Mr. and Mrs. T. D'Arcy McGee and their children, Margot, Kathy, Gordon, Timothy and Michael.

They just loved the place—it was their first visit—It is such a happy place and so clean, says Mrs. McGee.

Marine Land, Too

More Victorians who took their children to the California fairyland are the John Olsons with Leslie, Tracy and David and the Danny Hajmels with Dana and David.

The parents say they enjoyed the place as much as the children. And they all came with beautiful suntans as the weather was "just gorgeous."

This party also went to Marine Land on the ocean about an hour and a half drive from Disneyland and which they found very interesting.

When they went to Santa Barbara it was to visit Mr. and Mrs. Art Knapp, well known to many Victorians.

Holiday in Hawaii

Also back from a holliday in the sun are Col. and Mrs. Pat Murdoch. They were in Waikiki and were joined for the Easter holidays by their daughters, Tamera, Etelka and Myrna who are now back at their studies in Norfolk House School.

Marge Naysmith and son David are also back from Waikiki and are both sporting beautiful suntans. David had a bang-up party for his 18th birthday while there.

A swim at 6:30 in the morning may not appeal to everyone but that is the time that Marge likes her first dip of the day. Another Victorian who likes to swim at this time is Cyril Chapman and he was there at the same time. So as Marge says she and Cyril usually had an early morning conversation in the sea.

Tea for Old Girls

Invitations have gone out to 75 Queen Margaret's School Old Girls Association members in the Victoria area for a tea to be held at the Cotswold Road home of the president, Mrs. John Featherstone.

Special guests at this affair will be parents of girls now attending the school at Duncan. Miss Margaret Gilde, new headmistress, will also come down Duncan for tea this Saturday.

Mrs. Keith Young, vice-president, will be there helping Mrs. Featherstone.

There will be a Dutch auction during the afternoon and there will also be talk about forming a parents' association here to assist the school locally.

Bridal Shower

Mrs. H. T. Weber and Mrs. A. H. Steer were hostesses at a shower honoring Miss Kay Porter, whose marriage to Mr. Glen Steer takes place in May. Carnation corsages were presented to the bride-elect; to her mother Mrs. E. W. Porter, and the groom elect's mother, Mrs. A. H. Steer.

A miniature wedding cake contained gifts from the guests who included Mrs. J. Patterson, Mrs. W. Rance, Mrs. K. Steer, Mrs. D. Born, Mrs. W. Deacon, Mrs. L. Ord, Mrs. J. Jefferson, Mrs. G. McKean, Mrs. T. Crabbe, Mrs. T. Newnham, Mrs. E. O'Neill, Mrs. J. Bradley, Mrs. P. Turlock, Mrs. J. McKay, Mrs. R. McKay, Mrs. E. Rigby, and the Misses Leigh Porter, Peggy Porter, Erin Porter, Maureen Steer, Georgia Deacon, Susan Weber and Marjorie Joy.

Also in honor of Miss Porter was a grocery shower given by her sisters, Leigh and Peggy, at their mother's home. Gifts were contained in a grocery basket decorated with grocery sales slips. Corsages of carnations were presented to the bride-elect and her mother, and to Mrs. Steer.

Guests were Mrs. J. Patterson, Mrs. G. Rawnsley, Mrs. D. Born, Mrs. W. Rance, Mrs. K. Steer and the Misses Erin Porter, Kerry, Sue and Kim Rawnsley, and Maureen Steer.

HOME BAKING SALE

Victoria Girls' Drill Team will hold a home baking sale Saturday May 1 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Woolco Department Store. Proceeds will be used for the Team's annual trip, which this year will be to Edmonton.

The Ladies' Pharmaceutical Auxiliary is holding its annual spring dance at the Club Sirocco on Saturday from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Proceeds will go for the three bursaries presented to Vancouver Island students attending either the University of Victoria or University of British Columbia. From left are Mrs. Charles Cameron, in charge of contests; Mrs. Robert Alexander and Mrs. Maxwell Scrimgeour, dance conveners.

St. Margaret's
Old Girls' Reunion

The St. Margaret's School Old Girls Association will hold its annual reunion at the school on Fern Street, Wednesday evening, May 5.

Guests will be received in the reception rooms by the president, Miss Margaret Roberts and school principal, Mrs. D. W. Cobbett.

The 28 members of this year's graduating class will be special guests and Mrs. Roderick Clack will represent the Parents Auxiliary.

The committee this year has arranged a dessert party which will be held in the attractive school dining room. The reception rooms, dining room and tables will be decorated with spring flowers in the school color of red and white.

Later the annual meeting will be held in the school Common Room.

The annual reunion is greatly looked forward to by many former pupils of the school, who enjoy meeting former school chums. One of the "highlights" of this event is the newsletter received from Miss Margaret Barton, a former principal of the school for many years, who now lives in England. Miss Barton has a wonderful memory for names and dates. She is well informed of the present and the future of the school as many old girls travel overseas, and calling on Miss Barton at her home in England is always a special event.

The committee members arranging the reunion are Miss Margaret Roberts, Miss Joy Brettell, Miss Sylvia McKeever, Mrs. C. Barman and Mrs. H. Lauder Ramsay.

Mrs. Kobelsky Heads Council

Mrs. E. Kobelsky was elected president of St. Andrew's Cathedral Council of the Catholic Women's League at the annual meeting in the parish hall.

Other officers are: first vice-president, Mrs. B. Prank; second vice-president, Mrs. J. Neirinck; third vice-president, Mrs. R. Rendle; recording secretary, Mrs. H. James; corresponding secretary, Miss M. McMillan; treasurer, Miss N. O'Connell, and councillors Mrs. R. Goodwin, Mrs. C. Edwards and Mrs. M. Milligan.

Convener's reports showed an active and profitable year in many fields. Main events were the parish bazaar and the annual smorgasbord.

Project undertaken was the renovating and refurnishing of several rooms of the Rectory.

Adjudicators To Be Honored

The B.C. Registered Music Teachers' Association, Victoria Branch have arranged a luncheon on Friday, April 30, in honour of the Victoria Music Festival adjudicators, Mr. Angus Morrison and Mr. Philip Hattey, and Miss Ulah Jacobson, the president of the Festival Society. Other guests will be the president and faculty of the Victoria School of Music.

RN Offers $350 Loan

Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, the Greater Victoria District, met recently in the St. John Ambulance building.

Miss Eunice Hay gave a report of the Psychiatric Institute held earlier in the month at the Holyrood House.

Miss Norma Fieldhouse, Miss Helen Saunders, Miss Jessie Bridges, Mrs. Pat Kahr and Miss Jane Hamilton gave a report of the Conference on Nursing held at the McPherson Playhouse.

Members decided to send $100 to the Canadian Nurses' Foundation in appreciation of Dr. Helen Mussallem's Contribution to the conference.

It was decided by the members to offer a $350 bursary loan this year for a nurse ot further her studies.

Fashion Show Friday

A giant fashion how and annual spring bazaar will be held in Belmont High School, on Friday, April 30 under the auspices of the Elizabeth Fisher Association.

The fashion show is being sponsored by the T. Eaton Company and student from Belmont High will be the models.

Helen Biernes will be the commentator for two shows, at 7 p.m. and again at 9 p.m.

Bazaar doors will open at 6 p.m. and will have more to offer than ever before.

Innovations this year include a French sidewalk cafe, a hideout coffee bar with jazz band and folk singers.

There will also be a dance contest judged by Bob Aylward, Bob Foulds and Miss Victoria, Linda Gower.

A bonfire and fish pond are also on the list of attractions.

CATHEDRAL W.A.

Afternoon Branch of Christ Church Cathedral Women's Auxiliary will meet Monday May 3 at 2:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. This takes the place of the usual Tuesday meeting.

Victoria Couple Married 60 Years

Native-born Victorians, whose ancestors came to Victoria in the earliest years of the city's history, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at a family dinner at Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

They are Mr. and Mrs. George E. Robinson, 133 Eberts Street, who were both born in Victoria and have lived here all their lives.

Mrs. Robinson is the former Ann Maria Irvine. Her grandfather was Peter Irvine, who came out with the Hudson Bay Company, and her mother, Mme. Grace, nursed with Dr. Helmcken and other pioneer doctors of that time.

Mr. Robinson's grandfather came to Nanaimo in 1854, aboard the barque Princess Royal, to manage the Dunsmuir mines.

Needless to say, both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson have many fascinating memories of early Victoria. Mr. Robinson has been a member of the Victoria Pressmans Union for more than 60 years.

Even such seasoned travellers as Miss Gladys Holling, of 1300 May Street, are thrilled by a voyage through the sun-drenched Carribbean en route to the United Kingdom. Miss Holling sailed recently aboard S. S. Oriana.

Alcoholics' Wives Miss Nurse Role

EASTBOURNE, England (Reuters) — Some wives become ill when their alcoholic husbands stop drinking, startled health experts were told here today.

They are the "rather energetic, nurse-type wives who like responsibility and enjoy having a dependent and irresponsible child as a husband," social research officer Miss G. M. Goldberg told a Royal Society of of Health conference.

She said it had been found in such cases that once a husband stopped drinking "his wife became depressed or ill herself, or managed by subtle means to undermine the improvement so that the man started drinking again."

Canadian Helps Build Stoves for Africans

By AARON R. EINFRANK
Toronto Telegram News Service

UNITED NATIONS—When Canadian home economist Jean Steckle was growing up in Kitchener, Ont., she never dreamed she would wind up in the heart of darkest Africa teaching the natives to cook nutritious meals and helping them to build stoves.

But this is exactly what Miss Steckle is doing today for the UN Food and Agriculture Organization in Sierre Leone where the Ontario woman is part of the UN's war on world poverty.

Stationed at Kenema, which is about three hours flight from the capital city of Freetown, Jean has traveled many thousands of miles through the bush visiting native villages where she gives home economics courses to the village women.

Jean not only has to contend with the mores and attitudes of women who have lived the same way since time immemorial, but she also must convince the tribal chiefs that change is necessary if Sierre Leone is to progress.

"The women are friendly and interested—no, even curious," she says. "They can learn and understand new methods of family living and with the permission of their chiefs, they will come forward.

"It's a subsistence economy; the women are needed to tend the fields and to work in the home. But we really don't want to take them out of the fields—we just want to make their work at home easier."

One of Miss Steckle's main jobs is to show native women how to use more local produce such as beans, peanuts, dried fish and other protein-rich food in preparing their children's meals.

Why did a Canadian have to come to Africa under the auspices of the FAO to teach the natives this?

Jean gives many reasons:

"For instance, the women take sesame seed, grind it into a paste like peanut butter, then make it into a soup that is rich in protein. Traditionally they give none of this soup to the children for whom protein is vital but instead feed the children on an unhealthy starchy diet.

"In Ghana (where Jean was previously stationed by FAO) peanut soup is a regular part of each meal. However, it is highly seasoned with pepper; too much so for children. Slightly seasoned, it would be fine for kids.

Jean also teaches the native women how to plant garden vegetable plots and how to build stoves.

"I'll bet I've built a thousand mud stoves," she says, "For when the diet is improved, something must be done about kitchen improvement. Take a simple problem that arises when cooking on stones. Once you use a spoon to stir the stew where do you put it? And although the women may often cook outside they must cook inside during the rainy season. Where does the smoke go?"

A few years ago Jean came to the assistance of an American foundation which had sent five engineers to Sierre Leone to develop a design for mud stoves for the natives who mostly cooked on rocks. With Jean's help, the engineers were able to come up with a stove design which was pleasing to Sierre Leone women.

In addition to nutrition, Miss Steckle is also involved in reducing Sierre Leone's high infant mortality rate by teaching hygiene to midwives.

Now that a lot of the groundwork has been laid in Sierre Leone, Jean is currently busy training young women who can go back to their villages to carry on the work which the girl from Kitchener started.

Fashion Show

A fashion show and stalls of needlework and home cooking will highlight a Mothers' Day tea at St. Peter's Church, Lake Hill, Saturday, May 1.

Dr. Kenneth M. King, rector of St. Peter's, will officially open the tea at 2:30 p.m., and the fashion show will begin at 3 o'clock.

Members of the Ladies' Evening Guild and the WA are in charge of arrangements.

Our Man In The Kitchen

HYMAN GOLDBERG

The unhappy caddy was having a miserable time going around the golf course with the new member of the club. On each one of the holes the poor boy had to go into the rough to look for the man's ball, and he was blamed each time the ball couldn't be found. The man complained at length about the weather, the condition of the course, everything, but especially about the caddy. When they finally finished the full 18 holes and were walking back to the clubhouse, the man seemed to become aware that the caddy was not pleased with him. "I'd like you to know, son," he said, grinning widely to show that he was really a good fellow, "that I didn't play my usual game today."

"Oh, really?" said the boy. "What do you usually play? Checkers?" We know a young fellow who usually just plays around with the spinach on his plate, but eats it when we give him:

SPINACH AND CHEESE BALLS

Half pound spinach, cooked; ¼ pound cottage cheese; ⅛ pound Cheddar cheese, grated; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1 egg, beaten; 1 tablespoon flour.

Drain the cooked spinach thoroughly and chop it. Combine the spinach with the cottage cheese, half of the grated Cheddar, the seasoning, beaten egg and flour. Bring to the boil a large pot of water. Form the spinach cheese mixture into small balls, about the size of golf balls, and drop them into the boiling water.

After they come to the surface, let them sit in the simmering water for five minutes. Drain them. Sprinkle them with the remaining grated Cheddar cheese, and maybe a little melted butter. This will do as an accompaniment to your main course for four to six people. And they are good in soup, too. Every household, almost, with children, always has some leftover cooked vegetables which they are even more loath to eat second time around, so we suggest you try to serve:

VEGETABLE FRITTERS

One cup of any green, cooked vegetables; 1 egg, beaten; ¼ teaspoon each, salt and pepper; 2 tablespoons flour; 2 scallions, minced fine with some of the greenery, or 1 small onion, minced fine; butter or fat for frying; sour cream.

Squeeze all liquid out of the vegetables, and mince them fine. Beat the egg with salt and pepper and gradually add the flour, beating. Combine the batter with the minced vegetables. Get the fat hotted up, put the mixture into the fat by the tablespoon and fry on both sides until they are well-browned. Drain the vegetable fritters thoroughly and serve them with a dollop of sour cream.

To Mrs. W. J. Brull, of Lucas, Kansas, goes an autographed copy of you-know-which? cookbook, for a very fine kitchen tip, best of the week. To avoid soggy crusts when baking custard pies, what Mrs. Brull does is — "Lightly brush unbaked pie crust with white of an egg, put it in hot oven for five minutes, pour in custard, bake for five minutes at 475 degrees, then reduce heat to 425 degrees for rest of baking time. No more soggy crusts!" Thank you, Mrs. Brull!

For Moscow Women

Slacks 'Naughty,' Necklines Plunge

MOSCOW (CP)—The plunging neckline may be a symbol of a new era in fashions for women in the Soviet Union.

It will be a little while, however, before it becomes apparent just how far the necklines will plunge.

Revealing dresses have long been frowned upon here, being regarded as symbols of Western decadence.

But a change is heralded at the spring fashion showings at Moscow's Dom Modeley House of Models. Introducing the thrice-weekly showings, the commentator says that this season evening dresses are "very feminine." She goes on to say that this means they have plunging necklines.

The only difficulty is that the show doesn't include an evening dress. Until the stores begin selling them and women begin buying, it will remain a matter of speculation just how daring they'll be.

Another indication of change is the commentator's statement that women's slacks and shorts are "in great fashion" this spring. Slacks are seldom seen in public here since puritan elements insist they are naughty. However, the commentary suggests they're becoming more widely accepted.

As for shorts, they aren't worn on city streets and this is hardly likely to change. Presumably the reference to their growing popularity meant their use at the seashore or in private.

Other notes from the fashion house: Two-piece suits are in; hats ride high on the dome; ruffles, scarves and flowers are fashionable for decorations while brooches and other ornaments are out of style.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I were deeply interested in your counsel that parents should NOT be expected to support children who married in college. This is what happened in our family:

Our eldest son, (21), a junior at Yale, handsome, bright and promising, fell in love with a 19-year-old girl who attends a nearby school. They wanted to marry during spring vacation. We told our son we felt an obligation to educate him, but not to support him and a wife. We agreed to continue his usual allowance until he finished law school, but nothing more.

The parents of the girl decided our son was too good a catch to lose. They offered a lavish wedding, a beautiful bungalow, (completely furnished, of course) and agreed to pay all their living expenses—indefinitely.

Our son now considers us "stingy, unco-operative, and downright mean." The girl's parents are "generous, loyal and understanding." We rarely see our son and his wife. The girl's parents see them a great deal. Was it worth it to stand by our principles? Sometimes I feel the price was too high — HEARTACHE IN NEW HAVEN

Dear Heartache: Unfortunately your son and his girl were for sale to the highest bidder and her parents put in the high bid.

This is a dismal picture, and not an uncommon one. I can only say I hope your son wakes up and recognizes the situation for what it is. The whole thing smells like last week's fish to me.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a girl who will be 16 years old next month. I have to share a bedroom with my 12-year-old brother who is retarded. I love my brother very much and I try to help him all I can but I do feel a girl my age should have some privacy.

When my girl friend invited me to stay overnight I am so envious that I can hardly stand it because she has a bedroom all to herself.

Dad admits we could afford to live in a larger place but he says it isn't necessary. Please say something to help me. — BETTY BLUE.

Dear Betty: A 16-year-old girl should not be sharing a bedroom with her younger brother. This is not good for either of you. I am adding my voice to yours in the hope that you will be moving to a larger place very soon. Good luck.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is an executive. We frequently give cocktail parties, usually during convention time when the town is loaded with my husband's colleagues.

We love to entertain and people tell us we do it well. We plan our parties carefully. Although the atmosphere is casual and informal, a great deal of thought goes into the selection of the guests. Our home is not large and we have learned that too many guests can be deadly. Often we must leave off the names of folks we'd like to invite in order to insure a group of the right size.

Certain guests invariably bring four or six of their friends along. Sometimes they phone ahead but usually they just show up at the door with the extras. The greeting generally goes like this: "Surprise! Look who I brought." Or—"I knew you wouldn't mind." They feel, apparently, that just because it isn't a sit-down dinner it's all right.

Is there a solution to this problem? —ONE-DOWNMANSHIP.

Dear One: When guests arrive at your door with uninvited extras you are trapped.

Anticipate the problem when you do the inviting. Say, "We can comfortably accommodate only a limited number of guests in our home, so please don't bring anyone with you."

Party Honors Mr. Little

The family of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Little, of 931 Bank Street, gathered on Sunday, April 25, to celebrate the birthday of Mr. Little in his 80th year.

Hosts for the party were Mr. and Mrs. R. G. MacDonald at their home at 4591 Markham Road.

Honoring their grandfather were 14 grandchildren and eight great - grandchildren. Guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. C. M. L. Sherk, and Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Christie, of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McCondach and Mr. and Mrs. R. Grant MacDonald, of North Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Little of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. A. Spencer of Alberni, and Mr. and Mrs. O. Sjelbrud of Qualicum.

Train that Royalty Rode

60 Tons of Tradition Due from U.K. Friday

Victoria will be 60 tons richer in traditions of the British Isles Friday with the arrival of a history-festooned steam locomotive and an early steam-era parlor car.

The locomotive and car, both built in 1894 and put in service in 1895, will arrive aboard the freighter Dongedyk.

The Dunrobin is the actual locomotive in which nearly all crowned heads of Europe enjoyed luxurious accommodation in the notably luxurious Victorian age.

BUILT FOR DUKE

A tall-stacked and high-wheeled steamer, it is the second of its name.

It was preceded by an earlier, smaller Dunrobin in 1870, a locomotive commissioned by the third Duke of Sutherland who also paid for the 18-mile track from Golspie to Helmsdale, Scotland.

In 1884, the duke sold his railway line—all 18 miles of it—to the Highland Railway Co., retaining the right to run his private engine and "saloon coach" between Inverness and Golspie, where he had a private station near Dunrobin Castle, the ancestral seat.

SOLD ORIGINAL

The fourth Duke of Sutherland decided he wanted a more powerful engine, sold the original Dunrobin to the railway company, and ordered a new one which was completed by the Atlas works in Glasgow in 1895.

This is the locomotive, with its ornate parlor car, which will be displayed in a museum on Government Street.

The parlor car is still equipped with the original furnishings including deep-pile carpet, a wind-up gramohpone and indoor plumbing—believed to be the first ever installed in a railway coach.

USED BY KINGS

In the cab, across from the engineer's post, is a leather cushion used by kings, queens, princesses, princes, ambassadors and millionaires.

Many of them left their autograph on a brass plate inside the engine cab.

At least four monarchs have handled her controls—King George V, King Edward VII, King George VI and King Alphonso of Spain.

Another frequent throttle-man was Sir Winston Churchill, while First Lord of the Admiralty.

Dunrobin is coming to Victoria because a for-sale advertisement in a B.C. paper caught the eye of Victoria businessman Harold Foster, 1754 Townley.

Mr. Foster picked up the telephone, placed a call to Britain and bought the machine for exhibition in Victoria.

Car Pact Praised

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Tariff Commission said Wednesday that the U.S.-Canada auto trade agreement negotiated earlier this year was contrary to U.S. trade policy followed for nearly a half century.

The commission said that since 1923, the United States had made it a practice not to extend concessions to one trading partner without making them available to others.

It said that the agreement, which abolishes tariffs on new cars and parts, violates commitments to the 60 countries who are members of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The commission discussed the agreement in a report requested by the House ways and means committee.

The agreement was signed in January with strong support from President Johnson. However, Congress must enact legislation to implement it.

It was praised Wednesday by witnesses representing the big U.S. automobile companies and denounced by those testifying for independent parts manufacturers.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler executives all supported it.

United Auto Workers Union Vice-President Leonard Woodcock said the agreement would be of great benefit to both the United States and Canada.

Mr. Woodcock attacked the auto industry for refusing to reduce prices on cars sold in Canada.

"The prices of cars to Canadian buyers have not been cut by one cent and the companies have made it clear that they have no intention of reducing prices now or in the near future."

Pressure could be brought on auto makers to cut prices by extending the agreement to the individual car buyers, he said.

Factor 10 Shadows Baby's Life

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—Factor 10, a mysterious blood substance, has cast a shadow of death over the life of 16-month-old Miki Milton.

What's Factor 10? Doctors don't know, exactly. They don't know where it is manufactured in the body, or precisely what it does. But they do know that Factor 10 has an influence on clotting.

Miki, whose body isn't producing Factor 10, begins bleeding internally at the slightest bump or strain.

Doctors at the University of Arkansas Medical Centre in Little Rock have told Miki's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milton, that they know of no other child suffering from the ailment.

So far, Miki has had seven transfusions. She faces a lifetime of them at even more frequent intervals. As she grows, she'll need more and more Factor 10.

Spies Killed By Hundreds

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — Albania has killed "hundreds" of spies trying to enter the country, according to a member of its politburo.

Adil Carcani, in a speech monitored Saturday by Radio Free Europe here, said the slain included "bandits and spies" from other Communist countries.

Albania is Communist China's sole European ally and a small but noisy foe of Moscow.

Unorganized B.C. Territories

Unsightly Junkyard Banned

BY IAN STREET

Junkyards in sight of major highways will be banned in future under a new zoning regulation for unorganized territories throughout B.C.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell disclosed the new regulations Wednesday.

It will ban storage of car bodies, scrap metal and junk on land or in buildings which are visible from any highway designated by the government.

NO PLANNING

The new regulation will be effective in unorganized territory where there is no community planning organization in existence to make zoning regulations.

The effect of the new regulaion, officials said, will be to effectively ban any new junkyards within sight of highways.

Those which already exist will be non-conforming uses and are expected to be required to provide some effective means of screening.

Mr. Campbell said a public hearing will be held on the new regulation in the legislative buildings at a date to be fixed shortly.

Out of Alert Bay

New Weekly For Island

CAMPBELL RIVER — A weekly newspaper serving the whole northern Vancouver Island area will begin publication about mid-June, Campbell River resident Neville Shanks has announced.

The newspaper will be located at Alert Bay and will be distributed in an area where four municipalities will be formed later this year, at Port Alice, Port Hardy, Port McNeill and Gold River—the first local governments in the north Island.

* * *

Mr. Shanks, a Campbell River resident for five years, has been an insurance representative for the past three years and is NDP candidate for the Comox riding in the next provincial election.

He is a former editor of the Campbell River Courier and also has worked on the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review.

Mr. Shanks is also secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here and active in the Credit Union and historical society.

Island Publicity Bureau Meets New Opposition

PORT ALBERNI -- The Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau is continuing to run into opposition against its 1965 assessment on Island communities.

The Alberni Valley Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday to send the bureau $450 already allocated for its operation this year, but decided to ask its finance committee to study a request for another $550.

OTHER CENTRES

Earlier this wek, officials in Nanaimo, Ladysmith and other Island centres indicated the publicity bureau might not obtain all it has asked from them for this year. A leter from the bureau informed the Alberni Valley Chamber that Alberni is being assessed $300, Port Alberni $700 and businessmen of the area a matching $1,000.

Chamber president Mrs. Edna Souther said both councils and the Chamber had not been satisfied with assessments in past years.

COPY REQUIRED

She said a copy of the schedule of assesments for all Island communities would be required for the study.

The finance committee will also consider Chamber finances, since the amount of civic grants to the Chamber for 1965 is not yet known, and will keep in mind that a drive for new members will also affect the Chamber's finances.

Sheep Day May 8 In Nanaimo

DUNCAN — The program was announced Wednesday for the annual Vancouver Island sheep breeders' field day on the Nanaimo Exhibition grounds May 8.

District agriculturist Kenneth Jameson of Duncan said the program involving breeders from all parts of the island will begin at 10:30 a.m. with judging of market lambs.

Other events will be a display of two outstanding rams, a judging class for 4-H members and lectures on production testing, sheep management and meat grading.

Nanaimo Friday, City Saturday

Musical Horde Arriving

NANAIMO — The fourth annual Lower Mainland and Fraser Valley junior tattoo will begin its 1965 B.C. tour in the civic arena here at 8 p.m. Friday.

The 2½-hour show will make its second appearance the next evening, in the Victoria Memorial Arena.

PRECISION SQUADS

Highlights of the show will be massed brass and pipe bands, the Mission Indian school band in native costumes, Scottish highland dances, picked precision squads from air force and navy cadet groups and a Fraser Valley gymnastic team.

More than 1,200 young people from the Fraser Valley and Lower Mainland will reach Nanaimo Friday in 20 buses. They will be joined by hundreds of young musicians from Vancouver Island Centres.

Representation has been made to have the tattoo travel to many B.C. communities as part of the 1966-7 centennial celebrations.

The association which administers the affairs of the tattoo is a non-profit organization dedicated to furthering the musical education of the youth of B.C. All net proceeds are allocated to participating groups.

Billets for 125 boys and girls are still needed in Victoria. People who can help should phone Allan Potter at 382-7221 or 385-7988, or Noel Lax at 384-0514.

Washing dishes by hand is like doing laundry on a scrub board, or cooking on a wood stove.

And in 1965 that's ridiculous. Westinghouse makes an automatic dishwasher that washes your dishes hospital clean and then dries them to a sparkle. And it protects your family's health with the exclusive Westinghouse Sanitizer that automatically guarantees germ-killing with 145° water temperature.

The Westinghouse dishwasher can save you 225 hours a year. Think what you can do with this time. And you can forget dishpan hands, too.

If you think washing dishes by hand is part of a woman's function as a good wife and mother, forget it. They used to say that about scrub boards and wood stoves, too. And if you think a Westinghouse dishwasher has to cost four hundred dollars — forget it. You can buy one for about half that. And you have our guarantee it's well made and backed with service.

Update your thinking with a Westinghouse dishwasher. Get your Westinghouse dealer to show you what we're talking about. For very little, you can live a little.

Interested? Then look these over too:

Westinghouse Economy Built-In Model SUF4C. Beautiful and easy to install. One dial for completely automatic dishwashing (double wash and triple rinse), wide sweep wash arm, self-cleaning filter, and shut-off switch that lets you add more dishes after cycle has started. Hot air heating system assures sparkling dry dishes.

Westinghouse Built-In Model SUF4A. The ultimate in dishwashing convenience. Easily installed. Choice of five washing cycles for every requirement. Sanitizer guarantees washing and rinsing temperature of 145°. Twin washing arms for super-clean loads. Clear rinse agent is automatically added to insure spotless drying.

Westinghouse Portable Model SPF2B. Goes wherever there's a sink; rolls away for easy storage under a counter or in a closet. Nothing to install. Choice of two washing cycles. All-porcelain wash well, plate-warming setting and shut-off switch that stops cycle when lid is lifted. Washes dishes for about 3¢ a load!

Westinghouse makes a host of appliances geared to life in 1965. Products to wash your dishes. Perk your coffee. Iron your clothes. Cool your house. Dry your basement. Polish your floors. Store your fresh and frozen foods. Do your laundry. Keep you entertained. Cook your food. Dry your hair. Brush your teeth. Carve your roast. In fact, everything you need to make your house a home.

Scott Protests Ice Restriction

First Hat in Ring

The first hat came sailing into the ring Wednesday for the December mayoralty election.

It was tossed by W. A. (Bill) Scott, Victoria's lighthouse philosopher, in a typical protest gesture against the city's "establishment."

"I know I won't win," Mr. Scott declaimed. "But this morning's newspaper was just too much for me, and I won't let it pass without registering the loudest possible protest.

'RIDICULOUS'

"It's ridiculous when a city will sink $8,000 in seven days in subsidies for the McPherson Playhouse and can't find a little ice time in its civic arena for the kids to play hockey.

"Nobody can tell me that a very little effort and money won't provide plenty of skating time for the children of this area."

TIME TO PLAY

The early-bird candidate admitted he was strongly in favor of the Playhouse and had supported it, but in his estimation the subsidies mainly helped people in Victoria who were already comparatively well off.

Children playing hockey in the arena drew much wider representation, and the necessary support to find them time to play—at a minimum of at least once a week—should quickly be found, Mr. Scott said.

City Decides

Quill Age Ends

Victoria municipal administrators are throwing their quill pens away, readying for the age of science.

After a short skirmish, aldermen agreed Wednesday to retain an estimate of $9,700 for purchase of data processing equipment for the office of the treasurer and comptroller, James Bramley.

"It's the first step toward installation of a modern system of processing," Mr. Bramley said.

City manager Dennis Young added: "It does not mean we will be cutting staff but we will be able to do things we are not doing now."

MODERN METHODS

The time is coming, for example, when people will pay their taxes on an installment basis, as they do their utilities, he said. In order to achieve this, data processing will be necessary. As it is now, it takes a couple of months for staff to get out once-a-year bills.

City's Cost Share Too Big

Time for Helping Hand

Victoria is doing more than its share in providing recreational and cultural facilities for the district and it's time the city was given a helping hand, in the opinion of Comptroller James Bramley.

In a preface to a provisional $12,786,000 budget, Mr. Bramley said the city should take a long look before committing itself to further expenditures such as the development of Royal Athletic Park, the take-over of the curling rink, the construction of a stadium and the establishment of a civic arts and crafts centre.

Apart from Esquimalt, said Mr. Bramley, outside municipalities have shown little inclination to spend major amounts on recreation facilities.

The city has too many non-profit facilities now and it should be more selective in future spending in this regard if it wishes to avoid large mill rate increases in the future.

Victoria is in a good position regarding debt and tax collection, he said, but there is a limit to what could be done.

Settlement Is Near In Truckers Dispute

VANCOUVER (CP) — Talks aimed at stopping a truck delivery strike-lockout here Wednesday narrowed the issues down to one—wages.

Spokesmen for both sides indicated a settlement appeared close. Further talks were to be held today.

The strike-lockout which began Monday tied up about 1,000 trucks and about 70 per cent of the cartage industry in Greater Vancouver.

About 2,400 Teamster union members are involved, 200 of them in five Victoria and one Nanaimo companies, but the shutdown was not expected to spread to Vancouver Island unless it became prolonged.

Ed Lawson, president of the Teamsters Council here, said all major issues had been settled except wages and fringe benefits.

The dispute over job security and wages came to a head Monday night when 19 companies locked out 1,400 truckers, swampers and warehousemen.

The union followed Tuesday with strikes at 16 other companies employing about 600 men.

Fluoridation Backed By School Trustees

Greater Victoria school board has come out in favor of fluoridation.

The board was almost unanimous in supporting the Metropolitan Health Board's stand, said Trustee Dr. C. B. Jameson.

"As a dentist, I am full-heartedly in support of fluoridation.

"I have been administering it to my own family for the past 14 years and have seen the beneficial results at close range," he said.

The Chamber of Commerce will struggle to maintain tourist activities, despite a smaller-than-wished-for city council grant.

Budget slashes by council have threatened activities such as pipers and flower girls meeting tourists at the ferries.

The chamber asked for $3,500 grant and got $2,500.

"We will just have to strive to continue as long as possible," chamber president David Lawson said Wednesday.

Party Lines Got Crossed

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) — Even the candidates crossed party lines when the Conservative and Labor by-election committee rooms were given the same telephone number last week.

Post office officials have now ensured the opposing groups aren't speaking to each other any more.

'Ottawa Action Needed Now'

1,000 Farmers 'March' To Ask Higher Prices

OTTAWA (CP) — More than 1,000 farmers made a mass plea Wednesday for federal measures to increase farm income and threatened more demonstrations if no action is taken.

Roy Atkinson, president of the National Farmers Union, told the farmers in the ballroom of the Chateau Laurier Hotel federal action is needed now.

If it is not forthcoming, he said, the gathering could be the prelude to more demonstrations to focus attention on the problem of the people on the land.

STANDING OVATION

He sat down to a standing ovation. The "march on Ottawa" was organized by the Ontario Farmers Union, which submitted a brief to the federal government seeking a "comprehensive farm price policy that will enable the survival of the family farm structure in Canada."

It said prices for farm products and farm income have fallen behind rising costs of farm operations.

Agriculture Minister Harry Hays, in a rapid-fire speech, said the cost-price claim is generally correct, although prices in some sectors are better than others.

PLANS REMEDY

In any event the government recognizes the problem "and certain actions which have been taken, such as the new dairy program, indicate its intention to do something about it."

The farm brief also suggested improved support prices and better deficiency payments through the Agricultural Stabilization Act. Moreover the agricultural stabilization board should be empowered to act as commodity marketing authority until legislation permitting national marketing boards is on the books.

COFFEE CROP FALLS

Brazil's coffee crop for the 1964-65 season is about 52,000,000 bags, down from the previous year's 68,100,000.

Future is uncertain for Metchosin Hall

* * * * * *

26 Years Old

Rickety Metchosin Hall Needs Crew of Workmen

By TONY DILLON-DAVIS

Nobody will tear down Metchosin Hall, despite rumors to the contrary.

For one thing, the community could not afford to build a new one, according to John Page, 4276 Metchosin Road, a former chairman of the hall committee.

He said the original deed to the property sets out the way the hall is to be run.

The hall is, or was, managed by three trustees, and a committee of seven.

LIFETIME JOBS

The committee is elected at a public meeting every September, but the trustees serve in their posts for their lives, bequeathing the office to someone else in their wills.

However, one of the trustees died without leaving his office to anyone else, and the other two live outside the district.

In addition, Mr. Page went on, the committee "sort of fell apart, it sort of evaporated."

HEARD NO MORE

At any rate, its voice is heard no more, Mr. Page said.

The 1939-built hall has dry rot in several parts of the building, and the roof is in need of repair.

The future of the hall is uncertain.

Mr. Page said a committee recently examined the hall, and as a result of its findings, balloted a public meeting on the future of the hall.

The meeting was asked whether the hall should be torn down and a new one raised, or whether the hall should be repaired, or just be torn down.

Overwhelming support went to repairing the hall.

The hall must be repaired by volunteer workers, Mr. Page said, because in the course of its investigations, the committee found no contractor would take the job.

But there things stand. Mr. Page said that nothing has been done since the public meeting, and there is no indication when anything will be done, because of the apparent decline of the hall committee.

Gale Kills Three

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — The minaret of a mosque in Eskisehir collapsed during a severe gale and rainstorm Tuesday, killing three persons and injuring six. The victims were in small shops crushed by the falling tower.

Car Maker Sued In Fatality

VANCOUVER (CP) — An Okanagan rancher claims negligence in the manufacture of his car resulted in a fatal crash.

Curtis Joseph Bennett of West Summerland has brought suit before the B.C. Supreme Court seeking general and special damages of more than $18,000 against Chrysler (Canada) Ltd.

Mr. Bennett's wife and daughter were killed in the crash June 26, 1963.

Mr. Bennett claims that faulty manufacture of the car allowed a rock to lodge between the ends of the centre link and tie rods, jamming the steering mechanism as the car rounded a curve on Highway 97 between Kelowna and West Summerland.

Mrs. Katheran Bennett was driving the car. Her daughter, Sandra, was also killed and another daughter, Diane, also a plaintiff in the action, was injured.

Mr. Bennett, through his attorney, contended Mrs. Bennett was unable to straighten the car, which left the road and crashed into a rock bluff.

Mr. Justice G. F. Gregory is hearing the suit.

And smiled.

John Montrose, like many a Middlesex man, is normally cool and reserved.

Mr. Montrose is one of scores of Englishmen who are participating in Operation Gold Keg. (We're testing Gold Keg in the pubs of England, to see if it's as good as we think it is.)

Results have been astonishingly favourable.

Englishmen like Gold Keg's clarity and colour. They're especially keen on its mellow, hoppy flavour—because English beers have mellow, hoppy flavour too.

When a man like John Montrose says, "Very good indeed" this is high praise in England.

Because who in the world knows more about beer than an Englishman?

Youth Stole Car Drove to Duncan

A young man stole a car from downtown Victoria and drove it to Duncan after being threatened by another youth with a broken bottle, city magistrate's court was told Wednesday.

In Duncan, Lorne Edwin Martin, HMCS Stettler, was picked up by RCMP, who turned him over to Victoria police.

Martin pleaded guilty Wednesday to car theft.

Det. Lyle Somers of city police testified Martin had said in a statement he took the car on the evening of April 15, shortly after he had been dancing at Uncle Jake's Discotheque.

He had left Uncle Jake's to make a phone call, Martin's statement said. When he came out of the booth there was an angry youth waiting for him.

The youth demanded to know why his girl friend and Martin had been dancing together. Martin agreed to go with him into an alley.

But when they got there the youth pulled out an empty beer bottle and smashed it, causing Martin to take to his heels.

Martin hid in a car in a nearby parking lot. When he saw that a group of youths were looking for him, he started the car and drove off, he said.

He was remanded until May 6 for sentence.

A driver who pleaded guilty at an earlier hearing to impaired driving and leaving the scene of an accident received a jail term on each charge.

Sarwan Singh Bains, 924 Market, drove off following a two-car collision March 10 at Blanshard and North Park.

He was apprehended three blocks away by a private citizen who had driven in pursuit. A subsequent breathalyzer test showed Bains had a blood alcohol content of .21 per cent.

A few hours before the accident he had pleaded guilty in Colwood court to impaired driving. His licence was restricted by the Colwood magistrate to business use only.

Magistrate William Ostler said Wednesday Bains's conduct following his Colwood court conviction had been wilfully disobedient.

He sentenced him to one month's imprisonment for impairment and 10 days, non-concurrent, for leaving the scene.

A $350 fine was imposed on Curtis Purdy, 89 Sims, convicted at an earlier hearing in Saanich court of impaired driving.

Purdy had pleaded not guilty to the charge, laid after he drove into a fence on Regina last Sept. 19.

His licence was restricted to business use only for four months.

New Soviet Coin Marks War End

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced Tuesday the issue of a new one-ruble coin commemorating the 20th anniversary of the Second World War's end. The coin bears the image of a Soviet soldier holding a sword with one hand and a little girl with his other.

Marigold Rewarding

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One flower which is climbing rapidly in horticulture's "top 20" popularity poll is the marigold. One reason for this renewed interest is undoubtedly the fact that here is one of the very few plants that keeps on blooming all summer long, for so many of our finest flowers — the peonies, for instance — are in and out of bloom in a matter of a couple of weeks.

Not only is it long in bloom and easy to grow, but the marigold has a most interesting history. Originally a native of central and tropical America, the first white man to see it in bloom was probably Cortez, who found it growing in the gardens of Aztec temples during his expedition to Mexico in the year 1519. When he returned to Spain, Cortez took with him seeds of the marigold, and it wasn't long before these brilliant flowers were established and growing happily in gardens throughout Europe and North Africa.

* * *

As a temple flower, the marigold had a certain religious significance among the Aztecs, and strangely enough, it became a religious symbol again in its adopted Europe. Dedicated to the Mother of Christ, it became the favorite flower to place on altars and shrines of the Virgin Mary. This is how it acquired the name "Mary's Gold," now slurred to Marigold.

Another reason for the increasing popularity of marigolds is the increasing ease in growing them. In the past, marigolds have not been the easiest flowers in the world to raise; for one thing, the older kinds took such a very long time before they began to bloom. This meant sowing the seeds indoors or under glass as early as February in order to have flowers in the garden by midsummer.

* * *

The first break in the development of "easy" marigolds came several years ago when the Petite class was bred. These were much earlier, and for the first time it became possible to delay sowing until April and simply stick the seeds in the ground outdoors, like so many radishes. Trouble was, the Petite marigolds were no good as cut flowers, for the blooms were small and the plants dwarf and compact — fine for edging and for window boxes but too short-stemmed for use in vases and bowls for altar decoration.

At this point the problem was to combine in some way the earliness and ease of culture of the tiny Petite class with the big flowers, long stems and imposing plants of the Climax, Crackerjack and Mammoth Mum types. Such a combination isn't easy to achieve.

You may remember the story of the famous dancer, Isadora Duncan, who shocked society back in the early years of the century by proposing to George Bernard Shaw that they should collaborate in having a child — a child who would inherit her beauty and grace, and Shaw's brains. Shaw declined the honor, pointing out the appalling danger that the proposed child might inherit Shaw's features and Miss Duncan's brains!

Much the same thing happened in the first attempts to breed a foolproof marigold. Instead of combining Crackerjack's size with Petite's earliness, the firstborn of this mating had Crackerjack's late season of bloom and Petite's dwarf habit of growth.

* * *

Eventually, several hybridizers came up with highly satisfactory tall marigolds — Super King from California, Summer Sunshine from Australia and the gorgeous Pfitzer hybrids from Germany are good examples, making plants two and a half feet tall with big, double flowers as much as five inches across, in shades of cream, yellow, orange and gold.

From seeds sown in April, the plants should be covered in bloom by the end of June and will continue to produce flowers right through until fall. Like sweet peas, the more you pick 'em, the better they bloom.

The Little World of SHEILAH GRAHAM

Hollywood Helps Its Own

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Gregory Peck has undertaken the gigantic task of helping to raise $40,000,000 for the Motion Picture Relief Fund. The money, to be extracted from top industry figures, will be used to enlarge the facilities of the Motion Picture Country House and Hospital. The latter, sadly enough, is usually 98 per cent full. You'd be surprised at some of the big stars who have fallen on hard times and use the fund.

* * *

Frank Sinatra was smart to insist on owning the copyright to that story about himself in that national magazine. When Elizabeth Taylor told her story to the same magazine, she overlooked this important trifle that may earn Frank an extra $100,000. Liz was furious when her self-revealing article was sold all over the world.

* * *

Bad timing department: The announcement that Sophia Loren would star in the life of the Catholic Saint, Mother Cabrini, the day after the Italian courts announced she was being sued for bigamy with Carlo Ponti.

* * *

I wonder why Lana Turner is suddenly so worried about her career. In discussing her role as Madame X, she told me, "This is the most challenging role of my life." If she had said it was the weepiest, I could understand. Producer Ross Hunter described it as the sobbingest picture he's ever made. Anyone who remembers the original with Ruth Chatterton will agree.

The height of chicness. Joseph Cotten had Pat Medina's Rolls shipped to the Kanab, Utah location of his new picture, Brighty, just so she would be comfortable. People predicted Joe's film career would suffer when he did those headache TV commercials, but they couldn't have been more wrong. Brighty is his fourth picture in less than a year, and he's signed to star in The Tramplers as soon as it's finished.

* * *

Edie Adams asked me if I knew anyone who wanted 38 slightly used wigs. Edie wore them in her nightclub impressions of such names as Marlene Dietrich, the late Marilyn Monroe and Lady Bird Johnson, but found her impressions go over better with her own hair, which is how she'll be seen at the Latin Quarter. Don't get Edie wrong, though. She's not giving the wigs away, but selling them.

* * *

Carol Burnett is happiest when she's giving. She's giving husband Joe Hamilton another baby, which will bring his total to 10. She's also giving singer John Davidson, who appeared with her on her Entertainers TV series, a big part in her second picture, The Tattle Tale.

* * *

It is the custom to film two versions of bedroom scenes, one for America and one for Europe. However, the bedroom scene between Harve Presnell and Senta Berger in The Glory Guys turned out too torrid even for Europeans and has been snipped from the picture.

World Pear-Shaped?

By STAN DELAPLANE

The world is changing shape these days. (But aren't we all?) Science has figured out that the world is now pear-shaped. Not round like you and I learned in third grade.

Nobody has really proved the world looks like a pear. But important scientists say so. And we take their word for it.

Not everybody. The International Flat Earth Research Society says flatly that the earth is more like a pancake.

A long time ago, Galileo came out in favor of a round and moving world.

People in those good old days did not take such statements without question.

They put Galileo on a rack and stretched him a mite.

They asked: "What say now, Galileo?"

Since he was getting an inch taller by the minute — a most painful way to grow — Galileo recanted. Backed off and said the world was flat and stood still.

You ask what about space flights?

The Flat Earth Research Society has an answer: "Such astronauts land back on a horizontal piece of earth after circuiting what might be described as a sort of saucer."

A mailman once told me: "No matter what the books say, everything in the world is uphill."

This is the mailman's perspective of life.

The Flat Earth Research Society does not care what the astronauts do. Nor what they think.

If astronauts want to go round and round the saucer and think they are going round the world, OK.

The Society just puts out bulletins on what REALLY happened. They are content to wait until people wake up. See how foolish they have been.

In later years—about the year I was in third grade—the world was rounded off by science.

I was taught that the world looked something like an orange.

Now we find it is not like an orange. It is like a pear. It bulges around the equator. But don't we all?

Dr. STUART ROSENBERG Says:

Too Many Tuned In To 'Own' Channels

"Togetherness" has become so well-worked a word that some people have even copyrighted it for commercial purposes.

But togetherness has lost some of its primary significance in our over-frenetic, highly commercialized society.

In our storm-tossed lives, the lines of communications have fallen down. As a result, we often believe that we are doing things together, when, in fact, we share very little of ourselves with others. Even when we gather in groups, we remain no more than what has aptly been styled, "a lonely crowd."

* * *

One difficulty, of course, is that too few of us are prepared to listen; we're only anxious to be heard. And when we can get no one to listen to us, we go our own ways, down the lonely road which leads back to ourselves. We're tuned in only to our "own" channels.

But the man who can't listen turns out to be the one who won't be heard. For communication to be effective must primarily be inter-communication; if it is not, it becomes a deadly and monotonous monologue. We end up uttering and sputtering — to ourselves.

Real "togetherness" is as much a spiritual as it is a physical phenomenon. It is quite possible to enjoy togetherness even though we are physically remote from one another. He who can fully experience the glory of ideas, brilliantly set forth by authors who have long ago passed on, surely enjoys the spirit of a communion which transcends time and space. This is so because he has learned how to share himself with others—he has put himself into their picture.

But the man who unimaginatively sits at home engrossed in his newspaper, nose stuck to the newsprint, may be sitting with his family, and yet not really be together with them. One must first "feel-at-home," before he can really "be at home."

* * *

And this feeling is the product of a shared life, a life prepared to "listen in" to channels not its own. Always, when we give something of ourselves, there is more of us left to give. Extending ourselves for others, we can never expend ourselves.

But the man who is with others, yet not of others can never be for others; he is left bereft, he lives only with his lonely lonesomeness. He is never together, even when he thinks he is. For without a feeling of one-ess there can be no feeling of togetherness.

Honor Performance Sees First Awards

By BERT BINNY

The first of four honor performances in the 1965 Music Festival took place Wednesday night when 16 items, selected from the Speech Arts classes by adjudicator Dorothy Davies, were presented at Oak Bay Junior High.

Six of the performers were in competition for the Audrey Johnson award: $25 for a competitor under 21 who shows great promise or attains a high standard in this particular art.

The winner was Susan Belford, who competed in the under-14 classes.

The higest mark of the festival so far was scored Wednesday afternoon when Jim Furmston received 97 per cent for vocal sight reading in the 14 and 15-year-old division.

In the Oratorio finals for female voices, Betty Moyls edged out Marion Matcham by a single point in 200: 171 to 170.

The Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Award for the highest mark in the Bach classes was won by young Wendy Stofer who scored 90 in the junior division. Her competitors were Peter Bishop and Stephen and Stuart Calder.

Donald James achieved an excellent 87 in the Open Bach class.

The Vera Barclay and Gladys Pearcey Junior Studio choirs were commended by adjudicator Philip Hattey as "choirs of which Victoria can be proud." They were, he said "extremely pleasing, striking a very high note with their polished singing."

A young lady named Wendy came bombing back into the piano division of the Music Festival Wednesday morning.

Her full name is Wendy Stofer and her father is Reg Stofer, widely and well known for his popularity, skill and success onstage.

Wednesday, in the junior Bach piano class, Wendy was awarded a fat 90 points to go along with her 89 in the junior sonata on Tuesday. That 90 mark plants Miss Stofer in the position of top contender for the Beta Sigma Phi award designated for the highest mark in all the Bach classes and finally decided in a championship competition.

RUNNER-UP

Runner-up to Wendy was another consistent winner and, indeed, a champion from Tuesday evening. This was Nancy Meredith, pianist and singer, who had an 88.

Highest mark in the senior Bach division was 84, obtained by Stuart Calder who also won a piano championship (Classes 113 to 118) on Tuesday night.

Another Calder — Stephen this time — won the elementary Bach class over 36 other contenders. Billy Milne was only a single point behind.

BOYS DO WELL

Two other 90's came Wednesday morning but in the Speech Arts division. One was gained by Ross Berringer in the under-12 Canadian poetry class and the other by Blake Carter, also in the under-12 class, this time for the Bible. Blake also secured an 88 in the class for Prose.

As a matter of fact there's no arguing the fact that the boys are doing right by themselves all over.

In Wednesday morning's vocal classes, for example, they received high commendation from adjudicator Philip Hattey, particularly in connection with their solo class, 12 or 13 years. This was won by Bill Dyson with an 86 followed by Russel Sturgeon with 83.

FAMILY HABIT

Bill scored another victory in his Folk Song class. His 85 was one point better than that awarded to Hilary Groos and Hilary Scott. Incidentally, maintaining the Groos family habit of always being in the top three, sister Laura was second and sister Madeleine tied third in quick study.

Mae McLellan, who won an award for her first place in the girls' sacred solo class on Tuesday afternoon, came back Wednesday morning to polish off the girl's solo class, 12 or 13 years. Her score was 83 compared with an 85 the previous day.

MORE LAURELS

Yet another consistently strong performer, young Miss Dena Noble, added to her laurels by winning her vocal quick study class.

The afternoon classes were a little less crowded, the largest being the elementary piano duet class with nine entries. This was won by the team of Caroline and Alison Henry while the winning intermediate duettists were Rosemary and Bruce Fryer.

The intermediate Bach class was taken by Peter Bishop with 86 points, thus leaving Wendy Stofer still in the lead. Peter's runner-up was Gordon Dash, just one point behind.

SLIGHT EDGE

In the afternoon vocal classes an interesting group of Folk Songs — Grade B — was won by Frieda Waelti who performed a Swiss song in French.

Jill Paver won the class for a sacred solo; high voice, 16 to 18. Her mark of 86 topped that of Norma Elwell, who came second, by two points, and gives Miss Paver a slight edge in marks over Miss Elwell in competition for a Musical Art Society Bursary.

The Speech Arts division wound up its activities Wednesday night after three days and eight sessions of competition.

HIGH STANDARD

Commenting on the various performances adjudicator Miss Dorothy Davies of Vancouver said:

"In the speech section the standard ranks with the top work in Canada anywhere I've been able to attend."

Miss Davies regretted the lack of entries in such classes as that for impromptu speaking or speaking on a subject selected by the adjudicator.

NO ENTRIES

She noted that there were no entries in dramatic classes for boys under 15 and boys under 18, no adult drama and no speech choirs from Grade 8 up.

In consequence, the level of drama in scenes or duologues was not as high as that attained in individual speech.

"This is a part of the speech arts division that could stand to be built up," said Miss Davies. "The program provides all the opportunity but performers are not taking advantage of this opportunity."

Miss Davies definitely felt that, with more dramatic presentations and competition, audiences would increase and interest would be enhanced.

Piano accordion classes, adjudicated by Mr. Edgar Schuss, open today at the Assembly Hall of First United Church while piano and vocal classes continue at St. John's Memorial Hall and Fellowship Hall respectively.

8 CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to thank the staff of Third West at Royal Jubilee Hospital, Dr. Jack B. Anderson, Dr. Arthur J. Macgregor, Dr. John E. Harvey and Dr. Peter Banks for their kind attention to our late husband and father Reg Wood. We wish also to thank Very Rev. Dr. McLean, the officers and members of the Victoria Boys Band, our many friends, and Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. for their many kindnesses to us.—Mrs. Muriel Wood and Family.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to relatives, friends and neighbors for expressions of sympathy, respect, kindness and consideration shown to us in our recent bereavement, the loss of our loved one, Herbert R. Bell; to Rev. J. M. Alexander, Dr. J. D. Critchley, staff of Victoria Veterans' Hospital, staff of Richmond Heights Private Hospital, Ruth Chapter No. 22 O.E.S., and Sands Memorial Chapel of Chimes. —Miss Margaret M. Bell, Wm. H. and Kitty Bell and Jeanie B. Barr.

We sincerely wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our many friends, relatives and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy in our loss of a loving husband and father, to the doctors, nurses and staff of the Veterans' Hospital who cared for him during his long illness, to Padre Kendell, to the A.N. & A.F. No. 12, and to McCall Bros. Funeral Chapel. —Mrs. Clara Magee and sons William and Frederick.

The gratitude in our hearts can never be fully expressed, but we want our friends, relatives and neighbors to know how much their kind words and expressions of sympathy have meant to us during our recent time of sorrow in the sad loss of our husband and father, George Wells. —Mrs. Lillian Wells and daughter Shirley.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our friends, relatives, and those who were unable to attend our golden wedding anniversary for the lovely gifts, flowers and cards of congratulations. Sincerely—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Dibnah.

9 IN MEMORIAM

HOWARD — In memory of Norman Howard, who passed away April 29, 1962.

There is no parting from those we love,
No distance can divide,
For today in memory's garden,
We still walk side by side.

—Ever remembered by his loving wife and family.

14 ANNOUNCEMENTS

Opening for the Season
Friday, May 14

SHAWNIGAN BEACH HOTEL
Shawnigan Lake

Make plans to get away from sea level for a while.
Come up to the well-known change of air at Shawnigan — warmer — softer.
Good, too, for tensions — good for nerves — or just if you are a bit run down.
Try a day or two, or stay longer. You will notice the difference and feel great.
A very comfortable family hotel with a beautiful setting in 30 acres of grounds. Owned and operated for many years by the Hurleys.
Peaceful surroundings. Plenty to do if you want to, or just sit.
Home of "The Fire That is Never Out." Fine library, bridge, "socializing," pitch and putt golf, tennis, boats, fishing, woodland walks and many other things.
PRICES AND INFORMATION? Just phone collect, 743-9303 or 743-2312. Write Denis Mason Hurley, P.O. Box 9, Shawnigan Lake.

WESTERN
SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln-dried siding is the finest available — a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

With its "grow-in" workability, weather resistance and lasting good looks "Keystone" clear Western Red Cedar Siding has long been recognized as the standard of quality home construction.

It has a distinctive "shadow line" which enhances any architectural style in any setting, and is used to create a variety of interesting decorative effects on indoor surfaces as well as exterior.

DURABILITY

Western Red Cedar is one of the most durable species known. Its heartwood is highly resistant to decay and can be counted on for long and worthy service when conditions favoring decay prevail.

TV TALK

By BRUCE LOWTHER

Unlike the CBC, the U.S. Federal Communications Commission has faced the inevitable and discarded its ruling that television stations should have local live programs during evening hours. Voting 4-2 to renew the licences of 11 stations without such programs, the FCC said flatly that "most local live programs ought to be dead."

* * *

"SHINDIG! HULLABALOO!"

TV NOTES: Madison Avenue doesn't care if 30 southern U.S. stations won't carry the NBC series I Spy next fall because it has a Negro in a leading role. I Spy is a complete sell-out in advertising . . . the programs Let's Sing Out, College Bowl, Wild Kingdom and America have been renewed for next season . . . NBC has stolen Shell's golf show from ABC for next season.

The highly-successful Hanna-Barbera cartoon factory has sold two new ones, Atom Ant and Secret Squirrel, to NBC for Saturday mornings next season . . . Channel 12 will shortly start the new cartoon series Sinbad, Jr. . . . H. Allen Smith is turning his hilarious book Rhubarb into a TV series. Rhubarb's a baseball nut—and a cat.

Thursday's Highlights

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

There are some playing situations where skilful technique can act like a truth drug, compelling defenders to give away the secret of their holdings. Take the diamond layout on this deal: after playing the king from his hand, it looks as though South is faced with a blind guess as to East's holding, but South handled his cards so that West was forced to give his hand away.

Vul: Both

NORTH
♠ 8 3 2
♡ 9 7
◇ A 10 5 3 2
♣ J 10 4

WEST
♠ K 9 7 4
♡ Q J 6 3
◇ 8 6 4
♣ 8 5

EAST
♠ Q 6
♡ K 8 5 4 2
◇ Q J
♣ 9 7 6 3

SOUTH (D)
♠ A J 10 5
♡ A 10
◇ K 9 7
♣ A K Q 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	1◇	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 N.T.	All Pass

Opening lead: Heart three

South was one of the many players who use the Big Club without the rest of the Schenken system. In this style, the one club opening covers most hands which contain 17 points or more (including distribution) and which are not strong enough for a two-bid. On balanced hands too strong for a one no trump opening, the rebid after opening the Big Club is one no trump—19-20—or two no trump—21-22; this ties in nicely with the structure of standard bidding, since hands above this strength can be opened with either two no trump or a game-forcing two-bid.

South's two no trump rebid revealed 21 or 22 points, and North's raise to three was automatic. Unfortunately, West found the only lead to trouble declarer—a heart—and a lucky diamond position was needed. If you were declarer what would you do after you have led the diamond king and East has dropped the jack?

It is a cold fact that in this type position the odds usually favor a finesse of dummy's ten on the second round. The reason is that East is more likely to have a lone honor than two stiff honors. But although South was a knowledgeable player, he did not follow that rule—instead, he banged down the nine from his hand and put on the ace when West played low. East's queen came clattering down and declarer wrapped up a total of 11 tricks instead of the eight he would have made had he followed the "regulation" play.

South's opponents were inclined to belittle this as a lucky guess until he explained his reasoning. Since he had won the first heart lead and immediately attacked diamonds, West would have been almost certain to cover the nine with the queen on the second round had he held Q-8-6-4 originally; since by so doing he would be certain of winning a diamond trick, whereas by refusing to cover the nine he might allow declarer to take all the tricks in the suit.

BEST VALUE IN NORTH OAK BAY

Located in SWANSEA PLACE, a cul-de-sac off Cardiff Place, this almost new 3-bedroom tri-level home is in an area of better homes close to schools and university. The combination of ranch plank, cedar shake roof, stucco and used brick makes a pleasing exterior. Inside you will be amazed at the spaciousness provided by the high ceilings, post and beam in living room and dining room. The kitchen is most attractive with walnut finished cabinets, light coloured vinyl floor and counters, ample eating area, built-in Tappan Range, connection for dishwasher. The back door opens onto secluded sundeck. Bedroom level, five steps up, has two full bathrooms, three bedrooms, two linen closets. Lower level includes family room, 2-pce bathroom, roughed-in fourth bedroom and remainder basement. Double carport has storage space for mower, etc. REDUCED PRICE OF $29,000. View by appointment only with WILF DAVIS, EV 2-4255 or res. 658-5276.

THE LAZY CREEK THAT EBBS AND FLOWS

For several hundred feet along this property is tidal water that can take you to the far ends of the world. Along the other side of the land is nearly three hundred feet of road frontage presenting interesting possibilities for subdividing. There is 1.67 acres of good fertile soil approximately one acre of which is cleared and under cultivation. An older type 3-bedroom now on the property may not be your ultimate dream home but it is a sound comfortable home with part basement and oil package heating. Plumbed for washer too. When one considers that this interesting property is situated within the 3-mile circle it is a good bet that it will be SOLD TODAY. $1,500 cash handles.

HERE IS ANOTHER

Of the UNUSUAL properties which Don Bacon seems to have the knack of finding. Truly a property with CHARACTER, close in near the Selkirk Water. THREE-QUARTERS OF AN ACRE of parklike grounds. Extensive lawns, towering shade trees and fruit trees. The seven-room well-kept residence built around the turn of the century is a part of our early history. What a pity some day it will have to yield to the relentless pressure of demand for serviced land.

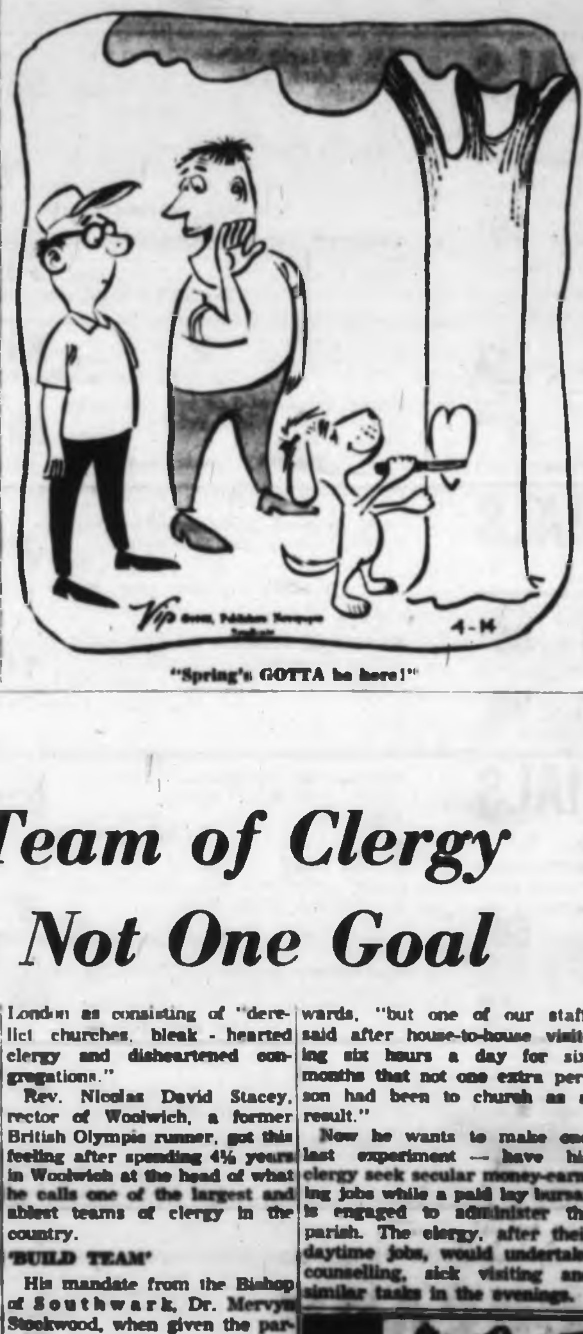
BIG GEORGE By Virgil Partch



"Spring's GOTTA be here!"

How to Judge?

Able Team of Clergy Gains Not One Goal

By GODFREY ANDERSON

LONDON (AP)—Is the success of a clergyman best judged by the number of people he gets to come to church, or should there be other criteria?

This question is being asked throughout the Church of England after a respected rector in one of South London's biggest industrial parishes publicly confessed that he felt his mission a failure. He pictured South London as consisting of "derelict churches, bleak - hearted clergy and disheartened congregations."

Rev. Nicolas David Stacey, rector of Woolwich, a former British Olympic runner, got this feeling after spending 4½ years in Woolwich at the head of what he calls one of the largest and ablest teams of clergy in the country.

'BUILD TEAM'

His mandate from the Bishop of Southwark, Dr. Mervyn Stockwood, when given the parish was:

"Build up a team of clergy and for God's sake do anything to show the people of Woolwich that the church exists."

Describing his experiences in the Sunday newspaper The Observer, Stacey wrote:

"We have had a remarkable opportunity of making a breakthrough in getting people to come to church. We have done everything we set out to do. But we have achieved virtually not one of the modest things we hoped for. . . .

TRIED EVERYTHING

"We have been brazen as a Dean Street (London's tin pan alley) agent—in the early days I pulled a beauty queen on a vegetable barrow through the main shopping street.

"We have raised a fortune and spent it. We have quite obviously failed."

He says that bingo in the church hall has done more than anything else to create a community spirit. But the layman who runs the bingo sessions, though a member of the parochial council, does not himself go to church.

COFFEE HOUSE

Stacey sealed off parts of his vast Georgian church to make a coffee house and lounge. He persuaded Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, to come down and open the coffee bar.

For weeks one of the roughest gangs of Rockers (leather-coated motorcycle - riding toughs) made the church coffee bar its headquarters.

Church attendance figures on Sunday showed no change.

Then Stacey tried a massive house - to - house visiting campaign.

"We never had a door shut in our face," he reported afterwards, "but one of our staff said after house-to-house visiting six hours a day for six months that not one extra person had been to church as a result."

Now he wants to make one last experiment — have his clergy seek secular money-earning jobs while a paid lay bursar is engaged to administer the parish. The clergy, after their daytime jobs, would undertake counselling, sick visiting and similar tasks in the evenings.

Sister Cities Across Pacific

VANCOUVER (UPI) — Yokohama, Japan, has been adopted as Vancouver's sister city.

A proposal, approved unanimously by the Vancouver city council was endorsed by the mayor of the Japanese city.

Yokohama is also a sister city to San Diego, Calif., and Lille, France.

The United Nations encourages the adoption of sister cities by cities of different regions, as a means of working toward better understanding.

The death of one George Johnson was reported in Barkerville May 26, 1865, from a disease diagnosed by Dr. Brown as "gumboot gout."

'Normal' Births Going Down

By PATRICK O'NEILL

Fourth of a Series

If you looked at a graph showing the path of "normal" births and the path of "out-of-wedlock" births, you would see one line going down, another going up.

"This is a fact most people don't realize when they hear statistics on the increase in out-of-wedlock births," commented Gordon Wright, director of Greater Victoria Family and Children's Services.

"They assume the normal birthrate is rising, with the out-of-wedlock birthrate.

Since 1960

"But since 1960, the normal birthrate in this province has been going steadily downward, while the number of illegitimate babies increases."

In Greater Victoria, illegitimate births have doubled since 1951, far out of proportion to the increase in population.

From 1960 to 1964, the normal birthrate in this province dropped from 40,110 to 36,344. In the same period, out-of-wedlock births jumped from 2,673 to 3,344.

Before Marriage

Illegitimacy is by no means the only indication of promiscuity: Mr. Wright said "many ministers in Victoria tell me a large number of couples who come to them to get married are expecting a baby."

"This contributes to many marital problems," he commented.

"There used to be no difficulty at all in placing an illegitimate baby in an adoptive home. We were doing the adopting parents a favor," said Mr. Wright.

"Those days are long gone. The waiting list has vanished. We don't know what to do to meet the demand for homes."

Dominica

Rebel Resurgence Spurs Washington To Intervene for Citizens' Evacuation

JOHNSON SENDS MARINES

Bosch

(From Reuters - AP)

SANTO DOMINGO—A resurgence of strength among rebels seeking to restore ousted President Juan Bosch to power in the Dominican Republic gave them control of the centre of this capital city late Wednesday and brought U.S. marines ashore to evacuate American citizens.

In Washington, President Johnson made a quickly-arranged radio-television appearance to announce that 400 U.S. marines had gone ashore without incident.

The U.S. president made another urgent appeal for a cease-fire in the fighting which began Sunday. He said he ordered the marines to land after being informed "by military authorities in the Dominican Republic that American lives are in danger."

Earlier in the evening, a U.S. Embassy spokesman here reported the upswing in rebel strength. He discounted reports that the Bosch forces had seized control of the city from troops loyal to President Donald Reid Cabral and said that as far as he knew no fighting was going on at the moment.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

But hospitals were crowded with wounded and at least 30 persons had been reported killed, the spokesman said.

Elements of the army were among the rebels who were seeking to overthrow the military junta which succeeded Bosch when he was ousted in 1963. Cabral has been head of the junta.

1,100 EVACUATED

Some 2,300 Americans and their dependents were still in the Dominican Republic. A U.S. naval task force evacuated about 1,100 Americans Tuesday and took them to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Johnson summoned congressional leaders to the White House in Washington for an emergency briefing on the developments before going on the air.

In his broadcast, Johnson

Behind Battered Levees

Sandbags and Prayer

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—The crest of the most disastrous Mississippi River flood in history pounded Wednesday at weakened levees protecting four cities in Illinois and Iowa from further inundation.

Farther south, the surging river continued to rise to record heights, bursting dikes and spreading fresh havoc to farm, industrial and residential areas on both sides of the stream.

Behind the dikes Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa, residents prayed that sodden emergency sandbag barriers would hold back the wall of water.

SEVERAL DAYS

The Rock Island army engineer district said the swollen Mississippi crested early Wednesday at Rock Island at 22.4 feet, more than seven feet above flood stage. This was one tenth of a foot lower than the predicted crest of 22.5 feet forecast earlier.

Flood officials said the crest in the four-city area would hold for several days at the 22.4-foot level and warned against any relaxing of protective measures against the river.

REACHES CREST

Large areas of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Davenport and Bettendorf, Iowa already were flooded as the river reached its crest there.

North and south of the quad-city area, the river continued its annual rampage against communities along its path from Dubuque, Iowa, to Hannibal, Mo.

10,000 EVACUATED

Estimates of the number of persons evacuated in Illinois and Iowa thus far as a result of flooding ranged up to 10,000

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba announced Wednesday a "limited state of emergency" declared April 25 has been lifted because of improved conditions along the Red River Valley.

Steel Pact Extended

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union Wednesday formally approved a four-month contract extension with the basic steel industry.

Official announcement of the historic action came after a minority was allowed to read its objections into the record.

The extension was approved by an overwhelming voice vote of the union's 163-member wage policy committee.

Two-Hour Ordeal

Boy Trapped In Saanich Gravel Pit

By AL ARNASON

A shivering 13-year-old Saanich boy was pulled to safety Wednesday night more than two hours after being trapped by sliding pea-gravel in a loading chute.

Tom Cole, 5939 Patricia Bay Highway, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital for examination of heavy bruises on his shins after his ordeal at the McIntyre and Harding gravel pit, 773 Cordova Bay Road.

Police were told Tom and a companion, 12-year-old Ronnie Graham, 5405 Fowler Road, had been playing in the 20-foot-deep chute at about 8 p.m.

HEAVY PEA GRAVEL

Treacherous and heavy pea gravel, which half-filled the chute, was dislodged by the boys' movements and dragged the Cole boy partly through the loading gate as it poured free.

The shifting gravel poured down the steep slope of the deep chute faster than sweating firemen and volunteers could hand-shovel it away from the trapped boy.

MACHINE NEEDED

The problem was solved when machine operator Earl Mycock, 5197 Old West Saanich Road, was called to the scene by police.

While rescuers hovered near the trapped boy, a backhoe operated by Mr. Mycock scooped several yards of gravel out of the chute to relieve the pressure on the boy's legs.

An hour later, about 10:30, he was freed.

Firemen were called by Mrs. Walter D. Graham, mother of the trapped boy's companion.

ROPE AROUND WAIST

The trained rescue workers tied a rope around the boy's waist and secured it above the chute to prevent his being dragged deeper into the shifting gravel.

"He's lucky he wasn't buried," said one rescue worker. "It was just like standing in a pile of ball bearings."

Airline Name Cost Fortune

OTTAWA (CP)—The cost of changing Trans-Canada Air Lines' name to Air Canada may wind up at almost $1,000,000, the Commons was told Wednesday by Jean-Charles Cantin, parliamentary secretary to Transport Minister Pickersgill.

Saigon Proposal

'Let's Invade North Now'

SAIGON (AP) — Brig.-Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, commander of South Viet Nam's air force, advocated Wednesday an immediate invasion of North Viet Nam by South Vietnamese land forces.

Meanwhile, U.S. Marines launched their biggest offensive of the war, fanning out over the jungles by foot and helicopter in search of Viet Cong forces.

Brig. Ky conditionally ruled out participation of U.S. troops in his invasion plan, but said:

"With some secret bases of our own up there the Viet Cong would quickly start wondering whether the war was worth it."

He questioned effectiveness of the air strikes against highways, railways and bridges in North Viet Nam, saying they were not choking off aid from Hanoi to the guerrillas.

Brig. Ky's proposal of a complementary land operation, most outspoken by a South Vietnamese leader in recent weeks, was believed to reflect the over-all official views of Premier Phan Huy Quat's government and the Saigon high command.

Size of the Marine force which struck out from Da Nang missile and air base was not known, but believed to involve several companies.

There were unconfirmed reports that more Leathernecks would soon join the 10,000 now stationed at Da Nang.

U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes continued their raids on the north, dropping both bombs and propaganda leaflets.

Formula 'Mummifies Rights'

John D Demands Constitution Parley

Diefenbaker

MONTREAL (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker Wednesday reiterated his warnings against the Fulton-Favreau formula for constitutional amendments and issued a new call for a "Canadian national constitutional conference."

"If the Fulton-Favreau formula goes through," said Mr. Diefenbaker, "the rights of Canadians for amendments in future will be embalmed in mummified form and the constitution will be put in a deep freeze."

STRAITJACKET

At a press conference later, Mr. Diefenbaker said the Fulton-Favreau formula would "straitjacket" Confederation.

The plan would not make the constitution a Canadian document—"it would not repatriate it."

STILL BRITISH

Instead, the formula, if accepted, would merely allow Canada to amend the constitution without the need to refer such plans to the British Parliament for approval.

He suggested that instead of the present formula the BNA Act should first be made a statute of the Parliament of Canada and then the question of amendment procedures and other necessary changes could be worked out by the projected national conference.

Diplomatically Speaking, Declarations Obsolete

When Does a War Become a War?

WASHINGTON (AP)—What is going on in Viet Nam is "armed aggression from the north" resisted by South Viet Nam and the United States.

This is the present legal status of the conflict from the standpoint of the Johnson administration, although U.S. officials do not deny that the fighting is real and can be called "war" from a non-legal standpoint.

"The fact that military hostilities have been taking place in Southeast Asia does not bring about the existence of a state of war, which is a legal characterization of a situation rather than a factual description," the state department says.

* * *

Formally, the power to declare war belongs to Congress under the U.S. constitution—and neither president nor Congress are showing signs of taking this step.

There are a variety of reasons given for not declaring war at this time, including:

- The conflict is tiny compared with the all-out hostilities envisioned in a formal declaration of war.
- A declaration of war implies full-scale national effort — mobilization, big military draft calls, massive weapons production, rationing, higher taxes. The Viet Nam operation is being run out of a tiny fraction of the U.S. government's regular peace-time budget.
- The avowed U.S. aim is to stop the Communist effort to take over South Viet Nam; it is not an attempt to overthrow the North Viet Nam regime.
- The Communist attack has been indirect and partially concealed, starting with guerrilla operations years ago; it was not sudden and open. The U.S. response has been gradual.
- The president does not want to bind his hands on diplomatic manoeuvring. The U.S. says it is looking for a peaceful settlement. It is contended the president would lose diplomatic elbow room if the U.S. declared war.
- Against whom would war be declared? The Communist Viet Cong rebels? The North Viet Nam regime, which Washington does not recognize; Russia and China, which so far have been involved in a relatively small way militarily? Or is the fighting primarily a civil war between two parts of one country — Viet Nam—and thus not legally a matter for a declaration of war by an outside power?

* * *

Some observers suggest that the day of formal declarations of war by the U.S. have passed because the Communists have turned to tactics of aggression through subversion. They foresee either a series of brushfire skirmishes in future years or a surprise atomic attack, which would be over before Congress could meet to declare war.

Why Can't We All Be Reasonable?

By ART BUCHWALD

The border dispute between Pakistan and India has the U.S. state department people worried silly, and every effort is being made, behind the scenes, to keep the two countries from going to war.

I haven't been privy to any of these discussions, but I can just imagine what is going on.

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is extremely worried about the Pakistani-Indian dispute and we urge you to refrain from doing anything rash that could lead to war."

"Mr. Secretary, my country cannot stand by and see aggression committed by an enemy that has sworn to annihilate us."

* * *

"Mr. Ambassador, the United States is well aware of the complex problems of the Pakistani-Indian dispute, but we are sure that both your countries should be able to negotiate your differences at the conference table."

"We refuse to negotiate until they get out of our territory."

But the other side says that you are in THEIR territory. Surely you must understand that, if both sides refuse to go to the conference table, the only alternative is an armed conflict."

"Then we are prepared to fight for our interests."

"But what kind of a world would we have if everybody felt that way? Where would the United Nations be?"

"We are behind the United Nations 100 per cent except where our own interests are concerned. I have incontrovertible evidence that the other side is planning to attack, and my country is issuing a white paper to that effect."

* * *

"Mr. Ambassador, it's obvious you don't realize the consequences of such a situation. If you send troops to the border, then the other side will send troops to the border. Then you will send tanks and the other side will send tanks, and pretty soon what is now a border dispute could turn into a full-size conflagration. Certainly you can see the dangers in such a situation."

"What choice do we have, Mr. Secretary?"

"You must find a peaceful solution. Nothing could be worth the risk of an all-our war."

"Mr. Secretary, my country is willing to discuss unconditional negotiations providing the other side ceases immediately its flagrant operations in the Rann of Cutch. But at this time we have nothing to negotiate."

"Mr. Ambassador, the other side insists it cannot sit at the table with you until you stop your actions in the Rann of Cutch. Don't you see the impasse we're in? Surely you are too close to the situation to understand what we're trying to do."

"Mr. Secretary, my country's whole future is at stake in this dispute. If we show any weakness, the other side will take advantage of it. Appeasement never got anyone anywhere."

"There's a difference between appeasement and common sense, Mr. Ambassador. If the United States took your attitude, we certainly would be in trouble now."

"I'm sorry, Mr. Secretary, but the only thing the United States could do to help us at this time is to give us some new jet fighter planes."

"What, and escalate the war?"

Quote!

In Viet Nam the advocates of the wrong policy are in charge and deeply committed to their error. When things go wrong, they redouble their efforts, which, inevitably, makes things twice as bad.—John Kenneth Galbraith.

BACKGROUND

China Delays A-Test

LST, from Hong Kong

Communist China deliberately postponed the explosion of its second nuclear device for political propaganda reasons and will time the test for psychological effect in the Viet Nam crisis.

This is the judgment of military and diplomatic sources here.

United States intelligence on Chinese nuclear development has been proven well-informed and specialists are convinced that the second test explosion could have been carried out six weeks ago. It will probably be a fusion device (hydrogen bomb).

* * *

Conflicting influences, it is believed, are bedevilling Peking's decision.

There is a strong desire to impress both the Communist bloc and neutralist Asian countries, but Peking is also aware of strong disapproval in neutralist and Afro-Asian states over China's rejection of a nuclear test ban.

The following conclusions and deductions have been cautiously accepted:

- China's gaseous diffusion plant, which produces weapons-grade uranium 235, and two reactors which now produce weapons-grade plutonium, could probably develop four or five atomic bombs a year, instead of two as previously estimated — especially if the reactors can use uranium.

* * *

- Medium-range, surface-to-surface nuclear missiles could be operable from the China coast within three to five years.
- Similar missile installations could be set up in South China aimed at Asian cities designated by Peking as unwilling U.S. bases, to deter possible U.S. attacks against China.
- The Chinese can convert a limited number of Soviet TU-4 planes to transport and deliver nuclear weapons with explosive potential of up to 20 kilotons.

UN Forums Chance for Militant Africans

Russia Prods Hotheads

By LOUIS FLEMING, from United Nations

Two assaults on policies of the United States and Britain in Africa are being mounted by militant African nations with the encouragement of the Soviet Union.

The first attack will be launched tomorrow in the security council when the perennial question of Southern Rhodesia will be debated at an explosive time in the history of that self-governing British colony. The meeting is timed just a week before national elections in the colony.

* * *

The second attack will be launched by the 24-nation colonialism committee during a travelling mission to Africa next month. The tour of the committee is expected to be a platform for Soviet efforts to consolidate influence with the Africans just before the crucial Afro-Asian conference in Algiers, at which Soviet influence will face a direct assault from Communist China.

Governments of 35 African states have joined in sponsoring the calling of the security council meeting on Southern Rhodesia. They see it as a defensive effort to block the possibility that the white-supremacy government of the colony might use a substantial victory in the May 7 election as justification for a unilateral declaration of independence.

* * *

There is a certain irony in the minds of many delegates that this alleged threat to international peace and security is being brought to the council at a time when the more conspicuous threats of Viet Nam and the Indo-Pakistani fighting has not been brought to the attention of the council.

Among western diplomats, there is also a fear that any free-swinging debate of the issue while the elections are being prepared will prejudice the position of the moderates and strengthen the chances of Prime Minister Ian Smith to gain the two-thirds majority of Parliament which he wants.

* * *

The debate poses a problem for the British.

Britain's Labor government has warned Rhodesians that extensive sanctions will be imposed should independence be declared before the black majority of Rhodesia is given a voice in the government. But the Laborites have felt no more able than the Tories to intervene directly in Rhodesian affairs to enforce a change in the constitution.

The trip of the UN colonialism committee for hearings in three African capitals next month is expected to produce some of the bitterest anti-Western oratory of recent years from the Soviet Union, one of the 24 members of the committee. It is a crucial time for the Soviets who are seeking support for their quiet bid to attend the Algiers conference as an Asian power over the strenuous objections of Peking.

* * *

The committee is expected to hold hearings in Ad[illegible]baba, Ethiopia, in Dar-es-S[illegible], Tanzania, and in Lusak[illegible]ambia. This will provide an opportunity for African nationalist leaders of the Portuguese colonies of Angola and Mozambique as well as Southern Rhodesian and Southwest African anti-colonialists, to express their views to the world.

The Soviet Union already has given notice that it is working to lump the United States with Portugal as NATO partners with equal responsbility for colonial operations in Africa. The Soviets doubtless will also raise the question of American intervention in the Congo.

The tour of the three African capitals is expected to cost more than $100,000. It is the first safari of the full committee since 1962.

Los Angeles Times

The British Columbian reported May 22, 1865 that a fisherman named Portuguese Joe took 20 cwt. of sturgeon from the Fraser River in one evening, the largest weighing 400 pounds. Using one net and a helper he also brought in 19 salmon weighing 20 to 35 pounds each.

Wide Margin for Evil

Science Discovers, Technology Exploits

By REX C. MACK

Science and technology are words which hang together like two peas in a pod. The words are related, but there is a difference.

It is worthwhile to know and understand the subtle difference since the fruits of science are basically good. The products of technology are both good and bad. As a result, science should neither be given credit nor blame for particular accomplishments of technology.

Science is simply a process of the pursuit of basic knowledge.

* * *

In the pursuit of basic knowledge no holds are barred. Any means by which you can wrest a secret from nature is fair play. Once nature gives up a secret, science is enriched by the establishment of a new fact or law. And the scientist, except for seeing how his new discovery fits into the general scheme of things, is through.

Technology then takes over the discovery. Technology is the exploitation of science. It is applied science or engineering.

* * *

The definition of engineering which was adopted by the U.S. Engineers' Council for Professional Development in 1961 is as follows:

"Engineering is the profession in which a knowledge of the mathematical and natural sciences gained by study, experience and practice is applied with judgment to develop ways to utilize, economically, the materials and forces of nature."

The definition is simple and straightforward. However, it contains a phrase which admits the possibility of error—the kind of error which can have a serious social impact on society. The phrase is "applied with judgment."

* * *

So long as judgment is involved, the basic knowledge of science can be used for either good or bad. The basic knowledge of science can be exploited for political gain, economic gain, sheer power and other selfish motives. It all depends on the judgment of individuals.

Science is like a bag of money and technology is representative of those who handle the money. Some will make the bag of money grow, others will spend it wisely, many will squander it, and some will use the money for outright evil.

Judgment makes the difference.

Car Wiring Destroyed By Kelsey Bay Vandals

CAMPBELL RIVER—Vandalism on the B.C. Airlines' parking lot at Kelsey Bay last weekend is under investigation, RCMP here disclosed Wednesday.

They said vandals attacked cars of patrons of the airline, smashing windows, breaking aerials and pulling out wiring.

For Upper Island

Summer Arts Step Closer

COURTENAY—A citizens' meeting Tuesday night took a first step toward the possible formation in 1966 of a summer school or festival of the arts for Upper Vancouver Island.

The meeting of about 100 people in Courtenay Elementary School set up a temporary committee for an upper Island arts council, led by adult education director Harry Harris, who has spearheaded the move for an arts school or festival.

Other members are Mrs. B. Swinerton, Roy Pouss, Miles Murchison, Mrs. Mary Garland, Mrs. Doris Tonkin, Ed Chambers, Mrs. Beryl Regier, T. G. Ryan, Gordon Moore, Mrs. Doris Sewell, Mrs. Rupert Williams, R. T. Hall, Mrs. Helen Laver and Frank Versteegh.

FIRST JOB

The committee's first job will be to study the feasibility of starting sessions this summer—possibly in drama, ceramics and painting or writing.

It will also continue investigations into ways of starting a 1966 summer school or festival.

GUEST SPEECHES

The temporary group was set up after guest speeches by two UBC officials, fine arts co-ordinator Ian Docherty and social sciences supervisor Henry Rosenthal.

Mr. Docherty said a group of educated people, anxious to learn, explore and perform in the arts, must be the basis for such a proposal as the district has been discussing.

He said the main purpose of a community arts council is to provide communication between arts and crafts groups and the community. It could initiate theatre-art centres as well as summer festivals or schools.

Vincent Lecture Set for Friday

Canada to Cape Horn and Back is the topic George Vincent will speak on at 8 p.m. Friday in the Church by the Lake at Elk Lake. The lecture is illustrated with slides taken by Jane Vincent. Proceeds will go to the District Girl Guide Association.

Courtenay

No Time For Seed Project

COURTENAY — Too many seeds in the wrong form have caused the Comox Valley Association for Mentally Handicapped Children to cancel, "regretfully," its Flowers of Hope campaign this year.

The continent-wide campaign involves the mailing of seeds along with requests for donations but, due to a mistake at another level, the seeds for this area arrived in bulk.

District workers would have had to place the seeds in 5,000 plastic bags, prepare 5,000 blank cheques and stamp 5,000 envelopes—and all in time to go in the mail this weekend.

TASK TOO GREAT

Association members decided at a meeting this week the task would be far too great. The seeds will be returned and the association will concentrate on a tag day.

Navy cadets will sell the tags in Courtenay, Comox and Cumberland Saturday, May 8.

The association learned its sister organization in Powell River plans to send its adult class on a one-day trip to Comox after the inauguration of the Comox-Powell River ferry service.

ASKED TO ARRANGE

Mrs. L. Lefcoe, teacher of the Comox adult group, was asked to arrange entertainment for the Powell River group and a similar visit to Powell River for her class.

Building committee officials said the new, two-room school will be ready for use in September on the grounds of the Courtenay Elementary School.

Mrs. Fedun Chosen By PTA

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Mrs. Marge Fedun has been appointed representative of the Shawnigan Lake PTA to the local centennial project committee, formed earlier this week.

Mrs. Fedun was named during a PTA meeting Tuesday which also completed plans for two forthcoming events.

The annual PTA rummage sale will be held Saturday in the community centre hall, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Mrs. L. A. Batchelor and Mrs. William Kennedy will be conveners.

And association members will join in a work bee next Wednesday to clean Centennial Park for summer activities.

Mrs. Batchelor urged parents to seek more entries for the children's photography section of the annual flower show on June 16.

A nominating committee of Mrs. Ida Ruth, Mrs. Janet Meyland and Mrs. Vera Hopps was appointed to prepare for the election of officers during the annual meeting in May.

Tag Day Coming

The Victoria branch of the Canadian Diabetic Association will hold its annual camp fund tag day Saturday.

Nanaimo Court

Youth Sentenced After Road Chase

NANAIMO—A 19-year-old Port Alberni youth was sentenced in magistrate's court Wednesday to 21 days in Oakalla on a criminal negligence charge.

Bruce Wilbert Moutray changed his plea to guilty from innocent after an incident in the Parksville area April 25.

Police said Moutray attempted to evade a routine check and, in the process, disobeyed traffic control and speed limit signs. He was apprehended after a 15-mile road chase followed by a chase on foot and a brief struggle in Lantzville.

'TOO SERIOUS'

Magistrate Eric Winch said the charge was "too serious" to warrant a suspended sentence and added an indeterminate term of five months to the 21 days.

A husband and wife team stopped on Haliburton Street late Tuesday appeared before the magistrate, and the wife's fine was the biggest.

Mrs. Walter Scott, 464 Eighth Street, was fined $175 and given a three-month licence suspension for impaired driving. Her husband was fined $12.50 for public intoxication.

NO SHAPE TO DRIVE

Police said Mrs. Scott told them she took the wheel of the car because her husband "was in no shape to drive."

Mr. Scott was charged after he became argumentive.

Mrs. Veronica Olwyn Aman of Nanaimo was fined $25 after she pleaded guilty to the theft of a can of insect exterminator and two containers of hair spray from a supermarket.

Magistrate Winch warned her a second offence would result in a jail term.

Driver In Hospital

Young Ladysmith resident Leila Laakso, 273 Simmonds, is in good condition in Duncan hospital with a broken collarbone received when an accident Wednesday morning on the highway one mile north of Duncan caused this damage to her car. Police said she attempted to avoid a car driven by Margaret C. Lloyd of Duncan, who emerged from a private driveway, swerved across the road and rolled down a 16-foot embankment into a ditch —(Klaus Muenter)

Lake Cowichan

Tax Rate 46.3 Mills In $165,000 Budget

LAKE COWICHAN — Still another Vancouver Island community has set its tax rate for 1965.

The Lake Cowichan village council Tuesday night approved a tax rate of 46.3 mills, compared to 44.85 last year, in a $165,000 budget.

The budget total is $23,000 more than the 1964 figure.

Education is the main budget item at $44,968 and takes up 19.21 mills of the tax rate. General purposes and debt charges require 26 mills and the hospital levy is 1.08 mills.

The budget includes $10,000 toward the proposed community centre which the village has approved as its 1966-67 centennial project.

Wages Last Issue

Settlement Near In Truck Strike

VANCOUVER (CP) — Talks aimed at stopping a truck delivery strike-lockout here Wednesday narrowed the issues down to one—wages.

Spokesmen for both sides indicated a settlement appeared close. Further talks were to be held today.

The strike-lockout which began Monday tied up about 1,000 trucks and about 70 per cent of the cartage industry in Greater Vancouver.

200 ON ISLAND

About 2,400 Teamster union members are involved, 200 of them in five Victoria and one Nanaimo companies, but the shutdown was not expected to spread to Vancouver Island unless it became prolonged.

Ed Lawson, president of the Teamsters Council here, said all major issues had been settled except wages and fringe benefits.

MEN LOCKED OUT

The dispute over job security and wages came to a head Monday night when 19 companies locked out 1,400 truckers, swampers and warehousemen.

The union followed Tuesday with strikes at 16 other companies employing about 600 men.

OTHER COMPANIES

Eight other companies have agreed to a union settlement formula, details of which will not be disclosed until union members vote on it.

The public has yet to feel effects of the dispute—warehouses are well stocked with food and drug supplies. Wholesalers, however, have warned shortages could develop fairly soon.

Campbell River

'Go-Slow' Policy For New District

CAMPBELL RIVER—The recently-elected village council has decided to adopt a "go slow" policy for its first year of operation.

The statement was made in a press release Tuesday night disclosing limited details of the $1,163,954 budget for 1965 which set mill rates at 39.22 for Campbell River, 36.85 for Willow Point and 34.47 for other areas.

MODEL FOR B.C.?

"A year spent in careful planning for future services, facilities and subdivisions can result in the district of Campbell River becoming a model municipality for all B.C.," council said.

It was learned the municipal rate for Campbell River dropped to 12.3 from 17.5 while the service rate for Willow Point and the other areas rose to 11.3 from 10 mills.

Council gave full support to Trans Mountain Air Services' plea for two shifts on airport paving, which would cut the three-month airport shutdown in half.

Another decision ordered permits for charity car washes, with a maximum of one a month. It followed a complaint by Michael Antoni of Custom Car Wash.

'DETERMINED'

A petition from 25 residents protested proposed rezoning to multiple-dwelling from residential on Eighth, calling it a pleasant, quiet street and adding "we are determined to see it remain so."

Council will send the rezoning bylaw to Victoria for approval before calling a public hearing.

Council also decided to call tenders for a municipal solicitor, auditor, garbage collection and operation and control of the dump.

Co-op Project Meeting In Courtenay

COURTENAY—A public meeting in St. John's parish hall at 8:30 tonight is expected to discuss a suitable International Co-operation Year project for Courtenay.

Mayor George Hobson will act as chairman of the meeting and guest speaker will be Robert Dudley of Victoria, a member of the ICY committee.

The UN has designed this as International Co-operation Year and asked member nations to urge participation at the community level.

Mr. Dudley will outline various acceptable projects, such as the international children's home planned as the Victoria project and Nanaimo's proposal to "adopt" a sister city.

Mobile Chest Testing Unit Will Shift to Cowichan Area

NANAIMO — Operation Doorstep, a campaign aimed at fighting TB and other chest diseases at a doorstep level, will move to the Cowichan Valley May 10 for more than a month, officials said here Wednesday.

The mobile testing units will be within doorstep reach of every family in the Duncan, Lake Cowichan, Ladysmith and Chemainus areas May 10 to June 12.

The program is sponsored by the provincial health department, central Island health unit and the provincial TB Christmas Seal Society.

ALL RESIDENTS

All residents of the areas who are not in school, from preschoolers over six months to senior citizens, are urged to attend one of the many survey locations for free TB skin tests and chest X-rays.

Of the 11,255 school children in these areas who were TB-skin-tested during March and April, 209 positive reactors were found. They are now being X-rayed.

People attending the mobile units will be offered both a skin test and chest X-ray. The tests take a matter of minutes and the results are known within 48 hours.

TB PROBLEM

A major aim of the survey, which will screen all B.C. residents before the end of 1966, is to measure the TB problem in the province.

The emphasis is on finding new active TB cases and discovering potential TB cases through discovery of positive reactors to the skin test.

Positive reactors are known to have one chance in 20 of breaking down with actual disease at some time during their lifetime. They will be put on regular follow-up chest clinic programs.

As usual, X-rays will be examined for evidence of other chest conditions such as lung cancer and heart disease.

Kyuquot Harbor

Will Dredging, Fishing Clash?

KYUQUOT — Long-awaited harbor improvements here will be undertaken this summer in the middle of the fishing season.

The federal public works department, which was asked to undertake the deepening and widening of the harbor either before or after the fishing season, says the work is expected to start in June and take about six weeks.

During that time, fishboats will be able to enter or leave the harbor only for two hours at dawn and dusk and at high tide.

Local residents say they realize summer was chosen for the work because of the need for good weather but add the needs of the fishing fleet do not seem to have been considered.

They are wondering what will happen if the fleet has to get back into harbor should a sudden storm blow up, and what chaos will follow when 100 boats or more come pouring in together to deliver their fish.

U.S. Cutter Will Visit

The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Minnetonka will visit Victoria July 30 to Aug. 1.

The ship, manned by 20 officers and 170 enlisted personnel is commanded by Cmdr. R. G. Schwing.

It will visit here while on reserve training exercises.

Funds Delay Water Plan

Lack of funds has caused a temporary delay in the extension of the Deep Cove water system to the Lands End Road area of North Saanich, according to waterworks trustee B. W. Clowes.

It was hoped the extension project would be financed from the municipal development loans fund, but the B.C. allocation from the fund has been depleted, he said.

New trustees elected were Mr. Clowes and D. K. Archibald.

Parksville Stores Shun Long Week

PARKSVILLE—Six-day shopping is still not a reality in a majority of Parksville stores.

The six-day bylaw ran into considerable opposition from retail merchants before its recent passage by the village council and approved by the provincial government.

Now, the majority of the merchants still prefers to observe a five-day week with Monday closing.

A spokesman for the store owners, especially those in the centre of the village, say most plan to continue Monday closing until mid-June when six-day shopping will be adopted for the summer season.

Unorganized B.C. Territories

Unsightly Junkyard Banned

BY IAN STREET

Junkyards in sight of major highways will be banned in future under a new zoning regulation for unorganized territories throughout B.C.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell disclosed the new regulations Wednesday.

It will ban storage of car bodies, scrap metal and junk on land or in buildings which are visible from any highway designated by the government.

NO PLANNING

The new regulation will be effective in unorganized territory where there is no community planning organization in existence to make zoning regulations.

The effect of the new regulation, officials said, will be to effectively ban any new junkyards within sight of highways.

Those which already exist will be non-conforming uses and are expected to be required to provide some effective means of screening.

Mr. Campbell said a public hearing will be held on the new regulation in the legislative buildings at a date to be fixed shortly.

Out of Alert Bay

New Weekly For Island

CAMPBELL RIVER — A weekly newspaper serving the whole northern Vancouver Island area will begin publication about mid-June, Campbell River resident Neville Shanks has announced.

The newspaper will be located at Alert Bay and will be distributed in an area where four municipalities will be formed later this year, at Port Alice, Port Hardy, Port McNeill and Gold River the first local governments in the north Island.

* * *

Mr. Shanks, a Campbell River resident for five years, has been an insurance representative for the past three years and is NDP candidate for the Comox riding in the next provincial election.

He is a former editor of the Campbell River Courier and also has worked on the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review.

Mr. Shanks is also secretary of the Chamber of Commerce here and active in the Credit Union and historical society.

Sheep Day May 8 In Nanaimo

DUNCAN — The program was announced Wednesday for the annual Vancouver Island sheep breeders' field day on the Nanaimo Exhibition grounds May 8.

District agriculturist Kenneth Jameson of Duncan said the program involving breeders from all parts of the Island will begin at 10:30 a.m. with judging of market lambs.

Other events will be a display of two outstanding rams, a judging class for 4-H members and lectures on production testing, sheep management and meat grading.

Nanaimo Friday, City Saturday

Musical Horde Arriving

NANAIMO — The fourth annual Lower Mainland and Fraser Valley junior tattoo will begin its 1965 B.C. tour in the civic arena here at 8 p.m. Friday.

The 2½-hour show will make its second appearance the next evening, in the Victoria Memorial Arena.

PRECISION SQUADS

Highlights of the show will be massed brass and pipe bands, the Mission Indian school band in native costumes, Scottish highland dances, picked precision squads from air force and navy cadet groups and a Fraser Valley gymnastic team.

More than 1,200 young people from the Fraser Valley and Lower Mainland will reach Nanaimo Friday in 20 buses. They will be joined by hundreds of young musicians from Vancouver Island Centres.

Representation has been made to have the tattoo travel to many B.C. communities as part of the 1966-7 centennial celebrations.

The association which administers the affairs of the tattoo is a non-profit organization dedicated to furthering the musical education of the youth of B.C. All net proceeds are allocated to participating groups.

Billets for 125 boys and girls are still needed in Victoria. People who can help should phone Allan Potter at 382-7221 or 385-7808, or Noel Lax at 384-0514.

Island Publicity Bureau Meets New Opposition

PORT ALBERNI — The Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau is continuing to run into opposition against its 1965 assessment on Island communities.

The Alberni Valley Chamber of Commerce voted Tuesday to send the bureau $450 already allocated for its operation this year, but decided to ask its finance committee to study a request for another $550.

OTHER CENTRES

Earlier this wek, officials in Nanaimo, Ladysmith and other Island centres indicated the publicity bureau might not obtain all it has asked from them for this year. A leter from the bureau informed the Alberni Valley Chamber that Alberni is being assessed $300, Port Alberni $700 and businessmen of the area a matching $1,000.

Chamber president Mrs. Edna Souther said both councils and the Chamber had not been satisfied with assessments in past years.

COPY REQUIRED

She said a copy of the schedule of assesments for all Island communities would be required for the study.

The finance committee will also consider Chamber finances, since the amount of civic grants to the Chamber for 1965 is not yet known, and will keep in mind that a drive for new members will also affect the Chamber's finances.

Washing dishes by hand is like doing laundry on a scrub board, or cooking on a wood stove.

And in 1965 that's ridiculous. Westinghouse makes an automatic dishwasher that washes your dishes hospital clean and then dries them to a sparkle.

And it protects your family's health with the exclusive Westinghouse Sanitizer that automatically guarantees germ-killing with 145° water temperature.

The Westinghouse dishwasher can save you 225 hours a year. Think what you can do with this time. And you can forget dishpan hands, too.

If you think washing dishes by hand is part of a woman's function as a good wife and mother, forget it. They used to say that about scrub boards and wood stoves, too. And if you think a Westinghouse dishwasher has to cost four hundred dollars — forget it. You can buy one for about half that. And you have our guarantee it's well made and backed with service.

Update your thinking with a Westinghouse dishwasher. Get your Westinghouse dealer to show you what we're talking about. For very little, you can live a little.

Interested? Then look these over too:

Westinghouse Economy Built-in Model SUF4C. Beautiful and easy to install. One dial for completely automatic dishwashing (double wash and triple rinse), wide sweep wash arm, self-cleaning filter, and shut-off switch that lets you add more dishes after cycle has started. Hot air heating system assures sparkling dry dishes.

Westinghouse Built-in Model SUF4A. The ultimate in dishwashing convenience. Easily installed. Choice of five washing cycles for every requirement. Sanitizer guarantees washing and rinsing temperature of 145°. Twin washing arms for super-clean loads. Clear rinse agent is automatically added to insure spotless drying.

Westinghouse Portable Model SPF2D. Goes wherever there's a sink; rolls away for easy storage under a counter or in a closet. Nothing to install. Choice of two washing cycles. All-porcelain wash well, plate-warming setting and shut-off switch that stops cycle when lid is lifted. Washes dishes for about 3¢ a load!

Westinghouse makes a host of appliances geared to life in 1965. Products to wash your dishes. Perk your coffee. Iron your clothes. Cool your house. Dry your basement. Polish your floors. Store your fresh and frozen foods. Do your laundry. Keep you entertained. Cook your food. Dry your hair. Brush your teeth. Carve your roast. In fact, everything you need to make your house a home.

Trustees Face Massive Task

By DON HUNTLEY

CAMPBELL RIVER — The task is clear for the new North Island school board: to create a united and progressive school district for the 2,000 students and 17 schools in their 10,000-square-mile area.

The first specific task for the board, which was sworn into office last week by Magistrate G. N. Woodward, is to decide on a high school which will be most suitable to all parts of the district.

DISTRICTS MERGED

The huge district was created by the provincial government recently when it merged the Alert Bay and Quatsino school areas.

R. M. Scott of Port Hardy has been elected chairman of the new district and Mrs. A. Hennigar of Nimpkish Valley is vice-chairman.

OTHERS NAMED

Other members are K. Beise, representing the Port McNeill zone; J. Elliott, eastern zone; P. Schreiber, western zone; Mrs. E. Smith, Port Alice zone, and J. James, Alert Bay municipality.

Presentations were made at the inaugural meeting to two people.

Mrs. Jean Smith of Alert Bay received a silver tray on her retirement after 19 years as secretary of the Alert Bay district and Mrs. J. Brownley of Port Alice, who is leaving for Prince George, also received a gift.

Morton on History:

Dan Campbell 'Like Britain'

LAKE COWICHAN — B.C.'s minister of municipal affairs is in the same position today as the British government was a little over a century ago, Reeve Donald Morton of North Cowichan told the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

He pointed out the first elected assembly in B.C. was formed in 1856 — when Britain recommended the move so the people of B.C. could make their own laws to suit their own conditions.

Britain then, as Municipal Affairs Minister Campbell now, governed more than 90 per cent of the province — the unorganized territory.

One of Mr. Campbell's duties has been to persuade unorganized areas to elect their own councils because the people "know the local conditions and therefore should make (their) own laws to suit those conditions."

* * *

Reeve Morton said a community with more than 500 residents can become a village, more than 2,500 a town, more than 5,000 a city. Areas with more than 2,000 acres and fewer than two people per acre can become a municipality.

The municipality of North Cowichan started 92 years ago when 55 of 75 eligible voters signed a petition to organize 80 square miles. Today the municipality covers 50,000 acres.

* * *

The trend is to incorporate small areas into one large municipality, said the reeve, and "the result is better representation for the residents of all the areas."

During a short business meeting, Chamber members decided to write a letter to the provincial highways department expressing dissatisfaction with recent repairs to the Cowichan Lake road.

* * *

The letter will state the Chamber feels the road is in worse condition than before the department started its $1,000,000 improvement plan which Highways Minister Gaglardi says is expected to cost closer to $1,500,000.

"If we don't express dissatisfaction," said Norman Webb, "we are wasting our time drawing up brochures which will encourage tourists to travel over that wagon trail."

* * *

A decision on a design for a new tourist brochure for the district was deferred to the next Chamber meeting. The brochures may be ready for distribution by the end of May.

President Allan Anderson said two logging firms on the lake have indicated willingness to control bark and other debris on the water. The Chamber is waiting to hear from the other firms.

Beauties in Albernis Take to Instruction

PORT ALBERNI—Instruction in modelling and public speaking are working for the nine Miss Alberni Valley candidates, says president Rick English of the Jaycees, who are sponsoring the Miss AV week May 10-15.

He told the Alberni Valley Chamber of Commerce Tuesday two theatre appearances by the girls have "gone over very well."

Their next appearances will be Saturday at the wheelchair basketball game and later at the teen-dance in the arena. The dance, sponsored by Jaycees and the Idlers Car Club, is the first event of its kind in the arena since the permanent floor was installed just before the skating season.

The girls may also appear at the Lions' giant bingo May 8 and will act as models in the Jaycee-ettes' spring fashion show May 12.

The big week will be climaxed May 15 by the banquet and ball where the winner will be crowned.

THREE JUDGES

Judges will be Vancouver radioman Red Robinson, Diana Ricardo of the Vancouver Sun and Dr. Tom Cosgrove of Nanaimo.

Mr. English said an "impressive list" of prizes has been donated for the winner, runner-up and other contestants. Ads in the Jaycee souvenir booklet will provide a trust fund for the winner's travelling expenses.

Duncan United

Church Festival This Weekend

DUNCAN — The topics will include B.C. coast missions, Africa, India, Korea and Trinidad during the 1965 Duncan United Church mission festival Saturday and Sunday.

Several hundred churchgoers are expected to take part in the two-day festival, which begins at 2 p.m. Saturday, and residents of all parts of the Cowichan Valley have been invited.

AFTERNOON FILMS

Movies about the B.C. missions and hospitals will be shown Saturday afternoon along with films of Trinidad, Korea, India and Africa. Chinese and Canadian food will be served during the 5:30-6:30 supper hour.

First guest speaker, at 7 p.m., will be Dr. Kenneth Prior, field secretary of the United Church of Canada board of world mission and a former missionary in the Congo.

The 27-voice native Indian choir from Alberni will be heard during the evening and displays by various church groups dealing with many nations will be seen during the festival.

A boat built by one of the church's boys groups will be auctioned off at 6:30 Saturday.

Rev. William Robinson of Cape Mudge will speak from the pulpit at both Sunday morning services, where the Port Alberni choir will be heard again.

The festival will end at 2 p.m. Sunday with a program by church youth groups and a talk by Rev. Murray Henderson of Victoria, a former missionary in India.

DOMINICAN REBELS RESURGE JOHNSON SENDS MARINES

Bosch

(From Reuters - AP)

SANTO DOMINGO—A resurgence of strength among rebels seeking to restore ousted President Juan Bosch to power in the Dominican Republic gave them control of the centre of this capital city late Wednesday and brought U.S. marines ashore to evacuate American citizens.

In Washington, President Johnson made a quickly-arranged radio-television appearance to announce that 400 U.S. marines had gone ashore without incident.

The U.S. president made another urgent appeal for a ceasefire in the fighting which began Sunday. He said he ordered the marines to land after being informed "by military authorities in the Dominican Republic that American lives are in danger."

Earlier in the evening, a U.S. Embassy spokesman here reported the upswing in rebel strength. He discounted reports that the Bosch forces had seized control of the city from troops loyal to President Donald Reid Cabral and said that as far as he knew no fighting was going on at the moment.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

But hospitals were crowded with wounded and at least 30 persons had been reported killed, the spokesman said.

Elements of the army were among the rebels who were seeking to overthrow the military junta which succeeded Bosch when he was ousted in 1963. Cabral has been head of the junta.

1,100 EVACUATED

Some 2,300 Americans and their dependents were still in the Dominican Republic. A U.S. naval task force evacuated about 1,100 Americans Tuesday and took them to San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Johnson summoned congressional leaders to the White House in Washington for an emergency briefing on the developments before going on the air.

In his broadcast, Johnson

'Normal' Births Going Down

By PATRICK O'NEILL

Fourth of a Series

If you looked at a graph showing the path of "normal" births and the path of "out-of-wedlock" births, you would see one line going down, another going up.

"This is a fact most people don't realize when they hear statistics on the increase in out-of-wedlock births," commented Gordon Wright, director of Greater Victoria Family and Children's Services.

"They assume the normal birthrate is rising, with the out-of-wedlock birthrate.

Since 1960

"But since 1960, the normal birthrate in this province has been going steadily downward, while the number of illegitimate babies increases."

In Greater Victoria, illegitimate births have doubled since 1951, far out of proportion to the increase in population.

From 1960 to 1964, the normal birthrate in this province dropped from 40,116 to 36,344. In the same period, out-of-wedlock births jumped from 2,673 to 3,344.

Before Marriage

Illegitimacy is by no means the only indication of promiscuity: Mr. Wright said "many ministers in Victoria tell me a large number of couples who come to them to get married are expecting a baby."

"This contributes to many marital problems," he commented.

"There used to be no difficulty at all in placing an illegitimate baby in an adoptive home. We were doing the adopting parents a favor," said Mr. Wright.

"Those days are long gone. The waiting list has vanished. We don't know what to do to meet the demand for homes."

Behind Battered Levees

Sandbags and Prayer

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—The crest of the most disastrous Mississippi River flood in history pounded Wednesday at weakened levees protecting four cities in Illinois and Iowa from further inundation.

Farther south, the surging river continued to rise to record heights, bursting dikes and spreading fresh havoc to farm, industrial and residential areas on both sides of the stream.

Behind the dikes Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa, residents prayed that sodden emergency sandbag barriers would hold back the wall of water.

SEVERAL DAYS

The Rock Island army engineer district said the swollen Mississippi crested early Wednesday at Rock Island at 22.4 feet, more than seven feet above flood stage. This was one tenth of a foot lower than the predicted crest of 22.5 feet forecast earlier.

Flood officials said the crest in the four-city area would hold for several days at the 22.4-foot level and warned against any relaxing of protective measures against the river.

REACHES CREST

Large areas of Rock Island, Moline, East Moline and Davenport and Bettendorf, Iowa already were flooded as the river reached its crest there.

North and south of the quad-city area, the river continued its annual rampage against communities along its path from Dubuque, Iowa, to Hannibal, Mo.

10,000 EVACUATED

Estimates of the number of persons evacuated in Illinois and Iowa thus far as a result of flooding ranged up to 10,000.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier Duff Roblin of Manitoba announced Wednesday a "limited state of emergency" declared April 15 has been lifted because of improved conditions along the Red River Valley.

Steel Pact Extended

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union Wednesday formally approved a four-month contract extension with the basic steel industry.

Official announcement of the historic action came after a minority was allowed to read its objections into the record.

The extension was approved by an overwhelming voice vote of the union's 163-member wage policy committee.

By AL ARNASON

A shivering 13-year-old Saanich boy was pulled to safety Wednesday night more than two hours after being trapped by sliding pea-gravel in a loading chute.

Tom Cole, 3830 Patricia Bay Highway, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital for examination of heavy bruises on his shins after his ordeal at the McIntyre and Harding gravel pit, 773 Cordova Bay Road.

Police were told Tom and a companion, 12-year-old Ronnie Graham, 5405 Fowler Road, had been playing in the 20-foot-deep chute at about 8 p.m.

HEAVY PEA GRAVEL

Treacherous and heavy pea gravel, which half-filled the chute, was dislodged by the boys' movements and dragged the Cole boy partly through the loading gate as it poured free.

The shifting gravel poured down the steep slope of the deep chute faster than sweating firemen and volunteers could hand-shovel it away from the trapped boy.

MACHINE NEEDED

The problem was solved when machine operator Earl Mycock, 5197 Old West Saanich Road, was called to the scene by police.

While rescuers hovered near the trapped boy, a backhoe operated by Mr. Mycock scooped several yards of gravel out of the chute to relieve the pressure on the boy's legs.

An hour later, about 10:30, he was freed.

Firemen were called by Mrs. Walter D. Graham, mother of the trapped boy's companion.

ROPE AROUND WAIST

The trained rescue workers tied a rope around the boy's waist and secured it above the chute to prevent his being dragged deeper into the shifting gravel.

"He's lucky he wasn't buried," said one rescue worker. "It was just like standing in a pile of ball bearings."

Saigon Proposal

'Let's Invade North Now'

SAIGON (AP) — Brig.-Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, commander of South Viet Nam's air force, advocated Wednesday an immediate invasion of North Viet Nam by South Vietnamese land forces.

Meanwhile, U.S. Marines launched their biggest offensive of the war, fanning out over the jungles by foot and helicopter in search of Viet Cong forces.

Brig. Ky conditionally ruled out participation of U.S. troops in his invasion plan, but said:

"With some secret bases of our own up there the Viet Cong would quickly start wondering whether the war was worth it."

He questioned effectiveness of the air strikes against highways, railways and bridges in North Viet Nam, saying they were not choking off aid from Hanoi to the guerrillas.

Brig. Ky's proposal of a complementary land operation, most outspoken by a South Vietnamese leader in recent weeks, was believed to reflect the over-all official views of Premier Phan Huy Quat's government and the Saigon high command.

Size of the Marine force which struck out from Da Nang missile and air base was not known, but believed to involve several companies.

There were unconfirmed reports that more Leathernecks would soon join the 10,000 now stationed at Da Nang.

U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes continued their raids on the north, dropping both bombs and propaganda leaflets.

Formula 'Mummifies Rights'

John D Demands Constitution Parley

MONTREAL (CP) — Opposition Leader Diefenbaker Wednesday reiterated his warnings against the Fulton-Favreau formula for constitutional amendments and issued a new call for a "Canadian national constitutional conference."

"If the Fulton-Favreau formula goes through," said Mr. Diefenbaker, "the rights of Canadians for amendments in future will be embalmed in mummified form and the constitution will be put in a 'deep freeze.'"

STRAITJACKET

At a press conference later, Mr. Diefenbaker said the Fulton-Favreau formula would "straitjacket" Confederation.

The plan would not make the constitution a Canadian document—"it would not repatriate it."

STILL BRITISH

Instead, the formula, if accepted, would merely allow Canada to amend the constitution without the need to refer such plans to the British Parliament for approval.

He suggested that instead of the present formula the BNA Act should first be made a statute of the Parliament of Canada and then the question of amendment procedures and other necessary changes could be worked out by the projected national conference.

Diplomatically Speaking, Declarations Obsolete

When Does a War Become a War?

WASHINGTON (AP)—What is going on in Viet Nam is "armed aggression from the north" resisted by South Viet Nam and the United States.

This is the present legal status of the conflict from the standpoint of the Johnson administration, although U.S. officials do not deny that the fighting is real and can be called "war" from a non-legal standpoint.

"The fact that military hostilities have been taking place in Southeast Asia does not bring about the existence of a state of war, which is a legal characterization of a situation rather than a factual description," the state department says.

* * *

Formally, the power to declare war belongs to Congress under the U.S. constitution—and neither president nor Congress are showing signs of taking this step.

There are a variety of reasons given for not declaring war at this time, including:

- The conflict is tiny compared with the all-out hostilities envisioned in a formal declaration of war.
- A declaration of war implies full-scale national effort — mobilization, big military draft calls, massive weapons production, rationing, higher taxes. The Viet Nam operation is being run out of a tiny fraction of the U.S. government's regular peace-time budget.
- The avowed U.S. aim is to stop the Communist effort to take over South Viet Nam; it is not an attempt to overthrow the North Viet Nam regime.
- The Communist attack has been indirect and partially concealed, starting with guerrilla operations years ago; it was not sudden and open. The U.S. response has been gradual.
- The president does not want to bind his hands on diplomatic manoeuvring. The U.S. says it is looking for a peaceful settlement. It is contended the president would lose diplomatic elbow room if the U.S. declared war.
- Against whom would war be declared? The Communist Viet Cong rebels? The North Viet Nam regime, which Washington does not recognize; Russia and China, which so far have been involved in a relatively small way militarily? Or is the fighting primarily a civil war between two parts of one country—Viet Nam—and thus not legally a matter for a declaration of war by an outside power?

* * *

Some observers suggest that the day of formal declarations of war by the U.S. have passed because the Communists have turned to tactics of aggression through subversion. They foresee either a series of brushfire skirmishes in future years or a surprise atomic attack, which would be over before Congress could meet to declare war.

Liberals Face Confidence Test

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was confronted with two non-confidence motions Wednesday that condemn Finance Minister Gordon's budget, for failing to provide tax relief to low-income earners, higher old age pensions and abolition of the sales tax on machinery used in producing other goods.

The similar motions were moved by George Nowlan (PC—Digby - Annapolis - Kings) and Colin Cameron (NDP—Nanaimo Cowichan - the Islands) as the six-day debate on the budget opened in the Commons.

The NDP motion is to be voted on today and the Conservative motion faces a vote Monday. A loss of either vote would constitute lack of confidence in the government and open the way for an election.

Mr Nowlan criticized Mr. Gordon's "penny-pinching" proposal to cut the basic income tax rate by 10 per cent and said the finance minister would have served the economy better by eliminating the 11-per-cent sales tax on production machinery.

University Worry:

If Summer Fees Go Up Can Rest Be Far Behind?

By CHARLES LAVERTU

A one-third summer session fee boost by the financial pace-setting University of British Columbia has prompted speculation of a similar rise in winter session fees in Victoria.

Reliable sources said the UBC announcement indicated that winter fees would be boosted to an average o' $500 to keep them in line with summer fees.

SAME AS UBC

Simon Fraser University, which is due to open this fall in Burnaby, has said its fees will be the same as those at UBC.

Fees at the three universities—UBC, Simon Fraser University and the University of Victoria—are now listed at an average $375.

Last week, university president Dr. Malcolm Taylor said the whole question of the university's budget was under review by the board of governors.

'WORK TOGETHER'

"In this matter of budget and the question of the portion to be borne by fee revenue, the board is working closely with the boards of governors of UBC and of Simon Fraser," he said. "No decision has yet been reached."

Earlier, an official said the University of Victoria, though independent of UBC, pretty well had to follow the mainland institution's lead.

TAXPAYERS

"What would the taxpayers in Vancouver say if UBC raised its fees by $100 and Victoria maintained its current fee structure?" he said.

Former student president Larry Devlin was concerned about the UBC summer fee increase.

"This means the winter session fee here will have to be increased by $125 to keep pace," he said.

* * *

Limited Bargain

University of Victoria is offering bargain rates for summer courses, but it is not likely students from other universities will take advantage of them.

Simon Fraser and UBC announced last week they were increasing fees by one-third, to $110. Fee for a three-unit course here is $75.

University of Victoria registrar R. R. Jeffels said the summer fees were already in effect here and more than 200 students have enrolled, but noted that summer courses here don't count toward degrees at other universities.

In efforts to prevent a fee increase, a student delegation presented a brief to the university board of governors asking it to freeze tuition fees at their present level because of the present flux in university financing.

They asked for a temporary postponement of tuition fee increases until the report of the Bladen commission on financing of higher education became available.

ABILITY T OPAY

Student council president Paul Williamson said there was at present no clear national picture of students' ability to pay increased tuition fees.

He felt an increase in fees should not be imposed until the results are known of student means surveys now being conducted by the Canadian Union of Students.

A similar brief was presented to the provincial government.

The University of Alberta in Calgary and Edmonton has announced it will freeze its fees at their present level until findings of the Bladen commission are known.

Arsenal Stacked in Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—Cases of submachine guns, rifles, automatic pistols and ammunition were piled high in city police court Wednesday as exhibits in the trial of three men charged with bank robbery.

Police witnesses testified they found the cache of weapons hidden in bushland in Surrey shortly after the $9,564 robbery of a Vancouver branch of the Royal Bank of Canada Feb. 19.

Charged are Ivan Korosec, 23, Willie Loeffler, 21, and Michael Likakur, 32.

Loeffler also is charged with breaking and entering the home of a Vancouver gun collector about Feb. 14 and stealing a large variety of weapons, including submachine guns.

said the marines would protect Americans and escort them back to the U.S.

"This same assistance will be available to the nationals of other countries some of whom have already asked our help . . . ." he said.

Some Canadian citizens are known to be in the republic.

The U.S. embassy spokesman said Cabral "is well and in hiding."

RENEWED ATTACKS

Earlier, Dominican Air Force planes renewed attacks on the city in efforts to crush the resistance of the Bosch supporters.

Meanwhile, a three-man military junta was formed to take over the government and was sworn in. All were minor officers loyal to Brig.-Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, who kicked Bosch out of the presidency in 1963 and nipped Sunday's attempt to restore him to power.

Birth Rates

He said this change has hit the mainland hard, and it is rapidly developing into a serious problem in Greater Victoria.

"We have to find long-term permanent care for these babies. If we can't find adoptive homes, we must try to give them long-term care in foster homes."

Another factor in the lack of adoption homes is the advance of medical science.

Doctors have now greatly increased the chance of normal childbirth for the couple that once had to adopt to get children.

There is no relief in sight for the adoption problem.

"We are faced with a situation where we will have to try to work out a form of permanent wardship for foster parents.

Some Guarantee

"We must do something to give these kids some kind of guarantee they will have a permanent home."

He said this is preferable to the "subsidized adoption" now being asked of the government by some Greater Victoria foster parents.

"Subsidized adoption is a catch-phrase . . . it would be difficult if not impossible to administer."

He said such a program could only work on the federal government level, through some kind of income tax rebate.

But he pointed out when parents adopt a child, it is felt to be "their" child, divorced from the protective care aspect.

Mr. Wright felt it would be damaging for a child to grow up with the feeling his parents adopted him because of money.

"Personally, I would hate to have to administer such a program," said Mr. Wright.

"But the problem is so serious, we now have to consider steps like this."

Mittens May Help Girl To Stop Eating Her Hair

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: I have three girls aged 2½ years, 1½ years, and four months. The 1½-year-old has begun to pull her hair out and swallow it.

She doesn't do it in temper, but mostly when I put her up for her nap or to bed at night. She always pulls it in the same spot. What can I do?—Mrs. J. M.

This habit falls in the same category with such nervous gestures as nail-biting, lip-chewing, nose-picking, etc.

Because of the age range, one guess might be that this is a subtle way of bidding for attention. Study the little girl's other attitudes. Is she jealous of the attention given either to her older sister or to her younger sister?

MUST BE STOPPED

Sometimes you catch a clue when a child is being scolded or critized.

In any event, the hair-swallowing should be stopped, since it can accumulate in the stomach as a ball, called a "trichobezoar" which may have to be removed surgically.

Your physician may have some suggestions, possibly a sedative to use at night until the habit is curbed. My own thoughts include the possibility of mittens at night (although, to be sure, youngsters usually don't like them), or a snug night cap, which perhaps might solve the whole problem.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the name of the medication that contains dioctyl sodium sulfosuccinate?—B. H.

DSS is an excellent stool softener, but because it is used in various combinations, I suggest that you have your doctor choose the one best suited to your needs.

Doubtless most pharmacists can readily name off half a dozen or more varieties of DSS. As you know, I avoid using brand names.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please explain pleurodynia. I had attacks in 1961 and in 1964.—MRS. F. W.

This is acute, excruciating pain in the chest wall, and is commonly called epidemic pleurodynia because it occurs in epidemics, caused by the spread of one of the so-called Coxsackie viruses.

The ailment usually starts with a sudden fever and sore throat followed by severe pain in chest, stomach and chest wall.

RARELY FATAL

Since the trouble then ordinarily clears up in from a few days to a week (or sometimes lasts a couple of weeks), treatment is aimed essentially at relief of the pain. The disease is very rarely fatal.

When it occurs in epidemics, identifying the cases is clear enough. In isolated cases, however, it could be confused with a heart attack, appendicitis or some other painful condition. In such instances laboratory tests can make positive diagnosis.

Mac-Powell Dividend Winter-Hit

VANCOUVER (CP) — Directors of MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Limited have approved payment of a quarterly dividend of 25 cents an ordinary share.

The dividend is payable June 15 to shareholders on record May 17, a company spokesman announced.

J. V. Clyne, chairman of the giant B.C. company, reported to shareholders Monday first quarter profits had declined despite an increase in total sales.

The quarterly profit dropped to $9,678,615 on sales of $101,910,861 compared with a profit of $10,981,874 and sales of $96,231,904 in the first quarter of 1964.

Mr. Clyne blamed severe winter weather and additional operating costs for the decrease.
